MILE OF TRACKS ARE ADDED TO SOO LINE YARDS HERE

New Sidings Will Accommodate 100 Cars; Will Relieve Congestion

Soo Line yard capacity is being increased substantially here by the addition of two sidings, each a half a mile long, paralleling the main line north of the city. The new trackage will accomodate a hundred freight cars and will simplify the problem of making up long trains, besides providing much needed room, officials state. The present total yard capacity is about 500 cars.

The improvement, being made at an estimated cost of $15,000, will be completed in time to handle the expected fall rush of grain. Fill for the new grades was hauled in from the Viking cut which has thus been improved for snow removal and drainage.

Another substantial improvement to Soo Line facilities will also be made this fall in the enlargement and electrification of the turn table at the round house. This improvement will be made as soon as priority materials can be secured.

Calling All Cities

When an acute parking problem presented itself in Renton, near Seattle, it was solved by civic cooperation. The influx of workers constructing a large aviation plant taxed parking facilities so badly a method to provide free parking was necessary. Under the plan property owners lend the city vacant lots, which the city cleans up, gives a light gravel surface, and opens to public parking.

RED CROSS GIVES SAFETY TIPS FOR CANNING AT HOME

Burns and Cuts Most Common Accidents During The Canning Season

Victory gardeners who plan to preserve their produce for winter consumption should guard against accidental injuries during canning, the American Red Cross warned this week.

Among the most serious injuries from canning accidents are burns caused by scalding and cuts resulting from the breaking of fruit jars as lids are being tightened, according to the Accident Prevention Service of the Red Cross.

Home canners are urged to:

Keep liquids off the floor to avoid slipping and falling.

Check each fruit jar to make sure it is not cracked, before you pour hot liquids into it.

Don't take chances with paraffin. Use an asbestos pad under the vessel you are melting it in—and remember that addition of water to hot parafin will cause an explosion.

Let the pressure go down to zero before you attempt to open a pressure cooker.

Check to see that you are supplied with heavy bowls that will not crack or tip easily.

Lift hot vessels only with pan holders or gloves.

Keep small children out of the kitchen when you are working with boiling liquids and hot jars—and remember that keen edged knives, steaming kettles and sharp utensils fascinate children but cause ugly injuries.

WPB Orders Increase of 25 Million Feet of Farm Lumber Weekly

A speed up in the delivery of softwood lumber needed in farm construction has been ordered by the War Production Board, W. L. Jensen, northwest WPB priorities manager, said today. Mr. Jensen said the order will divert an additional 25,000,000 board feet of Douglas fir lumber a week to farm orders. He said also that some of the mills in the western pine region are being directed to earmark 75 per cent of their cut during August and September exclusive of ties and timbers for agricultural orders that have a priority rating of AA-2. These, and disaster orders, he said, will be filled as deliveries are needed to replenish dealers' stocks.

THERE'S A LOT MORE TO SCHOOL THAN

Reading, Writing and 'rithmetic!

SCHOOL is more than learning a lot of lessons—it's learning a way of life. Yes, it's learning to get along with all sorts and types of people—with teachers and playmates, with grownups and youngsters, with rich and poor.

You can help your children get along in school! You can help by feeding them sensibly, by getting them to bed early, by lending a sympathetic ear to their little problems.

And, before you even send them off to school, you can help by dressing them wisely and well.

See that they get shoes that support their feet and spare their nerves, clothes that fit comfortably and look "regular," outdoor things that will keep them warm without hampering their play. That's the kind we offer at Penney's!

When you outfit your boy at Penney's, he doesn't look like a Little Lord Fauntleroy—he looks like the real boy he is and wants to be. When you shop for your daughter at Penney's, you know that her friends will approve her style.

You see, Penney's knows the children in this community—knows what they like and "what they are wearing." We know the mothers, too. We know how important thrift is to them in times like these, and we offer them the finest values.

We know these things because we at Penney's know this town—we're part of it. Your Penney manager is as loyal a booster as your town can boast. Your friends and neighbors serve you when you shop at Penney's.

Penney's is as native to this town as the name on the railroad station.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

"I Don't Want to go to Bed!"

"It's like pulling teeth to get her to come in to bed these summer nights. The neighborhood children go on playing, and she hates to come in. And she just lies there awake an hour or so anyway."

The long summer evenings seem to make a lot of bedtime trouble for many children, especially if they have been outdoors playing just before coming in, and have to leave a group of children who keep on playing.

What can be done to ensure enough sleep?

It might be well to make sure in the first place that the children are really losing sleep, before beginning to worry about it.

In a healthy child, this mechanism of sleep is self-controlled. That is, the child gets all he needs and then wakes up, and vice versa, when he is sleepy he goes to sleep. In fact, one recent study has shown that the healthy individual gets less sleep than one who is not healthy, because he requires less. There really has been a lot of nonsense in this matter of forcing naps and extra hours of sleep on children who do not need them. It is an interesting fact that practically all studies made on the sleep of young children—and this includes thousands of children—show that they actually sleep less than is usually recommended.

So if Mary and Tommy are lying awake till 9:00 or 9:30 p. m., perhaps it is because they are sleeping later these mornings, and really are not ready for sleep before that time in the evening.

If this does not seem to be the case, there may be one or two other explanations. Do they come in to bed directly from exciting outdoor play? A story, or something conducive to relaxation, will often help to establish a bedtime mood—as well as it can be established, shall we say, because after all we can't ever expect children to want to go to bed under any circumstances, except illness. Or how about that afternoon nap. Is it coming sufficiently early in the afternoon (right after lunch) so that the children can be expected to get sleepy by early evening? Do the children sleep so long in the afternoon that they are not ready for sleep at night? An afternoon nap can be shortened if this seems to be the case.

How much nap-taking is necessary for children under six? Most authorities recommend a morning and an afternoon nap until two years of age, and only an afternoon nap during the third and fourth years. During about the fifth year, the nap is likely to break off entirely—and not gradually. It seems that when children cease to need daytime naps the length of the nap does not just gradually decrease day by day, but there comes a sudden break, and the child seems unable to sleep at all in the daytime on many days.

Studies have shown that the total amount of night time sleep does not vary much between six months and eight years. The difference comes in the number of daytime naps.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor:

Possibly some of your readers, some of our Thief River Falls friends, will be interested in reading about some of the things we have learned about Chicago that we didn't know before we came here. The tremendous amount of war work carried on in and about Chicago has increased its population to about five million. This includes Chicago proper and the smaller cities which one would not know were separate municipalities, there being no break in the building area.

It would require almost one thousand cities of the size of Thief River Falls to make Chicago. In fact your city would extend to the Red River on the west and to the Canadian border on the north. In this city you can ride forty miles for eight cents and if it was all under one government the distance would be extended to seventy five miles. The transportation system is simply wonderful. It will take you to your destination no matter how many transfers you may require. You can transfer from the surface lines to the elevated which makes much faster time and right now they are trying to bring about a joint ownership that will allow transfers from busses to surface or elevated. In a short time they will also have a subway which will relieve the congestion in the heaviest traffic districts.

The largest bank in the city employs 3,000 people and the two largest would give employment to about as many people as your city contains. It would require about sixteen or eighteen times the number of people in your city to just take care of the money that flows into the banks of Chicago. Large business houses do not deposit their money in the banks, it is collected by Brink's Service who have a fleet of armored cars, peculiar looking things, that call at the business house and take the deposit each day. The morning papers are for sale in the evening and the evening papers are on sale in the morning. It would require a city fifty times as large as Thief River Falls to accommodate the colored population.

I have been very agreeably surprised in the way the colored people fit into the social and industrial life. While we live in a restricted "district" where colored people can not buy or rent, yet in traveling to and from work, the line I take passes through a colored section, one building project that houses in very fine apartments six thousand or more. They conduct themselves very discreetly. They are well dressed and perfectly clean, I might say shining. I have never seen a colored girl or woman look at a white man when passing and the same is quite true of the colored men. I like to look at them and see them go along in their own happy moods. They never speak to a white person they do not know and the women are not quick to reply to a question from a white man before sizing him up. If they have any doubt of one's intention they will gracefully turn away and make no reply.

I have asked old residents here if they thought there was a colored problem to be worked out. In every case they have replied in the negative. Of course one reads of some criminal act of a colored man and it is generally well advertised but when one takes into consideration the great number of colored people in the city and also considers the lack of education and the many other elements surrounding his bringing up it is surprising we do not hear of more mistakes on the part of the colored men.

Food is high here, at least 30% above what you have to pay, according to the ads I have seen in the Times recently. Rents however are reasonable. We have a very desirable furnished apartment with private bath, gas and electricity furnished and almost double the floor space we had in the apartment we used in Thief River Falls, for just about the rent we paid there.

I used to think when looking at the fruits in your stores that the cities got the best fruits and the country towns took the leavings. That was a mistake. Generally speaking your stores carry a better, a nicer looking display of fruits than I have seen in any of the stores here except the few in the Loop District that cater to and high-toned trade and then the price is entirely out of reason. Your grocery stores will compare very favorably in every way with the stores in Chicago and are generally kept cleaner. Here, all of the outlying stores are open from early morning until eight or nine o'clock and are open on Sunday also. They do not have time to clean up properly. I shoul say, except the chain stores, they do not open until nine and close at six. However, for every chain store, there are at least six to ten run by the owner. Greeks predominate in this locality in the grocery business and in fruits throughout the city.

There is room for thousands of men and women here in the defense plants but when one has to travel for an hour or more to and from the job, it makes a big difference in what he is going to get out of his spare time. In fact it developes into quite a slave plan where one has little, if any, time for recreation or amusement.

I will be pleased to give to any person interested in the work question, any information I can, if they wish to write me.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Troops 5 and 6—We scouts have had an enjoyable summer. We took part in the day camp, and had one picnic at the scout park and another one at the tourist park. One of our leaders, Mrs. K. T. Smith has moved away, and Marilyn Smith and Barbara Elofson will also be leaving next week. These members of our troop were each presented with a gift. At our last picnic plans were started for an overnight hike. We left on Wednesday of last week and came back on Thursday. We wish to express our appreciation to Misses Joan Dahlquist, Adeline Lorentson, and Dorothy Nelson for taking us on this trip.

COULDN'T BE DONE IF IT WAS PLANNED

Willmar. — Two local business men made a very profitable trip to the cities one day last week. Some miles from town they struck one of the finest fryers a man could eat. The chicken struck one of the fenders, traveled over the car and landed on the rear bumper. There the bird stayed while they took care of their business in the cities and not until they got home and saw him on the fender did they give him another thought, and then what a chicken dinner they had.

IF IT IS TO LAST MUCH LONGER—

Another large contingent of men will be taken into the army next month and no doubt the drain of local manpower into defense plant centers will continue, adding to an already extremely difficult local employment problem. Employers are scratching their heads in futile efforts to figure out answers to their individual employment difficulties. It seems inevitable that many businesses will soon be forced to curtail their activities or suspend operation entirely. Out of Washington comes word that these things must be expected. More manpower is needed in the armed forces, they tell us, and the defense plant operators continually appeal for more men to meet the needs of production.

Although the size of the army we are building seems to us to be ridiculously large, we will not argue with the authorities as to what the limit on that size should be. Possibly there are problems ahead of us that we do not know about. Maybe the officials are right. Nor will we argue about the need for increased and ever increasing production. Production must be the most urgent problem of the world not only today but tomorrow, and it is in production that our country can make its most important contribution to the winning of the war and to the readjustment of the world.

We would like to raise our feeble voice, however, in appeal for consideration of the importance of the contribution made by communities such as ours in the nation's production program. The products of our community are as essential to the war effort as the products of a defense plant. Our people pay their share of taxes with as little grumbling as any group and we subscribe to our quotas of this and that as cheerfully as any of the rest of them.

May we suggest, in what we earnestly consider to be in the best interests of the war effort, that if consideration is not soon given to the manpower needs of communities such as ours, there is going to be a serious curtailment of both production and co-operation. Enthusiasm is on the wane now and dissatisfaction is growing. That is not a healthy condition for a nation at war.

The people of our rural communities put in long days and many hours a week at hard work. A part of this extra effort no doubt is for profit. But a part of it, too, is motivated by patriotism. Men and women are prompted to do more than they normally would by a feeling that they must do all that they can. It is this spirit of willingness to sacrifice that is the important thing, and this spirit should not be broken.

But no group of patriots will long remain patriotic when all about them they see being wasted the things they sacrifice to save. Men and women will not continue forever to do two days work in one when on every hand they see others being paid two days' wages for a few hours a day of labor.

If it is true that we have a long, hard war ahead of us then we must readjust our economic machine quickly or we will lose the war by a breakdown of that machine. As that machine is being operated today it isn't going to hang together much longer.

If we have a long, hard war ahead of us then an immediate curb should be put on all profits in all types of operations. Non-essential activity of all kinds should then be suspended and the working day of all people should be extended to whatever number of hours the needs of essential production require. If maximum national effort is required to win the war then let it be required of all people, and not just a few, while others gambol down the primrose path. Let it be required of civilians as well as those who serve in the armed forces.

In all sincerity we suggest that it is high time we cut out the politics and the monkey business.

Not enough information is available yet to tell the whole story of the need for popplar in the coming pulp drive but from what we have been told it appears that our community should be able to pick up a few extra dollars this winter and at the same time do some necessary land clearing. Men who have swung an axe tell us they will be able to make good wages harvesting popplar pulp at the prices now being offered.

Tuesday night's surprise blackout was surprisingly successful in our opinion and that opinion is based on our observation of the response in all parts of the city as we saw it from the inside of an official car. It is not to be expected that such a blackout would be 100% perfect. It is a normal thing to have lights burning in both homes and business places that are not at the time occupied and in a few instances that was the case Tuesday night. The encouraging thing was the cheerful cooperation of those who were in a position to comply. Big laugh, of course, was the inability of the city to black-out its own Elks Park. We have an idea that will be one of the first spots to go dark in the next rehearsal.

First announcement to come out of the Quebec conference was the information that military operations in southeast Asia will be placed under a unified command, and that might indicate that the problem of driving the Japs out of Asia was one of the important questions considered. It is reasonable to assume that this is true. China is desperately in need of help and it is very important that organized resistance be continued in China for that probably is where the Japs can most easily be given their knockout blow. There are millions of Chinese now fighting on our side and these millions of good soldiers will continue to fight on our side as long as there is a spark of hope for ultimate victory. They now lack equipment and equipment is one thing we can give them. The problem is getting it there in time.

"Red Cross Warns Canners Of Kitchen Accidents"

In a summer of unprecedented home canning, the American Red Cross warns of accidental injuries in the kitchen at canning time.

Mrs. A. C. Matheson, Home Accidents Prevention Chairman of the Pennington County Chapter of Red Cross, said today that among the most serious injuries from canning accidents are burns caused by scalding and cuts resulting from the breaking of fruit jars as lids are being tightened.

"Housewives also should be careful of burns on the hands resulting from an attempt to lift hot vessels without the use of pan holders or gloves", said Mrs. Matheson. "Certainly it would be unfortunate, in the patriotic attempt to add to the nation's reserve of foodstuffs, to incur personal injuries brought about by careless practices. Every home canner should heed carefully the safety rules before undertaking her kitchen project."

Mrs. A. C. Matheson lists these precautions:

Keep small children out of the kitchen when you are working with boiling liquids and hot jars. And remember that keen-edged knives, steaming kettles and sharp utensils fascinate children, but cause ugly injuries.

Check to see that you are supplied with heavy bowls which will not crack or tip easily.

Keep liquids off the floor to avoid slipping and falling.

Check each fruit jar to make sure it is not cracked before you pour hot liquids into it.

Don't take chances with paraffin. Use an asbestos pad under the vessel you are melting it in—and remember that addition of water to hot paraffin will cause an explosion.

Let the pressure go down to zero before you attempt to open a pressure cooker.

Equinoctial Gales

Long a bugaboo of ocean travelers equinoctial gales are a popular myth.

---It was just about this time last year--- that Blight crept into this community and robbed potato growers of hundreds—yes, thousands—of dollars!

Agricultural experts agree that you can help protect your potato crop against Blight by the proper application of

CUPER DUST
OR
(Sulphate Process)

In addition to its help in the control of Blight, Copper gives your potatoes a needed stimulant that can actually increase your yield per acre!

By all means, let 'em eat cake
....and candy, too

Nature has her own way of telling us that there is energy in sweets. Today, corn syrup, rich in dextrose, is playing a more important role than ever before in supplying active America with the sugar that gives power to the body and keeps wits sharp.

Candy is part of the field ration and sweets are served generously to our armed forces everywhere. Sweets served in war plants have greatly stepped up human energy and production.

Tremendous quantities of corn syrup are used to make icings, cookies, cakes, candies and pies so temptingly good—and good for you

Immense amounts of corn syrup for the army as well as for civilian consumption are produced by the Home of Budweiser. Our Corn Products Division—working entirely apart from the brewery—grew out of the experience that developed from years of laboratory research. The quest for better methods and facilities for brewing the world's most popular beer never ceases.

Budweiser

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum • Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and textiles—to name a few.

False Teeth Ancient

False teeth date far back into Asiatic civilization. Even the Babylonians of the Fifth century before Christ are believed by some authorities to have used white pebbles strung on copper wire. These weren't very utilitarian but looked much better than the customary gap. The Ceylonese were using bits of sea shell more than 800 years ago, and the Japanese of 300 years ago were wont to carve a sea shell to resemble uppers and lowers.

CHOMMIE WINNER IN THRILL-PACKED EXTRA HOLE MATCH

Will Retain Possession of Trophy He Has Won Three Times

In one of the most thrilling championship flight finals matches ever played over the local course, Hans Chommie, on Sunday afternoon, edged out Dr. Homer Hedemark, 1-up in a twenty-hole duel, to win the city golf championship. The victory marks the third time that Chommie has won the title and, by virtue of his win on Sunday, he will secure permanent possession of the championship trophy. In Sunday's match Chommie was forced to overcome a three-hole deficit, by winning the 16th, 17th, and 18th holes, to force the match into extra holes, and then won the title with a par 4 on the 20th hole. In semi-final matches played on Saturday afternoon, Chommie defeated Dr. Ed. Bratrud; and Dr. Hedemark eliminated Vic Kvikstad.

Kern Olson won the championship flight consolation honors by defeating Stan Larson in the finals Sunday, after winning over Dr. H. Helseth in a semi-final match Saturday afternoon. Tuesday evening George Mostue won the first flight championship, scoring a win over Rev. G. S. Thompson in the finals. Dr. C. W. Jacobson posted a 1-up win over Ed. Carlson for the first flight consolation. Walt Smith won the second flight title with a 5 and 4 win over Guy Hinton. While H. M. Olson defeated Rev. A. I. Merth for the second flight consolation. Roy Oen defeated Milton Larson by a 1-up margin, for the third flight championship. And O. H. Ekeren won the fourth flight championship by defeating Justus Larson.

WEST SIDERS DRUB ALL-STARS TWICE DURING PAST WEEK

Win One-sided Battles by Scores of 9 to 3 and 11 to 1

The West Siders, with pitcher Wayne Anderson hurling low-hit ball and with their hitters raking the offerings of Bill Gray, scored two decisive wins over Walt Larson's All-Stars during the week, defeating the All-Stars, 9 to 3, last Thursday evening, and drubbing Larson's team, 11 to 1, Tuesday evening.

Thursday's contest was featured by the all-round play of the West Side's Vern Tormoen. At the plate, Vern connected for three hits and drove in three runs, and on defense he made several nifty catches of pop fouls. In Tuesday evening's game, pitcher Wayne Anderson tossed no-hit no-run ball until the 5th inning, when Pete Michalsky lofted a Texas league looper into right field. Bob Baker, the West Side's third baseman, turned in a strong defensive game, having four put-outs and seven assists.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

Classic

The golfing fans that paraded in the gallery following the Hans Chommie vs. Dr. Homer Hedemark championship finals match Sunday afternoon witnessed a match that undoubtedly will be the subject of conversation as long as golf is played over the local course. As an exhibition of golfing skill and competitive spirit the match was a classic, no less.

I'm sure, too, that the gallery received quite a thrill when they saw Hans Chommie make that final surge, evening the match on the 18th hole and then going on to win the title on the 20th hole. Both Chommie and Dr. Hedemark were playing top-notch golf, and they had scored decisive wins in their semi-final matches on Saturday afternoon, and they held their "touch" throughout Sunday's match.

During the first round Dr. Hedemark posted a medal score of 35, to take a 2-up lead, as Chommie carded a 38. Dr. Hedemark picked up another hole on the 13th, scoring a birdie deuce to get a 3-up lead, and he held that margin as the two golfers teed off on the 16th. With the match being dormie three, very few of the fans expected that the veteran Chommie would be able to prolong the match more than a hole or two.

Both golfers had fair drives off the 16th tee, but Dr. Hedemark's second found the sand trap to the right of the green, while Chommie was short of the carpet. Dr. Hedemark made a fine out, but was ten feet short of the pin. Chommie pitched to within four feet of the cup, and when Doc missed his putt, Chommie won the hole, sinking his four-footer. Chommie had a fine drive on the 17th, being on the edge of the green. Dr. Hedemark was short and to the left of the green, and he lost the hole when Hans marked up a birdie three. Chommie was just off the green on the 18th, while Dr. Hedemark's lofting shot hit a tree and fell short of the green. Doc's chip scooted beyond the pin, while Chommie laid his ball to within a couple of feet of the cup, and when Hedemark missed his try, Chommie forced the match into extra holes, getting a par three.

Both golfers played the 19th hole in orthodox fashion, getting 5's for a half. On the 20th hole, the match-winning hole, Chommie drove straight down the middle and just beyond the valley. Dr. Hedemark's drive, a bit longer, was to the left of the fairway. Hans' second shot was about seventy-five short of the green and to the left while Dr. Hedemark lifted a fine shot to the green, being about five feet in on the green and forty feet from the pin. Chommie studied his lie carefully, making an inspection of the green and then proceeded to make the shot that won the match, shooting a chip and roll that carried his ball to within eight inches of the cup. Dr. Hedemark's approach putt left his ball five feet short of the pin, and when his putt rimmed the cup he conceded the match to Chommie and congratulated the new champion on his win.

A Minor Classic

And Kern Olson's performance in the championship consolation was, in a sense, a minor classic. Kern, making good use of that "Bomber" club of his, turned in a pair of red-hot matches in defeating Dr. H. Helseth in the semi-finals, and Stan Larson in the finals.

Jones to Vandalia

A. F. "Jac" Jones, local trapshooting ace, left last week for Vandalia, Ohio, where he will participate in the Grand American trapshooting tournament. Based on the records over the past ten years, Jack is rated as one of the top ten trapshooters in the Vandalia tournament.

With the tournament shooters forced to bring their own ammunition this year, Jones did have difficulty in securing trap loads, but he was fortunate to make a deal with a Grand Forks gunner, trading a case of game loads for a case of trap loads.

Still Undecided

The West Siders probably aren't as strong as their 9 to 3 and 11 to 1 scores over Walt Larson's team would indicate. At least Walt and his boys aren't convinced of that fact for they will engage in another game tonight, that is, if they can inveigle the West Siders into a contest. The West Siders, after the two wins they scored this week, are being coy, feeling that they have everything to lose and nothing to win.

And Walt says that it takes his team several games before they get on to Wayne Anderson's "eephus" ball, and that they are just about ready to shred Wayne's delivery.

"The Moon Is Down" to Be Shown at Avalon Theatre This Week

"The Moon Is Down," filmed from John Steinbeck's great novel of the same name, will be the offering at the Avalon Theatre Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. With Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Henry Travers, Lee J. Cobb, Dorris Bowdon, and Margaret Wycherly, supplying the leading roles, "The Moon Is Down" tells the gripping story of a freedom-loving people whose hopes, strength, and spirit—even under the heel of the conqueror—will never be crushed.

"The Hard Way" starring Ida Lupino, Dennis Morgan, and Joan Leslie will be shown at the Falls Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday, and Monday. It is the story of a deeply ambitious and luxury-loving woman whose fanatical love for her only sister leads her to such lengths that she ruthlessly exploits all those who stand in her way.

A CUP O' TEA FOR THE CENSOR

Perham.—Censors in England would be fighting for the privilege of handling letters written by Mrs. Frank Stephens to numerous relatives in England, if they only knew. Sometime back Mrs. Stephens realizing how much tea meant to those whom she corresponds with in England started enclosing a small packet of tea in each letter. The relative who was recipient of the first letter with a packet of tea received only a part of its original content and a note from the censor stating he had taken enough tea from the packet to make himself a cup. Now Mrs. Stephens includes two packets, one for the censor, and one for the relative.

WITHOUT BATTERY CAR RUNS MANY MILES

Belle Plaine.—Where oh where is my battery? is what Mr. Clarence Radde wondered the other night as he stopped his car following a jaunt of some twenty odd miles. Not until he stopped in town and the motor ceased, lights went out, and the starter didn't function did he think of his battery. Investigation revealed he had been driving a car without a battery. The road he had driven was immediately retraced but no battery was to be found. No doubt the car's operation without a battery from wherever it was lost is attributable to smooth and even driving as he had held it at a steady 35.

DRIVERS LICENSES MUST BE RENEWED ON YOUR BIRTHDAY

New License Law Will Become Effective in State September 1

If you were born in September—and this is one horoscope you can bank on—your driver's license will expire next month. All drivers licenses issued before September 1, 1943, will expire upon the next birthday of each licensee thereafter, according to a law passed by the last legislature. If your birthday is in August, for instance, you have until August 1944, to renew your driver's license. But if your birthday is in September, you had better get your application in soon, if you want to keep on driving.

If you neglect to get your license renewed, you will forfeit your right to drive a motor vehicle, W. F. Rosenwald, traffic engineer of the Department of Highways explained, for the law does not include any period of grace.

Upon application and payment of the required fee, driving privileges shall be extended or renewed on or preceding the expiration date of an existing driver's license without examination, the law says, unless the Commissioner of Highways has reason to believe that the licensee is no longer qualified as a driver.

Applications may be made to the clerk of the district court at the court house. The fee for a new license or renewal is 35 cents.

All licenses hereafter issued will be for four year periods. The date of birth and year of expiration will be stated in the license.

Licenses issued to persons on active duty with the armed forces will be valid without renewal until 60 days after their discharge from service.

MARRIED TWICE IN ONE DAY

Springfield.—To be married twice in one day was the unusual experience of one soldier boy from this town, Sgt. Lester Bielen. An unexpected furlough for Sgt. Bielen prompted marriage to Miss Dorothy Crane of Berkeley, California a month in advance of his original intent. A train five hours late in arrival at Berkeley was the cause of the couple not being able to get a license there. Then, what to do? Finally with the aid of some good friends a license was obtained in San Francisco, but the marriage had to take place in that city in spite of the fact all plans had been made for a pretty wedding at the bride's home in Barkeley. Nothing to do but be married in San Francisco in the morning and hasten back to the bride's home in Barkeley and be married again at the planned candlelight service in the afternoon.

Plans Are Prepared for Freshman Week at State University

With another summer nearly past, the University of Minnesota's freshmen week committee this week sent word to prospective freshmen throughout Minnesota that Freshmen Week activities will be conducted during the week of September 20, with college classes starting the following Monday, September 27. Freshmen Week activities include tours of the campus, get-acquainted events for men and women students, lectures on various aspects of university life, such as use of the library, how to study, and the meaning of a university.

Physical examinations also are given to all entering students and programs of study are arranged with the help of counsellors. Student guidance programs at Minnesota are strengthened year by year and any new student, or old either, can find someone to whom to take almost any kind of problem that confronts him or her.

This year's student body is expected to be predominantly feminine for the first time since that last world war of 1917-1918. Under normal conditions university has about 64 per cent of men and 36 per cent of women.

LAND O'LAKES NEWS

A HAND IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS!

NO ONE DAIRY FARMER could hope to make his needs known to our government or to bring about a public understanding and appreciation of farm problems. Even single cooperative creamery organizations would have a difficult time educating public officials as to the increasingly complex problems of dairying. But, in Land O'Lakes there are hundreds of cooperative creameries.

TOGETHER, the Land O'Lakes members have a hand in national affairs. For example, even though Land O'Lakes opposed the principles of the recent roll-back, it was through the efforts of the Land O'Lakes organization that some of the physical dairying problems involved were recognized and thus thousands of dollars were saved for Land O' Lakes members . . . and ALL dairy farmers.

A HAND in national affairs . . . this is but one of the many intangible yet important reasons why you should urge your creamery to investigate the advantages of a marketing membership in Land O' Lakes.

TRAFFIC DOWN BUT HIGHWAY ARRESTS WERE UP IN JULY

Less Aid to Motorists Leaves More Time for Road Law Violators

Although highway traffic in Minnesota has decreased, there has been no let-up in activities of the State Highway Patrol, according to the report for July made by M. J. Hoffmann, Commissioner of Highways, by Elden Rowe, chief of the Highway Patrol.

"Due to reduced traffic, especially tourist traffic, less than half as many people require aid of the patrolmen this summer as a year ago," said Mr. Rowe. "Consequently we can devote more time to checking traffic violations and faulty equipment. We hope that the increased number of arrests, warnings, and faulty equipment tags will help to bring about a continued reduction of traffic accidents in Minnesota."

Of the violators arrested, the greatest increase was in arrests for excessive speed, from 173 in July, 1942, to 334, in July this year. Change of the wartime maximum speed from 40 to 35 may have had some bearing on the increase. Arrests for careless driving, improper passing, going through stop signs, and driving while intoxicated all decreased.

Total arrests for the seven months from January 1 to July 31, 1943, were 7,681, of which 1,993 were for excessive speed. Total fines imposed have been $82,681, of which the two largest items were $22,417 for driving under the influence of liquor and $21,178 for excessive speed. Total tags for improper license for the seven months were 3,244; illegal equipment tags, 10,779; warning tickets, 5,092; aid given motorists, 20,468; traffic directed, 2,516,627; driver's license checked, 56,222; lights tested, 14,189.

Telephone Company Employees Get Raise

An adjustment in the wages of about 12,900 employees of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. retroactive to March 16, 1943, which will increase the company's payroll approximately $1,350,000, on an annual basis, has been announced.

Of the employees affected more than 6,000 are telephone operators. Wage schedules for all operators are increased $2 or more a week. Operators' starting wages are increased from $2 to $4 per week, depending on the locality and the shift worked.

Directors of Red River Valley Livestock Ass'n Plan for Winter Show

The summer organization meeting of the directors of the Red River Valley Livestock Association was held at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston on August 19. Officers elected for the year were: President T. M. McCall, Crookston; vice-president, J. H. Sargent, Crookston; treasurer, A. A. Habedank, Ada; secretary, O. M. Kiser, Crookston.

PICKLE BOTTLE TRAVELS PRESTON TO NEW ORLEANS

Preston.—A pickle jar placed in the Root river on the evening of June 16 by a couple of girls, one 12 years old and the other 13 years old, was picked up in New Orleans on July 18 by two lads, one 12 years old and one 13 years old. The girls, Ruth Ann Harm and Myrna Drier just for fun put their names and addresses inside an empty pickle bottle, put the cover on tightly and dropped it into the river. One month and two days later the two lads, George Lee and Alfred Poe, age 12 and 13, recovered the bottle in the Gulf of Mexico.

WAR EXHIBIT IS MAIN FEATURE OF MINNESOTA FAIR

Army Camp, War Trophies, Allied Exhibits Will Hold Center of Stage

An army of workmen, working three shifts, is racing against the clock, putting thousands of exhibits and displays into place for the presentation of the 84th annual Minnesota State Fair, which opens a ten-day run Saturday.

Uncle Sam's fighting forces will play a prominent part in this year's wartime exposition. In every department new displays will emphasize the war effort, and show how home and fighting fronts are pulling together for victory.

The 107th Military Battalion, 750 strong, moved in from Camp Ripley today, and set up more than 200 tents on Machinery Hill. With them came 36 dogs now in training for combat service overseas, scout cars, tanks, and machine guns. Visitors will be given full access to the camp, and see how soldiers eat, sleep, drill and work while in the field.

The first captured Axis equipment to be featured in the big War Trophy Show arrived at the fair today from the U. S. Marine Base at Quantico, Va., and the Army proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md. A trainload of captured German, Italian and Japanese tanks, cannon and mobile field pieces will arrive via Milwaukee, Friday.

Graduate Nurses are Offered Free Tuition

Tuition and maintenance at the University of Minnesota will be paid by the government for graduate nurses who wish to take an additional year's course in public health nursing, it has been announced. Nationwide shortage of public health nurses and the ever-present possibility of wartime epidemics led to the passage by Congress of an appropriation making the free courses possible. Graduate nurses who are interested should get in touch with Dr. Ruth E. Boynton, acting head of the division of preventive medicine and public health before September 23, when registration will begin. Part of the year's work will be field practice, Dr. Boynton said.

★ IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT ★

★ FROM YOUR PULPWOOD COMMITTEE

THIS Committee is starting a drive to cut more pulpwood trees. The shortage is serious . . . and pulpwood is urgently needed for everything from blood plasma containers to parachutes . . . from shell cases to airplane parts . . . from gas mask filters to explosives.

Our Government is asking every able-bodied woodcutter and farmer to pledge 3 extra work days this year (at regular pay) to cut pulpwood . . . 2,500,000 extra cords are needed quickly.

This is a challenge to everyone of us in this community. We must not let our boys down. 3 EXTRA days' work are little to ask when our boys are out there giving their lives for their country.

Enlist today in this drive. Wear the button that shows you are in this fight. This is one way this community can help win this war.

Come to Committee headquarters or get in touch with any of these men. And do it quickly.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

. . . or how Americans make pals in Palestine

Peace be unto you, says the hospitable Moslem when he greets a stranger. Have a "Coke", says the American soldier in return, and in three words he has made a new friend. It's a phrase that works as well in Haifa as in Harrisburg. Around the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the high-sign between kindly-minded people.

LOWLY MILKWEED TO BE IMPORTANT AS A SUBSTITUTE

Will Take Place of Kapok and Will Have Many Uses in War Program

The lowly milkweed, in the past useful only as an adjunct to children's play, has become one of America's most important wartime plants, northwest War Production Board officials said this week.

Instead of slashing it down as a pest, Minnesota farmers are beings urged to encourage it growth. The floss from the milkweed pod is going to replace kapok, the Netherlands East Indies floss that is now under Japanese control.

Milkweed floss, WPB officials said, has a hollow fiber like kapok, and therefore is buoyant and resilient. It is being used as filler for life preservers and marine mattresses, airplane insulation, thermal and acoustical insulation. Its seeds produce a drying oil, a 40 per cent protein meal, with pods producing wax and cellulose.

SCHOOLS HERE OPEN FOR FALL TERM TUESDAY

Nearly 1500 Pupils Expected to be Enrolled at Opening

TEACHER TRAINING DEPT. NEEDS STUDENT

General Meeting of Faculty Scheduled for Monday Evening

An army of approximately 1,500 children will march to Thief River Falls public schools next Tuesday morning for the opening of the fall term. Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted announced today that the faculty posts are all filled with the exception of the teacher training department instructor, and that all school buildings have been renovated during the summer recess.

Mr. Fjelsted stated that a teacher training instructor has not yet been engaged, altho one is available, for the reason that only seven students have registered for the course, while a minimum of eight is required in order to secure state aid for the department. He expressed the hope that the eighth student would be enrolled by the end of the week.

Pupils entering the seventh grade of junior high school will meet in the school auditorium Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with W. G. Claffy, high school principal, and Miss Lyda Batten, who will familiarize the boys and girls with their new surroundings.

New members of the faculty, numbering about fifteen, will meet with Mr. Claffy Monday afternoon, Labor Day, while a general teachers meeting will be held Monday evening, to be followed by a reception for the faculty given in the home economics rooms by members of the board of education and their wives. Dr. A. E. Jacobson, president of the board, will welcome the group, while Supt. Fjelsted will speak briefly.

With the opening of the fall term, two new bus drivers will be on duty, Dayton Silk having been appointed to succeed Gilbert Reiersgaard, resigned; and R. L. Shumway succeeding Randall Noper, also resigned.

Mr. Fjelsted stated that hot lunches will be served only in the Lincoln building this year and at slightly increased costs, owing to the fact that the services of cooks are no longer financed by the federal government, nor was the project for canning garden stuff available this year.

He added that the penny milk project is still in abeyance, owing to the fact the federal subsidy is not yet available. He expressed the hope, however, that funds would be released shortly.

THREE SPEAKERS ADDRESS ROTARY CLUB ON TUESDAY

Lieutenant Lindahl Johnson, serving with the navy as an antiaircraft gunnery officer, recounted his experiences on various battle fronts. He is the husband of the former Miss Vivian Ward.

Martin C. Gulbranson, member of the club, completed the program by giving an autobiographical talk.

List Bond Quotas for County Subdivisions

Pennington County's quota and every other county's quota in the forthcoming Third War Loan Drive is a heavy one, in our case more than 2½ times the quota in the second war loan. At first thought it may seem impossible to reach, in a county as small as this, a quota of $558,500.00, but it can and must be done, said Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman.

"The war bond dollars are fighting a double battle," he said. "They are plowing toward victory with the boys at the battle fronts giving them food, equipment, and the ammunitions they need, giving it to them now at a time and in sufficient quantities, we hope, for an early victory. The war bond dollars are also fighting the tremendous battle against inflation which can and will unless prevented lay us all low. It is important that we win our victories on both fronts."

In order to achieve the goal the Pennington county committee had arrived at the following quotas for the various subdivisions of the county:

Black River	$ 6,500.00

JOB OFFICE CHIEF AREA DIRECTOR IN MANPOWER DRIVE

Russell Olson Will Localize Job Stabilization Project

Russell E. Olsen, manager of the U. S. employment office in Thief River Falls, has returned to his local duties, having spent the latter three days of last week attending a war manpower commission conference in St. Paul.

The purpose of the meeting was to provide local USES managers of the state with the details of a program to extend the WMC plan for employment stabilization to the local office level, and thus meet local needs more promptly.

Mr. Olsen has been given new duties under which he becomes area director for WMC, with jurisdiction over Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau, Marshall, and Kittson counties. Formation of a committee to advise as to stabilization practices in this area will be the first step.

"The purpose of this new phase of the employment stabilization program," Mr. Olsen explained, "is to bring to the local level, the techniques that heretofore have been operating regionally. We must have this stabilization in the employment of essential workers in their present jobs to prevent inefficient job shifting, wasted effort, and reduced production, as well as to provide an orderly way of transferring workers from one job to another, when such transfers are in the interest of the war effort.

"It was made plain to us that voluntary employment controls must be extended, if we are to avoid the necessity for a national service act.

"It is the hope of the war manpower commission that workers and management, cooperating within the democratic process, will be able to meet the nation's war needs without compulsory legislation."

WAR SERVICE FUND QUOTA IN COUNTY $8,000

Plans for October Campaign Mapped at Meeting in Crookston

MINNESOTA GOAL IS SET AT $2,500,000

Fund to Assist Agencies Serving U. S. Armed Forces and Allies

Pledged to raise more than $2,500,000 for the Minnesota War Service Fund in October to help agencies serving our armed forces, our allies, and our neighbors, campaign chairmen in 11 northwest counties this week began organization of volunteer workers for the fall appeal. The quota for Pennington county is $8,000.

The chairmen and other civic leaders from the 11 counties attended a meeting in Crookston last week to hear J. Cameron Thomson, Minneapolis, state chairman of the Minnesota War Service Fund and Byron W. Shimp, state director speak. Presiding was T. M. McCall, Crookston.

"More than half of this war fund is for service to our boys in the armed forces through the USO, United Seamen's Service and war prisoners' aid," Mr. Thomson said in explaining the state goal of $2,500,000. "No one can question the necessity of supporting these agencies with all that we have to give. Most of the rest of the fund goes for relief to our allies. Our postwar history, our place at the peace table is going to depend in a large measure on this relief that we send now to our allies. If we want China and Russia to keep on fighting and if we want to sit with them at the peace table on an equal basis then we can't let them down on this relief matter."

The National War Fund of which the Minnesota War Service Fund is a part was organized as the result of a volunteer movement on the part of community chests, war agencies and the government, seeking a central agency which would have as its basic objective to help win the war sooner, with a minimum loss of life.

The Minnesota War Service Fund appeal in October will be the only campaign for funds that any of the 17 member agencies will carry on this year, Mr. Thomson stressed, pointing out that the plea of the campaign leaders is, "Give once for all agencies and give in your own community."

Approximately one-third of the 42 rural schools which will be in operation in Pennington county this winter will open for the fall term next Tuesday, September 7, it was announced today by Mrs. A. C. Matheson, county superintendent of schools.

Paper Company to Take Pulpwood in Small Lots

Woodlot farmers in the region of Thief River Falls today were informed that they could sell "a cord or a carload" of pulpwood, in a letter received from Fred M. Hilden, timber buyer for Minnesota and Ontario Paper company.

In his letter Mr. Hilden stated that for those woodlot farmers who cannot supply a full carload of pulpwood, and his company will establish dealer connections at various loading points on the Soo and Great Northern railways who will be prepared to pay for "a cord or a carload."

New OPA price regulations on wood as announced through Mr. Hilden called for one to three dollar increase in prices over the previous price. New prices announced by Mr. Hilden for one hundred and twenty-eight cubic feet of rough wood, cut into 96 inch lengths FOB cars, are as follows: Spruce, $15.00; balsam, $13.00; jackpine, $11.00; and poplar, $9.00.

Pulpwood is an essential industry at the present time and federal agencies are cooperating to increase the production of wood in order to meet the heavy demands of war.

"Pulpwood and paper are today pinch-hitting for tin, rubber, aluminum, and steel and are used for blueprints to build ships, tanks, and planes, for containers for blood plasma, and for a thousand other war needs."

He urgently appealed to all woodlot farmers to do their duty and to help "defeat the Axis with your axes." "If the mills of M. and O. Paper company and the manufacture of forest products for war is to continue the woodlot farmer must lend a hand."

OPA Community Service Bulletin

By Mrs. Paul A. Lundgren
Chairman

A committee has been named to direct the Home Front Pledge campaign which will get under way here September 13th.

A meeting of this committee was called Saturday afternoon. Members are: Mrs. Vincent Berry, W. E. Dahlquist, Ernest A. Palmer, Mrs. A. B. Josephson, Mrs. Peter Lovly, Mrs. Oscar Gunstad, Mrs. V. C. Noper and Mrs. A. C. Matheson.

Some things you should know about price control:

1. The ceiling price is the highest price the OPA permits a given store to charge you for anything it sells that is price controlled.

2. No store can charge you more than its ceiling price for anything but it may charge you less. Ceiling prices do not prevent sales and bargains.

3. Most ceiling prices are not the same in all stores. Except for some articles which have been placed under fixed ceiling prices each store must set its own ceiling prices as directed by the Price Regulations. You can shop around as you always have for best buys.

4. Ceiling prices must be posted on the everyday things you buy. Most of these are called "cost-of-living items". Almost all things are under ceiling prices, but on the "cost-of-living" commodities prices must be shown where you can easily see them when you buy.

5. Every store must keep a list of all its ceiling prices for inspection by the OPA and it must show you this list whenever you ask to see it.

6. Ceiling prices require the store to continue giving you the same quality and quantity for the same price. Any attempt to sell you less or poorer quality is a violation of the law.

7. It is your duty as a citizen to protect yourself and stores that are obeying the law by reporting violations of the price regulation at once in writing to your local war price and rationing board.

CAMPAIGN TO CURB COST OF LIVING TO START SEPT. 13TH

Consumers Asked to Assist in Banishing Black Market

Merchants and consumers alike throughout the United States are pooling their efforts to check the rising cost of living and the black market operation. In twenty-five states the program is already underway.

In North Dakota and Minnesota the Home Front Pledge campaign will begin September 13. Buyers will sign a pledge to pay no more than top legal prices and to buy no rationed goods without surrendering ration coupons; and merchants will agree to sell at no higher than ceiling prices and in compliance with rationing regulations.

"As we become more and more price conscious," said Harold W. Bangert, district OPA director, "we begin to realize that price ceilings cover not only groceries but nearly everything we buy, from used vacuum cleaners to shoe repair services."

The Home Front Pledge campaign is being launched by mass meetings of housewives and merchants, and by house to house canvassing by OCD block workers, Victory Aides, neighborhood leaders and others interested citizens. Commercial clubs throughout the country have taken over the program.

Chester Bowles, OPA general manager, explains that "the purpose of the program is to permit every citizen—retailer, housewife, employer, employee—to become partners in understanding and observing the price and rationing regulations which this war has forced upon us."

"This is not a program of the said, Mr. Bowles." It is a people's program — it must be the people. For they, and they alone, have the power to protect themselves from the inroads of the black marketeer and the chiseler."

Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Pederson, longtime residents of the Smiley community, recently celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The event was the occasion for a gathering in their honor in the Bethany Lutheran church.

Mrs. Markus Udstrand, Former Resident Here, Passes Away at Warren

Mrs. Markus Udstrand, former resident of this city and the Holt community, passed away at the Warren hospital August 22 at the age of 78. Funeral rites were conducted Saturday afternoon from the Holt Lutheran church with Rev. T. C. L. Hanson officiating, and interment was in the Holt cemetery.

Born in Tromso, Norway, June 10, 1865, Elsie Marie Larson came to this country in 1893, and the following year was married at the Ringbo church near Holt to Markus Udstrand. They lived in the Holt community until 1930, after which they lived in Thief River Falls until a few years ago when they moved to Warren to make their home with a daughter, Mrs. Gida Zacharias. Mr. Udstrand died February 4, 1940.

Left to mourn her departure are eight children, Mrs. Zacharias of Warren, Miss Mable Udstrand, Warren; Mrs. Alma Dudley, St. Cloud; Mrs. Palma Enge, Tacoma, Wash.; Helmer and Arthur Udstrand of Thief River Falls; and Bernard and Hjalmer Udstrand, with the U. S. Army. Also surviving are seven grandchildren and four sisters.

MOTOR VEHICLES INCREASE 6-FOLD IN STATE SINCE '18

Interesting Facts Brought Out in Exhibit at State Fair

How the home front, like the battlefront, has been mechanized, is illustrated in a poster in the department of highways booth in the state exhibits building at the Minnesota state fair this week.

In World War I, "Less than 10 per cent of our people depended on motor vehicle transportation," it is stated. In 1918 Minnesota had one million horses and only 160,000 motor vehicles.

In World War II, "92 per cent of our people depend on motor vehicle transportation," says the poster. "Don't you?" In 1941 Minnesota had 901,00 cars and trucks, while the number of horses had decreased to 622,000. After two years of war, however, both horse and motor vehicles were on the decline, Minnesota having 579,000 horses and 765,000 cars and trucks in 1943.

"The minimum below which Minnesota cars and trucks cannot drop without disrupting domestic economy and impairing our war effort" is estimated at 675,000. Therefore this appeal is emphasized:

"If your car or truck is a necessity, conserve it! You can't get a new one!"

Immunization Program Extended into This Week

In order to aid the war effort it should be the duty of every American citizen to see that their families are protected against smallpox and diphtheria, Miss Ann Sward, county public health nurse, said today. To make this possible the immunization program has been extended thru the first week of September. This will be the last opportunity for protection at the reduced rate which is 75c for both smallpox and diphtheria immunization or 50c for one.

COUNTY WILL STRIVE FOR $558,500 BOND QUOTA THIS MONTH

Lions Club: Captain, Stuart McLeod. Solicitors: Hans Chommie, Harry Simons, W. G. Claffy, Jim Parkins, Bill Thompson, Harold Helleksen, Dr. Kaisler, Bernard Barzen, Jack Osborn.

Rotary Club: Captain, S. R. Dahlen. Solicitors: T. W. Mahogan, A. B. McLaughlin, A. J. Rau, F. E. Tunberg, M. C. Gulbranson, W. W. Prichard, Milton Larson, H. M. Olson, Irvin E. Quist, and Bart Wangenstein.

The solicitation for the villages of St. Hilaire, Goodridge, Hazel, and the Oakland Park sanatorium will be under the direction respectively of Paul Roy, Stephen Singer, Ole Odegaard and Dr. B. Borreson.

Mrs. Marjorie Kiland, county co-chairman, will have charge of women's activities and will assist in the general supervision and tabulation of the bond campaign as it progresses. In addition to that, area supervisors have been arranged for the rural districts as follows: Carl Anderson for the townships of Black River, Bray, Polk Centre, Sanders and Numedal; Paul Roy for St. Hilaire, River Falls, Norden and North; Pat Culkins for Mayfield, Rocksbury, Smiley and Wyandotte; Hans Solberg for Deer Park, Hickory, Reiner, Silverton and Star; Stephen Singer for Goodridge, Cloverleaf, Highlanding, and Kratka. It will be their duty to give such assistance as may be necessary to the several township committees in their district.

The county committee has set up individual quotas based upon the financial ability of the several residents of the county. These quotas represent the committee's best judgment of what each individual can do to assist the county in meeting the tremendous load called for in the third war loan drive. They are not compulsory, nor intended as a draft. It is the hope of the committee that each citizen will rise to the occasion and do his utmost for the government in its time of need.

Each bond purchaser will be given a stub by the solicitors of his or her subscription. These stubs should be presented at the time the bonds are bought. Bonds will be on sale at the post office of Thief River Falls, Hazel, St. Hilaire, and Goodridge, and will also be on sale at the Northern State bank, the Union State bank and the First Federal Savings & Loan association.

The public is asked to distribute their purchases between these institutions so as not to overload any one of them. Credit will be given on the drive for all bonds purchased after September 1st. It takes a lot of gas and wear on tires to carry out this solicitation. The people can generally save the committee considerable work if they will contact their township chairman and make arrangements to buy their bonds on one of their regular trips to market.

NURSES TO TEACH WOMEN TO LEARN RED CROSS NEED

WANTED—Nurses to teach and women to take the Red Cross home nursing course during the fall and winter months.

This was the appeal today of Mrs. O. G. Lynde, home nursing chairman of the Pennington County Red Cross chapter, as she announced the percentage of attainment of the state quota of home nursing trained women during the year ended June 30th.

"Minnesota has a percentage of 107% goal achievement record for the last fiscal year but it must do even better this year", said Mrs. Lynde. "The record shows Minnesota third highest with Nebraska leading with 113% and Iowa with 109% of the states of the Midwestern area. To do so we need more Pennington County nurses to teach the courses and more Pennington women to take the work. The new state quota is expected from Washington soon. We must get busy". Mrs. Lynde referred to women trained in home nursing as the final community resource in bedside care and pointed out how important that resource is with more and more doctors and nurses going into service with the armed forces.

"The home nursing course takes only 24 hours time, divided in 2-hour sessions, and what it teaches will be of lasting value to Pennington county households in peace as well as in war", said Mrs. Lynde. "Surely we can count on an enthusiastic response to this home front need".

Th new quota of surgical dressings has not arrived as yet. Please watch this column for news of its arrival.

Quick Pickles

Cucumber time has rolled around again and the supply of "cukes" in all these swell victory gardens really calls for an abundant supply of pickles this fall. Here are some swell pickles that take about as much time to make as the snap of your fingers. They must not be eaten until they are at least five weeks old and then the older they get the more delicious they become. First you slice your cucumbers about ¼ inch thick into sterilized jars with a few slices of onion on top. Next you put on one tablespoon of dry mustard, two tablespoons salt and three tablespoons of sugar, ½ tsp. mustard seed and celery seed each and over all this you pour cold vinegar to the top and seal. That is all there is to it.

A series of get-togethers have been held at the Lendobeja homes honoring the house guests, Mrs Al. Gerend, Miss Dolores Lendobeja, and Miss Jane Prange all of Akron, Ohio. A week ago Sunday Mrs. Walter Lendobeja entertained at a turkey dinner for the girls and in the afternoon the Leon Lendobejas, Adam Lendobejas, Ted Lendobejas, Bert Johnsons of Kratka, Julian Lendobeja, Bernice Berge, and Iver Karlstad came over. Last Sunday this group met and surprised Mrs. Bert Johnson (Josephine Lendobeja) at her home in Kratka as it was her birthday. The Florian Szymanskis were also there. Mrs. Szymanski baked the birthday cake and Julian Lendobeja also of Kratka brought a lovely birthday cake. On Wednesday evening Julian Lendobeja was host to the Lendobeja clan at a dinner in Red Lake Falls for which they all drove down with the exception of the Bert Johnsons and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lendobeja who were unable to attend.

The Elias Angells are now living in Thief River Falls. They moved last week from their farm here across the road from Bethany church. It is with sincere regret that we Smiley folks bid the Angells ado. They have been such loyal and good faithful citizens, always willing and helpful in every way. They were prominent members of the Smiley community club. The Angell's will be greatly missed, but at the same time, Smiley wishes them much happiness in their new surroundings on Tindolph avenue in Thief River Falls. The Angells' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hanson (Agnes) and family are now residing on the Angell farm which they have purchased. The Hanson's moved from their own farm in Kratka last week. Smiley also welcomes them into its fold of nice folks.

Have a "Coke" = Cead Mile Failte
(A HUNDRED THOUSAND WELCOMES)

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

...or how Americans make friends in Ireland

Cead Mile Failte—a hundred thousand welcomes—says the kindly Irishman when he meets a stranger. The American soldier says it another way. Have a "Coke", says he, and in three words he has said Greetings, pal. It's a phrase that works as well in Belfast as in Boston. Around the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the high-sign between friendly-minded people.

STARTING THE FIFTH YEAR

This week brings the start of the fifth year of the war. It was four years ago that Hitler violated the Munich agreement and moved his troops into Poland. From that time on other European nations gradually became involved until December 7, 1941, when the conflict suddenly became world-wide.

On this anniversary of the start of the war it might be well to refresh our memories on a few important dates. Here are some of them:

Sept. 1, 1939, Germany invaded Poland.

Sept. 3, 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany.

Sept. 11, 1939, Russia moved into Eastern Poland.

Nov. 30, 1939, Russia invaded Finland.

Apr. 9, 1940, Germany invaded Denmark and Norway.

May 10, 1940, Germany invaded Holland and Belgium.

June 10, 1940, Dunkirk, followed by fall of France.

June 22, 1941, Germany invaded Russia.

December 7, 1941, Pearl Harbor.

None of these dates is particularly cheerful, with the possible exception of September 3, 1939, when Britain and France declared war. The occasion stands out in our memory because at that time Thief River Falls was host to a gathering of international war veterans. Our friends from Canada were with us when the news came through. Britain and France were not prepared for war at that time and their declaration of hostilities was little more than an empty gesture, but they kept faith with Poland.

Empty as that gesture was at the time, however, it probably was that declaration, as much as anything else, that has saved the world. Germany did not want war with Britain and France at that time and their declaration evidently upset his time-table. It is reasonably clear that his plan at that time was to move against Russia and their interference delayed his Russian campaign at least a year. That was a bad year for Britain but it gave to the Russians the precious time they needed for more thorough preparation.

Russia's contribution to Hitler's downfall is more apparent. It is on the far-flung Russian battlefront that the Axis powers have suffered their most severe losses. Three summers and two winters in Russia have taken a heavy toll of German manpower and there is reason now to doubt that Hitler's military machine will be able to stop the Russian steam roller that is crushing it under or driving it back. To the Russians must go much credit for the present favorable prospects of victory.

Our own contribution to the winning of the war has also been great. While we did not become actively involved in the struggle until Pearl Harbor it was due largely to our assistance that Britain was able to survive the bad year. More recently our armed forces have been more than merely a threat to the Axis powers. The importance of our contribution need not be enlarged upon.

The war has now progressed to a point where it is necessary to give consideration to the problems of peace. We still have much war ahead of us in all probability, with a purely personal matter to settle with our little friends across the Pacific, but the problems of the peace to come are becoming increasingly important. The winning of the war is considered a mathematical certainty. The winning of the peace is not a mathematical problem.

If we are to win the peace it is essential that there be complete confidence and understanding among the three powers that will have won the war. Unless Russia, Britain and the United States can agree there can be no hope for a lasting peace. It is imperative, therefore, that every effort be now put forth not only to overcome whatever misunderstandings there have been between these nations in the past but that there be created a spirit of harmony for the future. Anything that tends to disrupt such harmony is detrimental to the best interests of all of us.

PAY CHECKS CLIMB FASTER THAN COST OF LIVING IN 1943

Insurance Company Reports on Trend of Wages and Living Costs

"Longer hours, authorized wage increases, and "upgrading" of workers into higher-paid classifications, have combined to keep the pay checks of millions of urban workers climbing faster than living costs so far in 1943; these three factors are having a greater effect in raising the average wage level than most persons realize, and they operate without breaking existing wage-freeze regulations, according to a family buying power study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

"Present "war prosperity" is irregularly distributed, however, with certain groups sharing little or none, or even suffering actual hardships, the report states, pointing to employees of many peacetime businesses, individuals on fixed salaries or incomes, pensioners, and widows and orphans dependent on incomes from life insurance or other modest estates.

"Yet the general volume of pay check increases, especially in the war industries, has been great enough to lift the wage income of the average urban worker's family five per cent in the first half of 1943," and twenty-four per cent since January 1, 1942, the study shows.

"In spite of dollar-and-a-half watermelons and various sensational price rises on individual items, particularly in food, total family living costs aside from taxes have increased less than three per cent on a country-wide average since January, 1943. And combining the price rises of the past year and a half with the new 1943 income tax and net Victory tax on a 24 per cent larger pay check, the total increase in living expenses since January, 1942, runs between 15 and 17 per cent for a typical worker family now in the $200-$225 wage bracket, with two dependent children, the study shows.

The wholesale food price average turned sharply downward in mid-June and the decline continued throughout July; retail prices generally follow the trend of wholesale levels. Thus the food price rise, which has been a major influence in the cost-of-living picture, seems to be halted at least temporarily. Also, return credits of up to two-fifths of Victory taxes being paid now, can begin to be recovered by the taxpayer.

Checkups of actual retail selling prices—not "ceiling prices"—at various points in the country by O. P. A. investigators, indicate that established living cost index figures are substantially correct, the study states.

Japanese Beetles

July is a month when home gardeners must not neglect spraying. To control Japanese beetles a good coating, preferably of arsenate of lead, is essential. However, if you do not like the looks of this white material use rotenone spray, but this will need to be applied more often. In fact, anything that gives the foliage a heavy coating of white preferably, such as alum or lime, is a good repellent. Arsenate of lead not only repels but also acts as stomach poison and kills the beetles. Arsenate of lead is a poison which must be kept out of the reach of children and other irresponsible persons.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

At a meeting of the residents of the flooded area of the Red Lake River and members of the City Council of Thief River Falls, held in the Auditorium Thursday of last week, the question was raised as to whether or not members of the city council had promised to open the dam at Thief River Falls to see what effect it would have on the flow of the river in the flooded area.

I wish to state that such a promise was made at a meeting in Thief River Falls on August 10 at which aldermen Peterson, Rinkel and McKechnie were present. This meeting was prior to the meeting held on the Eddie Arveson farm which was attended by state engineer Walter Olson. I make this statement to clear up any misunderstanding that may have developed later over this question. The statement by W. E. Dahlquist that no promise had been made at the Eddie Arveson meeting did not cover this earlier meeting.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Pursuant to due notice thereof, the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, met in special session in the Council chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on August 27, 1943. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock P. M. with Aldermen Griebstein, Petersen, Hunt, McKechnie, Stenberg present and Alderman Rinkel absent.

Application was presented by Mrs. Ida Borgen for transfer as to location of licenses, On and Off Sale, to sell 3.2% beer from 223 Atlantic Avenue North to 200 LaBree Avenue North. Alderman Stenberg moved that such transfer be approved and granted. The motion was seconded by Alderman Petersen and adopted by unanimous vote.

Application was presented by Morris Olson for a compromise settlement of taxes against Lots 4-10 in Block 6, Lots 2 and 3, Block 7 and Lot 3 in Block 11, all in Riverside Addition and on motion of Alderman Petersen, seconded by McKechnie and adopted the same was laid over for further consideration.

The matter of County reimbursement for 75% of expenditures for relief for the year 1942 and which matter had been in dispute for some time was brought up by City Attorney Quale. He advised that he had received assurance of settlement in full of such claim with the understanding that in presentation of claim for the year 1943, $50.00 per month would be considered as the salary of the Superintendent of Relief for such year. A motion was introduced by Alderman Stenberg that such arrangement be accepted, applicable to the year 1943 with payment in full for the year 1942 by the county. The motion was seconded by Alderman McKechnie and adopted by unanimous vote.

Motion was made by Alderman Petersen that bids for plowing, discing and dragging of a part of the land owned by the city and purchased for airport purposes, duly advertised for this date, be opened and considered. The motion was seconded by Alderman Stenberg and adopted. When in Rome—

When you are in Rome, try to do as the Romans do. In medieval times Saturday was considered a fast day in Rome. But in Milan it was a festival. Saint Austin, a frequent traveler between the two cities, asked Saint Ambrose exactly how to act in both cases. Saint Ambrose replied:

"When I am among the Romans, I fast as the Romans do; when I am at Milan I do not fast. Likewise you, wherever you be, observe the custom of the place if you would neither give offense to others nor take offense from them."

In Memoriam

Guy E. McEnelly — In loving memory of our dear husband and father who passed away Sept. 4, 1942:

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence he suffered,
In patience he bore,
'Till God called him home to suffer no more.
The flowers we placed upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But the love that lies within our hearts,
Will never, never fade away.

Sadly missed by his wife, children and parents. Mrs. Selma McEnelly, Betty and Raymond. 35p

SPORTSMEN'S CLUB TO HAVE PROGRAM TUESDAY EVENING

Movies Dealing with Scenes in Canada Will be Presented

The Pennington County Sportsmens club will hold its September session in the Civic and Commerce rooms next Tuesday evening, September 7, at 8 o'clock, Secy. Wm H. Borchert announced today.

The program will include the showing of motion pictures supplied by the Canadian National Railways dealing with muskie fishing, Canada geese and scenes in Alaska and the Yukon. Remaining trap load shells will also be sold at the meeting, Mr. Borchert said.

Lunch will be served at the close of the evening by a committee headed by Julien Provencher. The public is invited to attend.

Obey Law and Stop When School Bus Halts, Says Commissioner Hoffmann

In anticipation of the opening of school throughout the state next week, an appeal to motorists strictly to observe the law requiring them to stop when school buses are halted to load or unload passengers, was made today by M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways. Complaints have been received, he said, that many drivers failed to observe this law in the past school year.

This law is effective on all roads and streets outside of business and residential districts. It is applicable only when the buses have a plainly visible sign on the front and year with the words "School Bus" in letters not less than six inches in height. For the further guidance and protection of motorists, it is required that school buses be equipped with a swinging "Stop" signal arm, and that this arm be swung into an extended position when the bus is stopping and held in position until all pupils have crossed the road safely or entered the bus. School bus drivers are prohibited from using the "Stop" signal except when stopping to load or unload passengers. They are required, when stopping for any purpose whatsoever, to halt the bus as far to the right of the road as is reasonably safe.

Under the regulations of the department of highways and the department of education, pupils crossing the highway must do so under the supervision of the bus driver. They may be either personally conducted by him, or may pass around the front of the bus and be conducted across by the school bus patrol, if there is one, or they may cross upon command of the driver, who shall first make certain that no traffic is approaching.

Starring Janet Blair, Don Ameche and Jack Oakie, "Something to Shout About" will be presented at the Falls theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight prevue Saturday evening at 11:15. Others appearing in the musical production are William Gaxton and Cobina Wright Jr.

Tire Dealers May Obtain More Grade Three Tires, Fargo OPA Office States

Tire dealers throughout the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district who do not have an adequate supply of Grade 1 and Grade 3 tires to meet their demands may contact the district OPA office in Fargo, where an emergency clearing house service has been established, announced Harold W. Bangert, district director.

The tire shortage is so critical and the demands so high that many dealers are out of tires. Dealers who need additional Grade 3 tires and do not know a source of supply should contact the district OPA office for relief, even if they do not have B stubs.

Repair shops are processing Grade 3 tires daily and supplies can be diverted to shortage areas.

"If dealers will only contact this office," Mr. Bangert said, "we are confident a supply of Grade 3 tires can be shipped into their territory."

15-YEAR-OLD CHEVROLET WITH VIM AND VIGOR

Cokato.—With the power and ambition of a huge army tank the 15-year-old Chevrolet of Oscar Johnson cut capers aplenty recently. Giving the crank of the ancient vehicle a turn, the motor started with a bang and speed and determination. Across the road it went jumping two ditches, smashing two fences, thru the pasture, whisking through a grove of trees without so much as touching a limb. At last, it struck a ditch and barbed wire fence that put an end to the unexpected jaunt. Cause of the action: someone carelessly left the car in gear. Result: one flat tire and nearly one less gallon of gasoline.

YULE PARCELS FOR OVERSEAS SHOULD BE MAILED EARLY

Should be Placed in Mail between September 15 and October 15

The Christmas shopping season is here—even though the weather is still warm.

Mailing of gifts for army and navy personnel overseas must begin by September 15, if many of the men and women in our armed services are not to be disappointed; and September 15 is less than two weeks away.

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post to army men and women overseas only between September 15 and October 15. After the latter date, such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ask for a Christmas gift; so gifts must be mailed on time. The navy also urges that gifts be mailed between September 15 and October 15.

The only way to insure against disappointment for the fighting men is to buy at once and mail early—mail your gifts as soon as possible after the September 15 starting date.

Rules for Christmas mailings to the fighting forces overseas were made public in June for the guidance of early shoppers. They include:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas parcel" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

The parcel must be well and strongly packed, in a container of metal, wood, strong fiber board, or similar material, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. The cover should be such that it can be opened readily for censorship. The contents should be packed tightly.

Perishable goods, such as fruits that may spoil, are prohibited. Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Since the armed forces are being plentifully supplied with food and clothing, the Army and Navy recommend against these as gifts.

Addresses must be written clearly and completely. In addition to the return address of the sender, a parcel for an Army man should show the name, rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, Army post office number, and name of post office through which the parcel is routed.

The address on a parcel for a Navy man should include the name and rank or rating of the addressee, the Naval unit to which he is assigned, and the Navy number assigned thereto, or the name of his ship, and the fleet post office through which the parcel is routed.

Cases Against Blackout Ordinance Violators Are Continued until Sept. 27

Cases of seven local residents charged with violation of the city blackout ordinance at the time of the surprise blackout Tuesday night of last week were continued Friday in municipal court until September 27 on motion of City Attorney Theodore Quale. He recommended the delay in order to give the offenders time to arrange for the installation of outside switches, so that lights from signs and other places on the premises may be extinguished by air raid wardens if the proprietor is absent from the establishment when the next blackout occurs.

Austin Landsrud Dies Tuesday at Age of 59; Rites to be Saturday

Austin Lanarud, resident of Marshall county for the past 30 years, passed away at a local hospital Tuesday at the age of 59 years. Rev. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Recreation Highlights

Wednesday, August 25, was the last day camp of this season. 38 girls and boys accompanied their leader, Camille Dostal, to the tourist park. After cooking and eating their dinner in the open the group went on a hike into the woods. After returning to the camp site games were played. Beulah Carlson, Donnae Mae Ballingrud, Lou Provencher and Freddie Dablow won prizes for finding the Magic Spots.

Cash awards were given Patty Clinton and Junior Perkins for having attended each day camp this season.

Don't forget to make use of our community game room during school days. Pre-school children may come at 1:30.

Johnnie Wenberg had the misfortune of breaking his right arm last Tuesday morning. Although his arm is in a sling, he still comes to play with his many acquaintances in our game room.

Another teen-age dance will be held Friday evening, Sept. 3rd in the Auditorium, from 9-12. Come early please.

Harold Hanson's centerfield homerun, scoring three tallies, climaxed a six-run 5th inning rally for the West Side Tuesday evening, and gave the West Side a 7 to 5 win over the East Side team. Wayne Anderson, going in as a relief pitcher in the 4th inning, received credit for the win. The contest was called at the end of the 5th because of darkness.

The salary range for this class is $154.50 to $190.00 per month. BEAR IN THE BERRY PATCH

Hibbing.—It was a question who was more startled, the bear or the man, when Peter Sandberg and a big black bear discovered they were picking berries, side by side in a blueberry patch. Busily picking berries, Mr. Sandberg was aware of someone working close by and when he turned to observe his companion his hair literally stood up but the big black bear was perfectly unperturbed.

Keeping Score

Such Hitting

The season's final diamondball game was played Tuesday evening, an abbreviated affair, and as usual the West Side came up with the long end of the score, but they had to explode for six runs in the last inning before they could notch up the win. Wally DuChamp, who's a pretty fair pitcher when he's "on", hurled creditable ball and held a 4 to 1 lead going into the 5th inning, but after getting Bert Emanual on strikes, Lenny Lorentson pumped a homerun into centerfield, Ernie Hellquist flied out to Johnny Jaranson, Wayne Anderson connected for a triple and scored on Bob Baker's single, Gordy Reierson singled, Vern Tormoen also singled, scoring Baker with the tying run, and then "Hoople" Hanson drove the ball into the tennis court in right-center for a homerun and the game.

Batting Records

Taking a peek at the unofficial batting records, it's easy to see why the West Side team is ruler of the local d-ball roost. Such hitters! For instance, Gordy Reierson, the West Side captain, has been at the plate 42 times and has hit safely 21 times, for a .500 average. Vern Tormoen, with 18 hits in 41 trips to the plate, has a .439 mark; while Ernie Hellquist, with 9 hits in 21 tries, has a .429 average. Herman Kjos, with 10 bingles in 31 times at bat, has an average of .323. Harold "Hoople" Hanson, who has seen service on both the West and East Side teams, has the highest individual mark, a .582, having garnered 14 hits in 24 times at bat. Wayne Anderson and Bert Emanuel have marks of .242 and .206, respectively. With such hitters in the West Side lineup it's lucky that the East Siders were able to finish the series without having some of their infielders maimed and crippled!

Wally DuChamp, the East Side's "power" hitter, managed to scratch above the .300 mark, getting 12 hits in 39 times at bat, for a .308 average. Bob Carlson, until he joined the navy, was the team's leading hitter, having a .500 average. Garmo Jensen picked up a few hits in 20 times at bat, closing with .150 average. Oh yes, Goose Gulseth played in one game, was at bat twice, no hits, for a .000 average.

Limbering-up Exercises

Coach Glenn Hanna has been sending a small squad of Prowler football hopefuls through early season practice drills on the high school athletic field. Captain Norm Furuseth heads the list of reporting lettermen, others being Tony Dorn, Art Forsberg, Bob Baker, Herb Claffy, and Chuck Richards. Several of the lettermen that will be available this fall are employed out of town and probably won't report for practice for a week or two.

The practice sessions, which are being held in the evening, are devoted largely to aerial drills, passing, and punting, with the "heavy" work being slated to get under way next week. The season's opener is scheduled to be played at Red Lake Falls on Sept. 24th.

Eddie McMillan in Town

Eddie McMillan, center-ice man on the local hockey team in 1940-41, when the Thieves won the States-Dominion hockey league title, has been visiting in town for several days. Eddie is in the RCAF, being a mechanic, and is stationed in Winnipeg. Eddie reports that Freddy Gustafson has been given a medical discharge from the Canadian army, having a chronic elbow injury; and he adds a detail to the George Beverley death, saying that the plane in which Bev was a crew member, exploded in mid-air over the Bay of Fundy. Joe Novak is also in the Canadian army, being somewhere in British Columbia; while Jimmy Bronson, in the RCAF, is reported to be in the vicinity of Winnipeg.

If You Move, Drivers License Needs Renewal

If you move on September 1, or any other time, it will be necessary to get a renewal of your driver's license within 30 days. This year, however, you can kill two birds with one stone, for your old driver's license will expire on your next birthday anyway. If you get a new license when you move, it will expire on your birthday in the fourth year after the date of issue. For instance, if your birthday is November 15 and you move and get a new license in September, it will be good until November 15, 1947.

JUDD SAYS U. S. MUST FIND NEW MARKETS ABROAD

Minnesota Congressman Addresses Audience at State Fair

Sketching prospects that face America after the war, Representative Walter H. Judd, Minnesota fifth district congressman, in an address featuring Republican Day at the state fair this week said that this country must have new foreign markets to maintain its present living standards and that it can get these markets and any long-term prosperity only through political security in the world.

Political security can be obtained, he said, only by cooperative effort on the part of nations, with machinery to settle their disputes peacefully and a police force to prevent aggression. America, he said, must take the lead in forming such an organization and making it effective.

When the war ends, America will be left with an enormously overbuilt plant, agricultural and industrial, the Minnesota congressman said. Drastic reduction of this plant would throw millions out of work, just when employment is needed most, and plunge the nation into deep depression, he continued. The only way to keep agriculture and industry in full production after the war, he said, is to find and create new markets. All the development that can be made in home markets will not be sufficient, he said.

Turning to possibilities for new markets abroad, Representative Judd said: "Half the people of the world live in Asia, and they are just beginning their industrial revolution; just beginning to learn to use machines to increase their production and raise their standard of living. They need and want the things that Americans can give them."

HORSE'S TAIL STOPS THRESHING MACHINE

Wadena.—Lost on the Herman Thalmann farm, one horses tail and 30 minutes of valuable time! Frisking flies, the tail wrapped around and snapped the new four-inch belt on the threshing machine in two. Stunned for a few minutes and minus all the hair in its tail the animal went on with its work in a half hour.

GARAGE MEN RESCUE COW

Nashwauk.—A job ticket in the shop of a local motor sales company added a queer reading job ticket to its file a few days ago. The ticket reads: Type, Guernsey; motor number, couldn't locate; license number, not tagged; speedometer reading; nil. All of which describes the job which the garage men took care of at the Joe Martire farm when they removed a cow from the bottom of the well with their crane.

COLLECTOR TELLS ABOUT TAX REPORT DUE SEPTEMBER 15

Most Taxpayers Not Required to File Return, Says Reynolds

Arthur D. Reynolds, collector of internal revenue, announced today that 712,000 copies of the declaration of estimated income for the calendar year 1943 had been mailed out to taxpayers in the Minnesota district. It is estimated that 240,000 taxpayers in the district will be required under the current payment tax act of 1943 to file the form, on or before September 15 and make payment of at least half the amount of the balance of 1943 tax estimated to be due at that time.

While most taxpayers will not be required to file the declaration, Collector Reynolds said, because they are paying their tax in full through the withholding deductions made by their employers, he urged all taxpayers to read carefully the instruction sheets which accompanied the forms to determine whether they are required to make a declaration, so as to avoid penalties for either failure to file or for making substantial underestimates of 1943 income.

Many persons do not realize, Collector Reynolds said, that the withholding tax does not automatically make all persons current on their 1943 incomes. Generally speaking, single persons earning over $2700 a year or married persons earning over $3500 a year; those with outside incomes, such as from dividends, interest, rents, professional fees or business profits, and those classes not subject to withholdings, such as persons in the armed forces, clergymen, domestic servants and farm labor, will all be required to file declarations in order to place all taxpayers on an equal footing.

"If there is doubt in any one's mind as to whether he or she will have to file a declaration," Collector Reynolds said, "I suggest that they communicate with this office at the earliest opportunity, and we will be glad to help them."

From where I sit ...
by Joe Marsh

We were sittin' on Bill Webster's back porch Saturday complaining of the heat.

"Reckon this is the hottest day on record," Homer Bentley observes. "And the thirstiest," says Bill, taking a long draught of buttermilk.

That got us on the subject of thirst-quenchers — and Bill allowed as how nothing was as cooling as a tall, cold glass of buttermilk. Thad Phibbs and I both voted for a glass o' cool refreshing beer. Dan Miles said he'd take iced tea, "with a sprig o' mint in it."

"Anyway," says Bill, "we all got a right to our own tastes ... and that ought to leave everybody happy."

And from where I sit, Bill's right. It's a small point of course —but tolerance of what the other fellow likes—and his right to enjoy it—whether it's buttermilk or beer—is the important thing in any argument.

THE 3rd WAR LOAN DRIVE STARTS —TO BACK THE INVASION!

What you will be asked to do—

MARK WELL the date—Thursday, September 9th. For on that day, you must answer to your country's call.

On that day, the 3rd War Loan Drive opens. To you—and to every other true American—a clarion call goes forth to rally to the support of our flag.

You will be asked to back our fighting forces to the very limit of your resources. You will be asked to go ALL-OUT FOR INVASION by investing in EXTRA War Bonds—more War Bonds than you perhaps think you can possibly afford.

To meet the national quota, every individual in the country who earns a wage or draws an income or has accumulated funds must invest, if he possibly can, in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond. Those who can, must invest more—thousands of dollars' worth more. Each and every one must do his full part.

Scrape up the money from every source you can . . . turn in all the loose cash you carry with you . . . dig out what you had tucked away "just in case." Go without pleasures, luxuries, even necessities this September. And give our fighting men the things they need to fight with—and win.

These men are throwing everything they have into this fierce invasion push. They are giving their blood, their lives. No one can put a price on such courage, self-sacrifice, devotion. But you can show you're with them to the limit! You can say it with Bonds . . . EXTRA Bonds this month.

World's Safest Investments

For this 3rd War Loan, you will be offered your choice of various government securities. Choose the one that fits your requirements.

United States War Savings Bonds Series "E": gives you back $4 for every $3 when the bond matures. Interest: 2.9% a year, compounded semiannually, if held to maturity. Denominations: $25, $50, $100, $500, $1,000. Redemption: Anytime 60 days after issue date. Price: 75% of maturity value.

2½% Treasury Bonds of 1964-1969: readily marketable, acceptable as bank collateral. Redeemable at par and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated September 15, 1943; due December 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. Price: par and accrued interest.

Other securities: Series "C" Savings Notes; ⅞% Certificates of Indebtedness; 2% Treasury Bonds of 1951-1953; United States Savings Bonds series "F"; United States Savings Bonds series "G".

AMUNDSON & LEE DISPLAY SERVICE MEN PHOTO'S

During the past week Amundson & Lee displayed a grand array of photographs of the young men who are serving Uncle Sam's fighting forces from this vicinity. Much interest was shown by the public as they viewed the ninety-one pictures that were displayed in a very pleasing manner in the Amundson & Lee display window. A small card on each photo showed what unit each man belonged to and where they were stationed. They were unable to get photos of about a dozen more men from this vicinity who are in the service.

No wonder we miss all these men, and all the young and older men who are away working in defense plants. But, those who miss them most are the men who entered the service at the first part of the war, when they come home on furloughs. We hope that very soon all these young men will be back to live the life they are fighting for, freedom for the whole world.

Mound.—Fine, it was for a local barber shop to present each shave customer with a fresh cucumber. Sounded like a novel business-building idea but it is rumored that the business-building angle was subordinate to the barber's pride in proving to townsfolk that he is a successful Victory Gardener!

ENROLLMENT IN LOCAL SCHOOLS IS UP SLIGHTLY

Total of 1474 Pupils Present on Opening Day Tuesday

LINCOLN SCHOOL HAS ENROLLMENT OF 739

St. Hilaire High School Is Closed; Pupils Coming to This City

With all but one faculty member on duty, the Thief River Falls public schools opened Thursday morning after the summer recess, with a first-day enrollment totaling 1484, compared to 1445 on the corresponding day last year, Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted announced.

Lincoln junior-senior high school had a total enrollment of 759, 16 more than in 1942, and including 380 students in junior high and 389 in the three grades of senior high school.

As a result of a last-minute decision of the St. Hilaire board of education not to operate the high school there this year due to the impossibility of securing a teaching staff, 57 students from that district are being transported to the high school here. But for this fact, the enrollment in the Lincoln school would have shown a substantial decline from last year's figures.

Enrollment by schools was as follows on the first day:

	1943	1942
High school	759	743
Knox school	246	251
Northrop	256	236
Washington	224	215
	1484	1445

The Knox school shows a decline of six pupils compared to last year, while Northrop registered a gain of 20 and Washington increased by nine. Kindergarten classes included a total of 83 pupils.

Classroom work was proceeding smoothly Wednesday, with minor adjustments still being in progress. Mrs. Alex Campbell is serving temporarily as a high school instructor during the absence on account of illness of Mrs. Blanche G. Korstad.

The faculty otherwise is complete with the exception of a teacher training instructor, who has not yet been engaged owing to a lack of the minimum of eight students required in order to secure state aid.

New teachers met Monday afternoon with Principal W. G. Claffy and Miss Lyda Batten, while that evening the entire faculty was entertained at a reception by members of the board of education and their wives. Dr. A. E. Jacobson, president of the board, extended a welcome to the group and Supt. Fjelsted spoke briefly.

Local Honey Producer Also Awarded Sweepstakes at Exposition

Pennington county and Northwestern Minnesota gained further recognition at the Minnesota state fair last week for their prominent role as a center of the apiary industry when George Gessner of this community won six blue ribbons representing top honors with his exhibits in the various classifications.

His exhibits also won four second-place ribbons, and in addition he was awarded the sweepstakes for having won the most first prizes of all contestants, as well as the reserve sweepstakes for winning the largest amount of premiums.

Included in Mr. Gessner's entries at the exposition were comb honey, extracted honey of various types, bees and beeswax. He achieved a similar record at the 1942 fair.

County 4-H Members Do Well at State Fair

Twenty-three Pennington county 4-H club boys and girls returned last week from the Minnesota state fair along with Pennington county club leader Leola Myra and County Agent Ernest Palmer, where they participated in demonstrations and exhibited various projects.

Because of the fact that the state was divided into two divisions and the judging of exhibits and demonstrations at the fair, placements have not been announced in all classes. Pennington county club members were there during the first part of the fair and the scores on their demonstrations and most of the exhibits were in direct competition with those of the later part of the fair program.

Exhibits on which known placements were given are as follows: Ruth Meyer of the Steiner 4-H club, state championship in the thrift project; Donna Moquin of the Goodridge 4-H club won a third prize ribbon on a cotton dress; Ardith Evenson of the Northfield 4-H club won a second prize ribbon on a dressmaker suit; Laura Jorde of the Northfield 4-H club won a second prize ribbon in the state style revue.

The following 4-H club members either exhibited or demonstrated at the fair: Mathilda Paulson, simple foods demonstration; Donald Knutson and Clyde Christenson, farm work (dairy) demonstration; Bernice Halvorson, low-cost meals demonstration; Ruth Meyer and Ardith Copp, dairy foods demonstration; Mary Ann Oski and Lucille Williams, bread demonstration; Helen Hardisty, dehydration of vegetables demonstration; Orville Jensen, conservation of wild-life demonstration; Melvin Vigen, paint demonstration; Bert Vigen, concrete demonstration; Yvonne Walsburg and Louise Finstad, farm service (paint) demonstration. Doris Williams and Hilton McMahon were health contestants. The following four boys received trips on their project work: Keith Jorde, Harold Brandon, Raymond Culkins and Allan Paulson.

CHANGES IN POINT RATION CHART ARE MADE SEPTEMBER 5

Creamery Butter Requires 2 Points More; Meat Points Reduced

Creamery butter rose two points in ration stamp value, effective September 5. At the same time, 35 different cuts of meats were lowered in stamp value, with a tendency to even off the red stamp expenditures.

Four types of canned fruits rose in ration value, while six canned vegetables were lowered. Frozen foods generally were raised, in an effort to discourage shoppers from buying them too fast.

Dried prunes, raisins and currants were again put on the ration list, at a value of four points a pound.

Expectations of seven per cent more meat for civilians this month, according to OPA officials make it possible to reduce stamp value one or two points on several types of beef roasts and steaks, lamb and bacon.

Country farm churned butter is cut in point value from 10 to 6 points a pound, in an effort to get more of it to market. Farmers who sell country churned butter must collect ration stamps for it, and surrender them to the local war price and rationing board, reporting monthly on OPA form R-1609.

Canned pears, peaches, cranberries or cranberry sauce and apples were raised two or three points. Vegetables lowered in point value are canned beans, beets and carrots, and the No. 2½ size of canned tomatoes.

ITALY GIVES UP IN WAR AGAINST ALLIED POWERS

Unconditional Surrender Is Announced Wednesday by Gen. Eisenhower

NAZI FORCES MUST BE DRIVEN FROM ITALY

Armistice Had Previously Been Signed Friday in Sicily

The most encouraging development in the war to date was the unconditional surrender of Italy to the Allied Nations, announced late Wednesday morning by General Dwight D. Eisenhower at Allied headquarters in North Africa.

The announcement was coupled with an appeal to the Italian people to drive the Germans from their soil and a promise of help from the Allies in doing so.

There is, however, a powerful German army in Italy, giving prospect of a hard battle and no hope that all of Italy will fall to the Allies without resistance.

General Badoglio of Italy in a proclamation called on his soldiers to cease fighting the British and Americans anywhere, but to fight Germans if they attack Italians.

The military armistice approved also by Russia, actually was signed in Sicily last Friday on the day Italy was invaded, with the stipulation it would "come into force at a moment most favorable to the Allies."

"That moment has now arrived," headquarters asserted.

Thus was Hitler's continental bastion breached and the war shortened by this greatest of Allied triumphs. Eisenhower pledged the aid of the United Nations to Italians who help to "eject the German aggressor."

Allied bombers immediately roared over the war-weary nation, dropping pamphlets declaring that "backed by the might of the Allies, Italy now has the opportunity of taking vengeance on the German oppressor and of aiding in the expulsion of the internal enemy from Italian soil."

It called on workers to prevent the movement of German troops or supplies by ship, rail or road and Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, Allied naval commander, broadcast an appeal to seamen to save their vessels from Germans who "have become the open enemy of the Italian people and intend to seize your ships."

Official statements here did not specifically say Allied forces would occupy Italy but the assertion that they would smash at the Germans in Italy made this seem obvious.

Italy accepted all the terms imposed by the Allies—they were not disclosed—and will be obliged to "comply with political, economic and financial conditions" which will be imposed later.

Mercury Slumps Close to Frost Mark Today; Hits Low Point of 34

Furnace fires became the order of the day Monday when the mercury dropped to 40, according to the official weather reporting station now maintained at the fire hall. Low marks reached the following days were 40 on Tuesday, 41 on Wednesday and 34 this morning, the high mark Wednesday afternoon being 56. Rainfall totaling .16 inch fell Monday, while .23 inch more fell in a drizzling rain Tuesday.

Tire Rations Unchanged for the Current Month

The number of new and used passenger car and truck tires available for rationing during September remains virtually unchanged from August figures, according to quotas for rationing districts released by OPA. OPA also warned that the shortage of new truck tires is increasing in seriousness and instructed local rationing boards to issue certificates for used rather than new truck tires wherever possible.

CONGRESSMAN IS SPEAKER AT LIONS CLUB WEDNESDAY

Harold Hagen of Crookston Reports on District Sentiment

Harold Hagen, of Crookston, Ninth district congressman, who, in company with his secretary, Fay G. Child, conferred with local citizens Wednesday in the Civic and Commerce room, was the guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Palm Garden Cafe.

Reporting on the situation in Washington, Mr. Hagen said that when he left there two months ago, informed opinion was to the effect that the war in Europe might be expected to end within six months to a year, and he added that the unconditional surrender of Italy, just announced, bore out that conviction. The war in the Pacific, he said, may last two or three years longer.

Deploring the large number of farm auctions scheduled for the fall months, Mr. Hagen also discussed what he termed the unsatisfactory situation of northwest farmers due to inadequate price levels, shortages of help and equipment and other obstacles.

TRINITY SUNDAY SCHOOL RESUMES SESSIONS SEP. 12

Confirmation Classes Also to Begin Studies Next Saturday

With the resumption of classes in the public schools this week, the teaching program of many local churches also enters its full stride. In Trinity Lutheran church plans for the care of some 400 young people in the Sunday school are being completed at a meeting tomorrow evening of the teaching and administrative staffs, numbering about 40.

When classes begin next Sunday at 9:40 A. M. the facilities of the church, at Horace and Fourth Streets, are expected to be taxed to the limit. Teachers for 36 classes have volunteered again this year for their important function in the program of the church. The schedule of classes begins with four-year-olds and carries through to a four-year high school course leading to graduation. The first class in this course is expected to graduate next spring.

Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor of the church, also announced the beginning of classes leading to confirmation. Beginners will register on Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock, with the second year class convening at 10:00. "Our two-year course of catechetical instruction begins with the eight grade year of the public schools", he stated. "We urge every young person to attend such classes in his own church; but we invite those who have no church affiliation to avail themselves of our facilities."

Eighty Solicitors Commence City Campaign This Morning

PENNINGTON GOAL IS PLEDGES OF $558,500

County Treasurer to Invest $15,000 in War Bonds This Week

Inspired by a feeling of optimism regarding the attainment of their objective, a small army of eighty solicitors in Thief River Falls, together with scores of others thruout Pennington county, this morning launched a campaign to attain the county's quota of $558,500 in the third war loan drive now in progress thruout the nation.

The local solicitors started their rounds after receiving final instructions from Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman, at a breakfast meeting in the Palm Garden Cafe. Each team has been assigned to its particular zone in the city.

Mr. Lundgren announced that the county board gave an impetus to the start of the campaign by authorizing County Treasurer A. R. Johnsrud this week to invest $15,000 in war bonds. The funds include $10,000 in road and bridge fund reserves and $5,000 in reserves in various other funds.

With several teams starting their solicitation in the rural areas last Sunday, Chairman Lundgren stated that individual subscriptions have already been turned in aggregating $11,375, and he added that the solicitors expressed confidence that their township quotas would be attained.

Mrs. Marjorie Kiland, county co-chairman, has been assigned the task of tabulating the reports of bond purchases, and will make her first report in the next issue of the Times. Credit will be given in the campaign for all purchases from September 1 to October 1 inclusive.

"People should realize," said Mr. Lundgren, "that when a fellow American calls on them to sell war bonds; the solicitor is neglecting his job or his business to make the call. He is just a volunteer, a fellow citizen, who is trying to do his part in his own way to help win the war."

A True Conversation

BETWEEN GENERAL MARSHALL AND SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY MORGENTHAU

General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, U. S. Army

"Mr. Secretary, can we military leaders plan to fight this war in an orderly way—in the surest and most effective manner—or must we take extraordinary risks for fear the money will not hold out?"

"General, the American people will take care of that. They will not let our fighters suffer from lack of support until we achieve complete victory, no matter how long that may take, nor how much it may cost!"

ITALY OUT

That was great news that came over the airwaves yesterday, announcing that Italy had surrendered unconditionally last Friday. There no doubt will be some hard fighting there before the remaining German forces are driven out, but not on the scale there would have been had the Italian army added to our difficulties. To the rank and file of the people of that nation our armies will bring peace and food and a speedy return to normal living, and it is likely our boys will be well received right from the start.

Italy's collapse as a war machine probably will be followed by increased trouble for the Germans in the Balkans. It will now be a comparatively simple problem to give assistance to the armies of Yugoslavia who have held out stubbornly against the aggressors. With just a little encouragement it is expected that the people of the Balkans will rise in open rebellion, and the possibility that the armies of these satellite Balkan states may turn against him is another thought that probably is causing Hitler to wonder why he ever gave up paper-hanging.

Where the next blow will be landed is anybody's guess. The only thing about that next blow that is fairly certain is that it is already pretty well under way. Its location may be anywhere from Norway to Crete and in all probability, wherever it is, it will be successful. Encouraging thing about it is that while the rapid progress of our blitz keeps us somewhat confused we know that it is more confusing to the enemy.

Ike Eisenhower will soon be getting mention as a presidential possibility along with Doug MacArthur. And neither of them should be overlooked as possibilities. If the war ends as soon as it seems likely it will, the soldier vote is going to be an important factor in the next election, and soldiers are going to vote for the candidate they believe will be most considerate of their problems. Most of our wars have put a successful soldier in the president's chair. The last war really was an exception to the rule so based on what has happened in the past it isn't unreasonable to say that the next president probably will be a hero of the present war. Much depends upon how soon the war ends.

Uncle Sam is asking for a loan of fifteen billion dollars. There are more than fifteen billion dollars of idle money in the country and the loan will probably be oversubscribed. Our quota in Pennington County is large but in terms of idle money in our community that should be put to work, we should be able to subscribe our share. In the prosecution of the war we apparently are on the home stretch. We don't know how long the fracas is going to last but the end is in sight. With victory practically assured, Uncle Sam's credit should be better than it was in the more doubtful days of a year ago. Government bonds can be bought now with greater assurance of them being redeemed than was the case after Pearl Harbor. W have reasonable assurance now that the dollar is not going to be replaced by either the mark or the yen. So let's dig deep and buy what we can buy.

Topics of the Times

If Pennington county attains its quota in the third war loan drive opening today—and there is no good reason why it shouldn't, it will mean nearly $50 has been invested in war bonds for every man, woman and child in the county.

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

Sam Abernathy's the Chief Rumor-Spiker in our town.

If a stranger gets off something like—"I hear they've sunk the S.S. Bumblebee," Sam starts pinning him down. Did he really see it? Where's the evidence?

Because Sam knows, like the rest of us, that nine-tenths of the "inside news" passed around by careless folk isn't rumor—it's lies planted by the Axis to destroy American morale.

Take those rumors about drinking in our Army Camps. Actual, official facts from the government's own Office of War Information showed there wasn't a shred of truth in 'em.

The boys enjoy a glass of beer occasionally—same as a lot of us do!

And from where I sit, they're proving themselves the healthiest, best-disciplined bunch of fighting men in history, like the OWI report stated. That's good enough for me.

OPA Community Service Bulletin

The Home Front campaign is scheduled to get under way September 13th in Goodridge, St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls. The rural campaign will begin at a later date. As soon as the material arrives, it will be distributed among the Victory Aides, who are to conduct the campaign.

C. E. Broughton, Editor of The Sheboygan Press has written a very fine article on Consumer Cooperation in Price Control. His article has the title "You, Too, Must Carry A Gun" and the following paragraphs are excerpts from the article:

While our soldiers are fighting with an optimism unequalled in all history, determined that victory will be achieved, we here at home are willing to rest on our oar and say: "Let George do it" That is not the American Spirit or the way to win a victory. We have no right to shirk our responsibilities, or to weaken the home front by complaining about our hardships. If we were to lose the war we would lose all that we hold sacred.

We have got to build morale to a point where every home is a pillar of strength, a support to the fighting forces. Not only must we pledge our support to rationing but see that every attempt at a black market is frustrated and the offenders brought into court. We have no regret to cheat in this all out effort to win the war.

Every restrictive order of the government is a weapon placed in your hands to win the war. Don't misuse or abuse any of these privileges if you want to see our boys back in the shortest space of time.

Think these things through and pledge your support, and you will be carrying a gun on the home front, equally powerful as the gun that kills the enemy at the fighting front.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

Surgical Dressings Have Arrived —Workers Needed

The late arrival of the August-September quota of surgical dressings has necessitated an urgent call for Red Cross workers who will volunteer their services in helping to finish this quota in the remaining two weeks of September. We have been informed by headquarters that the new October-November quota will arrive on time so there will be no time to spare.

Most everyone in Pennington county has some relative or friend in the armed forces and we know that helping out with Red Cross work is just one little way we can show our interest in backing up the war effort, and thus help our boys in bringing victory that much sooner. There are 30,000 dressings of 2 by 2's that the Pennington County Chapter has as its quota for September. This includes St. Hilaire and Goodridge who are doing their share in completing their quota on time.

We are urging the churches to announce the importance of workers who are asked to begin their services Monday afternoon. The same schedule of hours is being followed that was used in the past, and although churches are assigned to different days it does not mean that members have to use that day only.

The work room in the Auditorium will be open on Monday through Friday afternoons from 2 to 5 P. M., and on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 P. M. Monday evening is an open night, so we are inviting public school teachers, business women and school girls to use this opportunity to donate their time for this worthwhile project. A ten cent lunch will be served by various church organizations.

The working schedule is as follows: Monday afternoons, Trinity Lutheran church. Monday evenings, open. Tuesday afternoons, Zion Lutheran church and community church. Wednesday afternoons, Mission Covenant and First Baptist. Thursday afternoons, St. Bernard and Evangelical Free. Thursday evenings, St. John's Lutheran. Friday afternoons, First Lutheran. Workers must carry a freshly laundered house dress or uniform inside a package besides a headdress that will cover the hair. There is a dressing room in the basement where changes are made and also a place to wash hands.

With the Victory Aides

By Mrs. W. R. Ferber
Publicity Chairman

At a Victory Aide meeting held August 27 at which Mrs. Jeanette Wright presided, a county nursing sub-committee was set up. This meeting was called by Miss Ann Sward, the county nurse who explained the nursing program and the need of the Victory Aide to call attention to the needs in her blocks to the county nurse.

Mrs. T. Brokke was appointed chairman and others named to serve are: Mrs. H. F. Harrison, vice chairman; Mrs. Millard Peterson, publicity chairman; Mrs. Milton Starckow, secretary; Mrs. Abbie Wassgren, program chairman. The group will meet every other month.

Miss Sward discussed communicable diseases and Mrs. Paul Lundgren explained the Home Front Pledge campaign which will start some time this month.

Mrs. Loran Lord will arrive today from Duluth to spend the remainder of the week with her sister, Mrs. Harry Glander. Mrs. Glander will leave next Sunday for her new home in Berkeley, Calif.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

A. F. Jones, local trapshooter, returned this week from the Grand American trapshooting tournament at Vandalia, Ohio, and he reports that the tourney was considered a success, with approximately 850 shooters entering the various events, with the big turnout being on the final day. Jack came very close to copping the tournament's top prize, the Grand American Handicap, but he ran into some gusts of wind during his last round and missed six "birds". In the Preliminary, Jack had scores of 24-24-24-24, for a fine 96, and in the Handicap the next day, shooting from the 22-yard line, Jack opened with 24-24-25 (and the winner scored a 97, so all Jack needed was 24 for a tie and a 25 for a win, and at the pace that he had been shooting such a score was probable) but then the weather kicked up some squalls that upset the clays and he had to do some hard shooting to post a 19, for a 92. Jack was satisfied with his shooting in the tournament, but it surely would have been fine to have won the handicap.

Heinie's in North Africa

Or at least he was there in April, for I received a V-mail letter this week from Pfc. Henry "Heinie" Wange, written from a rest base in North Africa in April, and he sends greetings to all his friends, and especially to his old diamondball manager Ole Ness, Wally DuChamp, Chuck Dostal, Paul Dahl, and Abby Jaranson. Heinie states that he has seen quite a bit of action and has been subjected to bombing and shell-fire. As the letter was written before the conquest of Sicily, it's fair to assume that Heinie was in that action, too.

Bowling Prospects

"If those fellows say there are hills and dales in Oscar's alleys this year, they don't know what they're talking about." That was Ed Carlson's comment after he had finished an inspection of the Mint alleys this week. The sanders had completed the job of shaving the alleys, and it was Ed's job to see that the lanes were level and ready for the shellac.

Local bowlers will probably be calling an association meeting shortly, for the purpose of organizing leagues for the coming season. With the selective service continuing to pick off local keglers, some difficulty will be encountered in securing teams, but it should be possible to organize at least a couple of leagues. And there has been some talk of forming a doubles circuit, composed of sixteen or eighteen bowlers, paired into doubles and meeting on a handicap basis. A circuit like that would engender some first-rate bowling competition. Maybe it's worth a try.

Red-hot Golfing Enthusiasts

The local golf club membership list will perhaps be increased by three members next year. That is, if Fred Lorentson, Bush Hallstrom, and Hank Storhaug continue to show the interest in golf that they have shown the past few weeks. In fact, they have nearly paid half-year membership dues in green fees.

That three-some has had some rollicking times over the course, and the strange part of their play is that Hank Storhaug, who has the use of only his left arm, has developed into the best player of the trio. At least he's been collecting the nickels. One day last week the boys were out, playing on a nickel-a-hole basis, and in eleven holes played, Hank won eleven nickels from Fred and Bush. They didn't win a hole, and Bush was ready to throw his clubs in the river and Fred was wondering why he even gave up fishing! Hank, though, has been playing some surprisingly fine golf, having had rounds of 46 and 50, and if he becomes a bit more dexterous around the greens he's going to "surprise some of the boys", as Hans Chommie said after he had witnessed Hank's playing.

BRANDT SUMMONS MEETING OF U. S. MILK PRODUCERS

Conclave Will Study Means of Avoiding Fluid Milk Rationing

An emergency meeting of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation will convene in Washington, D. C., Sept. 28, 29 and 30, in answer to a call issued today by John Brandt of Minneapolis, federation president, to consider a crisis in the nation's dairy production.

A critical shortage in the nation's milk supply has resulted in the need for the emergency meeting, Brandt announced.

Ways and means of avoiding point rationing of fluid milk and of combatting drastic shortages and inequitable distribution of butter, cheese, cream and other dairy products will be discussed by representatives of dairy farmers from the 72 Federation units in 41 states.

Brandt declared that the session will endeavor to formulate a program to help government officials correct the maladjustments of dairying prices and alleviate the conditions that are hampering American dairy farmers in their efforts to produce at full efficiency in a time of war.

We're Putting Our Front Page News Aside—

To Urge Your Support

WE KNOW YOU will not mind turning to page 9 for your front page news when you realize that we have given the best position in our paper, space that money cannot buy, for an announcement that means a great deal to all of us. We are giving this space to emphasize the importance of the call the government is making to citizens of America to "Back The Attack With War Bonds." We are using this space to urge every man, woman and child of our community to support this 3rd War Loan to the utmost of their buying ability.

Reports from the war fronts are most encouraging these days. Italy has been knocked out of the war. We now know that we are winning. The men and women in the armed forces are doing a splendid job. On land, on the seas and in the air they are doing their glorious bit.

Do you think there's an American in uniform who doesn't know what he's fighting for? Or an American hero, "killed in action" who didn't know what he was dying for? No men could fight as they are fighting, sacrifice as they are sacrificing, if they were not inspired by a determination that the privileges of living in a democracy shall be made secure — driven on by the fear of what defeat would mean.

Our spirit at home should be no different. The cause for which men fight and die is the cause for which we live and work. The boy who dies on the battlefield doesn't think of himself a martyr, and it isn't in the spirit of martyrdom that each of us is called upon to make a far lesser sacrifice.

We are not asked to die. We are not asked to march with a full pack thirty miles; or walk over mined fields or sail torpedo infested waters or fly through flak riddled sky. We are asked only to remain at home and stick to our jobs—and do without a few things that we can deny ourselves without any real hardship.

And finally, in the name of every American hero, killed, wounded or very much alive, we are asked to buy bonds with the money we do not need for the essentials of life. Compared with what they asked of men in the armed forces, they ask little of us.

The men in the service are doing their bit splendidly. They expect us to do ours. If you have any friend or relative in the service—and who hasn't—you surely will not let him down now.

Reports from the war fronts are most encouraging these days. We are winning the war. But it isn't won yet. The period of greatest sacrifice probably is still ahead of us. Let us not falter now.

Proclamation

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES

Proclamation

RECOGNIZING THE FACT that in carrying the war into enemy territory, we shall need greater amounts of money than any nation has ever asked from its citizens in all history, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do officially proclaim that on Thursday, the ninth of September, 1943, the Third War Loan shall be launched.

As Commander-in-Chief, I hereby invoke every citizen to give all possible aid and support to this Third War Loan drive, not only so that our financial goal may be reached, but to encourage and inspire those of our husbands and fathers and sons who are under fire on a dozen fronts all over the world. It is my earnest hope that every American will realize that in buying War Bonds in this Third War Loan he has an opportunity to express voluntarily and under the guidance of his conscience, the extent to which he will "back the attack."

The American people supported well the first and second War Loan drives and in fact did even more than was asked of them. Our need for money now is greater than ever, and will continue to grow until the very day that Victory is won; so we must ask far more sacrifice, far more cooperation than ever before.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington, this twenty-sixth day of July, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-three, and of the Independence of the [SEAL] United States of America the one hundred and sixty-eighth.

By the President:
CORDELL HULL
Secretary of State.

RELIEF BURDEN IN MINNESOTA SHOWS NOTABLE DECLINE

Number of Cases Drops Nearly 25 Per Cent in Past Two Years

Reflecting increased employment and improved economic conditions, the number of persons assisted by general relief and other welfare services through the welfare boards of the state has declined materially in the past two years, Bernhard W. LeVander, state director of the division of social welfare, reported this week.

The number of cases in old age assistance, aid to dependent children; aid to blind, disabled war veterans relief and general relief being handled by the welfare boards of the state has decreased from 107,498 to 81,662 in the past two years, LeVander said. This is a decline of more than 24 per cent.

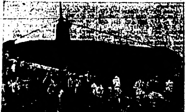
County welfare board staffs have declined even more sharply, LeVander said. Total personnel of the 88 agencies has dropped from 1,791 to 1,149 in the past two years, or about 36%, he said.

Competition of other employment has been a major factor in bringing about extreme reduction in agency staffs, LeVander said. An alarming shortage has developed in the number of person qualified and interested in welfare work, he pointed out, and many of the welfare boards feel they are handicapped by the shortage of help. The reduction in case loads and agency staffs has been the greatest in the urban counties, but even the rural counties have experienced a marked decline.

WHO BELIEVES DOGS HAVE SIXTH SENSE?

Benson. — A rousing argument may be started any time at a gathering of sportsmen and dog lovers on that question. But this story proves they do have a sixth sense. When County Attorney Frank Bernard went into active duty as a lieutenant in the marine corps early this year he left his devoted golden Labrador hunting dog at a farm four miles north of town. Since then Tom has made four week-end visits to his wife and son here in town. Never has Barney strayed from his farm except those four times that his master has returned for week-ends.

Japanese Sub at Crookston Sept. 18



America's first trophy captured after the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Japanese two-man submarine, will visit Crookston on September 18 on a nation-wide tour which has taken it to both coasts and through the south and middle west.

The sub, which is mounted on a tractor-trailer, is 94 feet long, 15 feet wide when the catwalks are in place, 12 feet high, and 76,500 pounds in weight. It is the property of the United States government.

It is slated to arrive in Crookston at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 18, and will be on display from that hour until closing. Admission to the catwalks will be the purchase of a war bond. Crookston is one of only 28 cities in the state which is on the itinerary.

Purchase of War Bonds Helps Avoid Inflation, Taxpayers Chief Says

Purchase of war bonds in the September war bond drive by every citizen in the country would offer an effective check on inflation at this particular time, declared James P. McDonnell, of Buffalo, president of Minnesota Taxpayers association, in a statement issued today.

"Diverting excess funds from current civilian spending to war purposes would ease buying competition for scarce commodities and thus make it easier to effect control of prices of such commodities," McDonnell pointed out. This would help to "hold the line" and conceivably would make new and heavier taxes less imperative as a means of skimming off surplus war earnings.

BACK THE ATTACK

The Third War Loan—starting September 9—gives all us stay-at-homes another chance to show our colors—another opportunity to help our country and to help ourselves at the same time.

The Treasury Department has made it clear that if the Third War Loan is to be a success, common everyday citizens must put a lot more money into War Bonds than heretofore.

The quota assigned for the people of the United States—apart from banks, insurance companies and other corporations—is the largest amount of money any Government has ever asked of its citizens.

And the money can't be raised unless everybody—not just the other fellow—resolves to go without things in order to buy more War Bonds.

In every community where there are employees of the Great Northern Railway, their co-operation in making the Third War Loan a success can be taken for granted.

Twenty-two thousand of these Great Northern men and women are buying War Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan. Many of them are buying additional War Bonds from their local banks and postoffices, and are cheerfully accepting whatever sacrifices are involved.

So that credit for the bonds they purchase through the Payroll Savings Plan may be allocated to the states and counties in which they live, and their bonds delivered with the least possible delay, the Great Northern Railway became an agency for the Treasury Department for issuing Series "E" bonds. More than 15,000 of these bonds are issued every month at the Company's offices at St. Paul. The Great Northern is not reimbursed in any way for this expense.

Through the Federal Reserve banking system, every bond issued by the Great Northern is credited to the quotas assigned to the state and county in which the employee makes his home.

Besides BACKING THE ATTACK with their Dollars, these Great Northern men and women are BACKING THE ATTACK with their own services—meeting every requirement of the Government for the transportation of troops, their equipment, and vital war materials over the Great Northern Railway.

And along with millions of other Americans, they will BACK THE ATTACK with EXTRA War Bonds in September.

Ever think about Running a Factory?

If you've ever run a farm or dairy or store, there are a lot of things about running a factory that you'd find pretty familiar. Things like working any and all hours, training green help, planning for months ahead without letting the planning interfere with the job of the moment.

These are the responsibilities of management. And the peculiar American ability to meet and lick these problems means a lot today, both on the food-producing and weapon-producing fronts.

Ability to manage isn't picked up overnight. For good management is a skill just as much as good workmanship—learned the hard way.

It won't be forgotten overnight, either. For it is these men who, on farm and in factory, have actually produced the things from which our high living standard is derived, who can and will, by working together, give every American a more abundant life in the peacetime years to come. The Ammunition is being passed

There's no monkey-business about the way the ammunition is being passed in this war, either. For example, the Navy's 5-inch 38 caliber gun throws shells at planes or surface craft at a terrific rate. Its powder and shells must come to the gun in a steady stream. How is it done? With an ingenious hoist whose tolerances are so close that the mechanism is comparable to the movement of a fine watch.

Ammunition hoists for the Navy are being produced so fast and efficiently by the Busch-Sulzer Bros. Diesel Engine Company that the organization has been awarded a second star in its Navy E pennant. Busch-Sulzer, which made engines for submarines in the last war, was founded by Adolphus Busch, the founder of Anheuser-Busch. He was the first to build Diesels in America—and the first American-made Diesel went into the Home of Budweiser. Now as then, the quest for better methods and facilities to produce the world's most popular beer never ceases.

Have a Coca-Cola = Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

...or how to welcome a WAVE on furlough

When your pal comes home on furlough, what do you say for welcome? Why not let Coca-Cola speak for you? There's no chummier way to say the gang's all here than to drink a friendly "Coke" together. At home, in camp and overseas, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—brings refreshment to Americans, helps them make new friends.

TYING SQUASHES ON THE LILAC TREE

Montvideo — No, there aren't any apples tied to the lilac tree in Mark Pomroy's yard. But we do mean there are squashes tied to the eight-foot lilac tree. Fact of the matter is one of his squash vines traveled some 10 to 15 feet along the ground, and then to the top of the lilac bush where it gaily blossomed and has commenced to tie squashes on the lilac tree!

NEW TEACHERS APPROVED BY LOCAL BOARD

Three Appointments Confirmed by Board of Education Monday Night

MUSIC SUPERVISOR NOT TO ACCEPT POST

Board Votes Raise in Pay for Substitute High School Teachers

The recent appointment of three new members of the Lincoln Junior-senior high school faculty was confirmed by the board of education at its September session Monday evening, while a fourth teacher returned her contract unsigned.

The new teachers include Miss Helen Movius of Lidgerwood, N. D., a graduate of the University of North Dakota and employed the past eleven years at Lemmon, S. D. She is teaching English XI.

Miss Juneth Sundahl of Moorhead, a graduate of Concordia college, has had five years teaching experience, and is teaching Latin and junior high school history. Mrs. Rudy O. Larson of this city, a graduate of Bemidji state teachers college, is teaching general science in junior high school.

Miss Margaret Steenson, who had accepted the position of vocal music supervisor, returned her contract unsigned owing to her inability to secure her release from her work in an aircraft factory in California.

Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted said that it will not be necessary to appoint a successor to Miss Steenson, her duties having been divided between Edward D. Anderson, band instructor, and Mrs. James DeVeau. Mr. Anderson will direct the high school vocal groups, and Mrs. DeVeau will supervise the grade music.

Mr. Fjelsted announced that altho an instructor for the teacher training department is available, the department will be closed for the school year if a minimum of seven students is not obtained by Friday.

The local board has been advised that the school lunch program will be subsidized again this year by the federal food distribution administration, and the program will get under way in the local schools within a few days.

The board voted to change the basis of pay for substitute high school teachers from $5 a day to $5 for the first day and $6 for the next 19 days, followed by a monthly rate of $145 per month. Substitute grade teachers will continue to be paid at the rate of $5 per day.

The board also changed the age limits for admission to kindergarten and the first grade to conform with the recommendations of the state department of education, the change to take effect next fall. Under the new plan pupils must attain their fifth birthdays before January 1, instead of March 1 as at present, in order to be admitted to the kindergarten, while those admitted to the first grade must be six years old before the following January 1.

T.-B. DEATH RATE IN PENNINGTON IS 23.2 PER 100,000

County Now Ranked as 55th Among Those Seeking Accreditation

Pennington is among the Minnesota counties that have to cut their tuberculosis death rates more than half before they can qualify for accreditation for the control of human tuberculosis.

Dr. A. E. Meyerding, executive secretary of the Minnesota Public Health association, calls attention to this fact in a letter to the local officers of the Christmas Seal organization; president, Dr. B. Borreson, and vice-president, Mrs. Edward Bratrud, both of Thief River Falls.

Pennington county's average death rate from tuberculosis during the period from 1938-42 was 23.2 per 100,000, and it is now 55th on the list of counties marching towards accreditation, according to a recent study made by the Minnesota department of health.

Requirements for accreditation set forth by the Minnesota Department of Health and the Minnesota State Medical Association state: "A county must have a tuberculosis death rate of less than 10 per 100,000 and less than 15 per cent reactors to the tuberculin test among its high school seniors."

In this letter Doctor Meyerding congratulates the county public health association, Dr. Borreson, local physicians, nurses, schools, newspapers, all Christmas Seal volunteer workers and individuals and agencies who have assisted in the campaign to control tuberculosis.

COUNCIL BUYS ANOTHER $30,[illegible] IN WAR BONDS

City Purchase Gives Strong Boost to Third War Loan Drive

VOTES $100 TO ASSIST PENNINGTON 4-H FAIR

Approves Bill for $1,809.68 Covering Atlantic av. Project

The city council at its September session Tuesday evening gave a substantial impetus to the third war loan campaign in this city by voting to purchase another $30,000 in Series C notes maturing in the fall of 1948. The current purchase, made from unallocated funds in the city treasury, makes a total of $85,000 in U. S. obligations bought by the city since July, 1942.

Paul A. Lundgren, Pennington county war finance chairman, told of the need of bond purchases by others than individuals if the quota for the city of Thief River Falls is to be attained.

Following presentation of the matter by W. E. Dahlquist, member of the fair board, the council voted an appropriation of $300 to the Pennington County Agricultural society, of which $100 will be used to aid in financing the 4-H club fair here Saturday, September 25, and the remaining $200 will be used for painting and other work on the fair grounds buildings.

A petition was submitted requesting the grading of Michael st. on the east side of the river between Markley and Tindolph avs., the matter being referred to the street committee for investigation.

The council approved for payment the final estimate of $1,809.68 submitted by Albert Larson in connection with the Atlantic av. widening project, which was recently completed. The amount was substantially higher than the original cost estimate, due in part to additional sidewalk construction.

Third War Loan Drive Is Off To Fine Start

Goodridge Is First County Subdivision to Attain Its Quota

ST. HILAIRE VILLAGE ALSO REACHES GOAL

Solicitation in This City Making Satisfactory Progress

It is still too early to make a positive prediction on the outcome of the third war loan drive, but if the work which has been done in the villages of Goodridge and St. Hilaire is any criterion, then Pennington County will meet its quota, Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman, stated today.

The village of Goodridge again wins first honors. Their quota was set by the Pennington county committee at $4,000. Their solicitation was completed on Monday of this week with signed pledges totalling $5,189. At 8:00 o'clock on Tuesday, Sept. 14, Stephen Singer, chairman of the bond drive for that village, called and announced that $4,006.00 had already been purchased. Goodridge is, therefore, the first municipality to complete its solicitation and to purchase their quota.

The village of St. Hilaire likewise completed their solicitation on Monday, but the report did not reach the office until Tuesday. The village was assigned a quota of $5,500, and Paul Roy, chairman, reports signed pledges totalling $6,498.75.

Anyone who has made a study of the quotas assigned the various municipalities in the county knows that the quotas set for both Goodridge and St. Hilaire were proportionately high. The fact that these two municipalities have met and exceeded their quotas should be ample proof that the various quotas in the county can be met if the citizens generally exert the same will toward their attainment, said Mr. Lundgren.

The Victory Aides in the country are doing splendid work. They report fine cooperation and treatment in this tremendous task.

"Solicitation at its best is not a bed of roses," said Mr. Lundgren. "Some disappointments undoubtedly are a direct result of carelessness and thoughtlessness. Some of the solicitors have reported some snappy turn-downs by young men in the country who because of agriculture have been classified as 2-C. These men were placed upon the quota lists by the committee, as the committee felt that as a class they should be most willing to sacrifice. While their companions are dying in the terrific struggle which now goes on in Italy, these young men are permitted to carry on their ordinary pursuits of life. To sell their comrades short now is nothing short of ingratitude.

FARM SCRAP BADLY NEEDED TO AVERT STEEL MILL SLACK

Regional Salvage Manager Announces Campaign to Open October 1

An average of half a ton of scrap from every farm in the northwest will be needed this fall and winter if the steel mills producing the vital sinews of war are to be kept in materials, according to Norman S. Olson, northwest regional salvage manager. The mills are faced with a shortage of scrap.

This means that every farmer will be asked to look through his equipment and stock of repair parts and cast aside the things he doesn't have any use for. It may require dismantling some unused piece of equipment that has been held as a possible substitute in case of breakdown. In any case, Mr. Olson said, it will require a careful search by every farmer for scrap on the farm.

A drive to gather up all the available scrap in farms, shops and other sources will get under way October 1. It will continue throughout the balance of the year, with county salvage committees on the job every day to assure delivery of quotas. Mechanics for conduct of the drive now are being worked out at the War Production Board salvage division headquarters.

"Our northwest quota is 473,500 tons of scrap iron and steel," Mr. Olson said. "Some of this will come from the industrial plants in the area, but a large share of it will have to come off the farms. So much of it will have to come off the farms that the average will be just about half a ton.

"That doesn't mean that a farmer should consider his quota filled when he reaches half a ton. Some farms may have only a few pounds available. Others may have up to 30 and 40 tons. Every pound of it should go into collection."

$107,768 Bonds Bought in Marshall Co. to Date

Marshall county's 3rd war loan campaign is off to a slow start with only $107,768 worth of War Bonds pledged or sold during the first five days of the campaign which opened last Thursday morning, O. 3D WAR LOAN DRIVE GOING FORWARD IN PENNINGTON COUNTY

"Admitedly the contributions in money which our younger men and women can make toward the war effort would be relatively small, but if the bond drive is viewed purely in terms of cold dollars it could be overlooked. Since this is a democracy, the spirit in which the American people underwrites the acts of its government is worth more than money. This is everybody's war. We will all share in the fruits of its victory. As such we should all be willing within our means to give it our support."

The solicitation for the city of Thief River Falls, which is under the sponsorship of its civic service and fraternal groups, is from the reports received from the captains of the various teams, progressing in a satisfactory manner. It proves that the spirit which motivates these organizations is more than idle words, Mr. Lundgren said. The tenacity with which these groups have entered upon the task of raising $243,000 for the city of Thief River Falls is nothing short of miraculous. Each team is determined to make its quota.

Comparisons as to results may be odious, as the element of luck enters into even a venture of this kind. The Rotary team is the first to report the attainment of its quota. The Rotary club was assigned the quota of $51,681.75. Stanton Dahlen, the captain of that team, reports that the solicitation is now two-thirds completed and that his team has received pledges totalling $57,318.75. The high team in that group is headed by A. B. McLaughlin. This team has pledges to date totalling $22,818.75. The other teams are crowding the Rotary Club in the attainment of their various quotas. From the captains' reports the prospects are bright for the attainment of the Thief River Falls quota.

Farm solicitation, because of distances necessary to travel, is now just under way. A more detailed report will be made on that next week.

Every person making a pledge is urged to buy their bonds as early as possible. In order to be credited to this quota, bonds must be bought and paid for before the close of business on September 30.

Stuttering

Recently I saw a mother dealing with her stuttering four year old boy in a way that seemed to me very sensible.

"It looks to as though he just can't get the words out as fast as he is thinking—he has so much to say and is so eager about everything. I think he'll outgrow it."

She was patient with him, sometimes supplying the words that he was stumbling over, and taking care not to show concern or nag at him.

There are numerous theories about the causes of stuttering. I can't be sure that the one mother had hit upon what really lay at the bottom of her little boy's trouble, but there is a perfectly good chance that it might have. What I do feel sure of is that she was giving him the best possible chance to overcome it by the easy-going atmosphere she was providing.

It is generally believed that most stuttering has its roots in psychological rather than organic factors. A number of well-known authorities insist that important steps in bringing about a cure consist of reducing anxiety and fear and removing irritating, unpleasant factors in the home life and social life of the stutterer.

It used to be commonly thought that a left-handed child who was forced to learn to use his right hand might stutter as a result. It is realized now, though, that every child who stutters after such a change perhaps at least a dozen others can be found who do not. One report from a school in Elizabeth, New Jersey, shows that not one of the left-handed children in the school population stuttered after they had been taught to write with their right hands. It is believed that the efficient, unemotional methods used by the teachers were in large part responsible for this. Where the change is accompanied by a good deal of emotional stress and strain, there may be stuttering.

Some stuttering, of course, may be related to physiological causes which can be corrected. A stuttering child should be examined, first for possible physical defects. Then, regardless of which of the many methods of treatment may be recommended for him, his parents can be sure they will be on the safe side by providing as relaxing and happy atmosphere as possible at home.

Next week will bring the 1943 Pennington County Fair. Ordinarily when we announce the coming of this annual event we turn our imagination loose and make free use of superlatives. The coming fair is always going to be the biggest and the best. On such occasions circus style copy is expected and we do our best to put the Ringling Brothers adjective writers to shame. It's different this year. Here we are telling about the big show and start right in by saying it isn't going to be up to the usual standard. It's going to be sort of a miniature model, strictly a 4-H party, presented for the one and only purpose of keeping life in this very much worth while activity of our youngsters. The young people themselves are assuming a large share of the responsibility in the management of this exposition and if there are profits they will go into the 4-H coffers. This in itself is sufficient reason to justify your support. In many ways the 1943 Pennington County Fair will be the best fair ever presented locally.

Italy is not going to be conquered without a struggle. For those who expected the German armies to retire when Italy surrendered, that is a rathr disappointing fact. It is not a thing our military leaders could control however. Much credit must go to those leaders for the manner in which they handled Italy's withdrawal from the war. Getting control of the Italian fleet and much of that nation's shipping was a master stroke, leaving the Mediterranean much safer for allied shipping. Under German control that fleet would have been a serious menace. The opposition our forces have met at Salerno has brought some criticism of the delay in our attack on the mainland, but it is reasonable to assume that if we had attacked before the Italians were told to lay down their arms our occupation would have been still more expensive. And it is quite possible our armies were not ready to strike sooner than they did. Preparing for an invasion of that type requires an enormous amount of preparation, and if our armies had been sent into Italy before adequate preparations had been made to bring up supplies and reinforcements as they were needed then our military leaders would certainly be deserving of censure. As it is they have taken long chances. German resistance has been more stubborn than was expected. The fact that we have been able to establish a foothold and retain it in spite of most severe opposition is evidence of the fighting quality of our men and the organization ability of our officers.

Pennington County's 3rd War Loan drive is off to a good start, but it is only a start, and there is still much work to be done before the goal is reached. Our quota is large, that is true. It isn't unduly large however, compared with what other communities are being asked to subscribe. And it is not an impossible quota. There are many hundreds of thousands of idle dollars in our community that should be put to work. Bond buyers have several different types of bonds to select from, making it a simple matter to buy issues that will meet the varying investment needs of individuals. If you have a surplus of cash that you do not need at the present time put it into bonds. Compared with what our boys are giving at Salerno the purchase of a few bonds is a small contribution to the war effort, but it is one way in which we can all do our part.

German press agents have made the battle of Salerno a glorious American victory. According to the broadcasts from Hitler's propaganda machine Salerno was going to be another Dunkirk. Our army was going to be pushed back into the sea. The German high command must have been very confident of its ability to win this battle for otherwise the propaganda department would not have been permitted to make such extravagant claims of success. But the Fifth army was not pushed back into the sea and that must have been a very bitter pill for the propaganda peddlers to swallow. It would have been a great disappointment to us if the German predictions had come true. To us it would have been only one set-back in a long line of victories however, and we must be prepared for an occasional set-back. But to the Germans this failure of their military machine to accomplish what they had been led to expect must have been extremely demoralizing. If we now retain our foothold at Salerno we will have served notice that we can stand up against the best that Hitler has. The realization of that fact will do much to break the morale of Hitler's once invincible armies.

From Japan comes the announcement that the armies of the sons of heaven will be withdrawn from some of the remote outposts of their far-flung empire and that the inner line of defenses will be strengthened. It is encouraging to learn from the Japs themselvs that they have expanded far enough for the time being and will be satisfied merely to dominate Asia. We presume this means that we now have their permission to run our own affairs. That's quite a concession for the little fellows to make, considering their attitude following Pearl Harbor. Perhaps they will be glad to concede still more as that inner circle of theirs starts to shrink.

Camouflage Ancient

Camouflage is a very old method of warfare, and has probably been used by every army in history. Even Shakespeare tells of the armies of Macbeth, and how they mounted boughs of Birnam wood on their helmets to conceal them in the trees. Native warriors in Africa today carry branches of trees to hide them while they steal upon their foes. But nature was the first to develop camouflage extensively. Insects have markings on their wings and bodies which make them practically invisible against twigs, leaves and flowers where they thrive best.

Warmth of Rooms

A large percentage of American homes are overheated, according to health and heating authorities. It must be admitted that dry, overheated rooms play an important part in producing colds. There is a need for getting used to temperature of not more than 70 degrees at bodily rest indoors. During the daytime, when members of the family are engaged in active physical effort, the heating may be lowered to 65 degrees.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Oscar Quam who passed away a year ago this 17th day of September.

In our memory she is so very near. We miss you so dear Leafie, our beloved wife and mother.

In silence you suffered, in patience you bore.
'Till God called you home to suffer no more.

In the presence of a sorrow such as this, in the consciousness that a rare spirit has gone from us while it was still full of sweetness and growth, in the piercing grief that a young mother has left her little children, it takes all of our steadiness and courage to face the mystery of justice, to divine the path wherein lies fortitude and resignation. In a life of blessing and serving, death was crowded out of her thoughts, save as she feared it for those she loved. It is hard to even associate death with the eager, flamelike spirit of our beloved, and yet she made the only possible preparation for it, that of free and joyous right-living. The minds of all of us here are crowded with sweet memories of her. Let us draw together through them and comfort one another as best we may.

Loved, remembered and longed for always.

Sadly missed by her husband and children. Oscar Quam, Dean and Raymond. 37p

RESOLUTION. — Minnesota State Townsend Club Conference —Soldier's Pay Bill. — Delegates voted, for immediate passage of H. R. 1701, a bill providing for the payment of $100 a month for twelve months to our boys and girls in the service after the war ends. The passage of this bill is necessary if we are to avoid the difficulties experienced after the last war when the soldiers were compelled to sell apples and pencils on every street corner to earn their bread and butter and had to wait 18 years for their adjusted compensation (called bonus). Write your Congressman for copies of this bill, H. R. 1701, and hand them to folks in your community who have sons in the service. 37p

WAR SERVICE FUND DIVISION OF MONEY OUTLINED BY CHIEF

Over Half of Proceeds of October Campaign Going to Armed Services

More than half the money that will be raised here in the Minnesota war service fund appeal in October will go for needs of the armed forces, J. Cameron Thomson, state chairman of the fund declared today.

Though the National War Fund, of which the Minnesota war service fund is a part, will serve global needs with the $125,000,000 it expects to raise across the nation, more than half of that sum is needed for service to our armed forces, war prisoners and men of the merchant marine.

Services provided by the National War Fund agencies range from a USO club in Alaska to provision of books, games and other monotony relieving materials for American prisoners of war in Germany and Japan and from a rest center for U. S. merchant seamen in North Africa to a USO camp show performance for men on duty in the Pacific jungles.

AA requests for funds for agencies included in the Minnesota war service fund were examined by the national budget committee with a view to determining the extent of needed relief; whether the relief can be supplied from any other source, whether supplies to meet the need are available, whether shipping space is available, whether there is adequate distribution supervision; whether distribution costs are at minimum; and whether the relief projects conform to the strategic requirements of the United States.

AUGUST TRAFFIC FATALITIES DROP TO TOTAL OF 11

Thirty Persons Lost Lives in the Same Month Last Year

Eleven fatalities due to traffic accidents in August have so far been reported to the Minnesota department of highways. The figures may increase if any more deaths occur from injuries received in August, since fatalities are recorded according to the time of the accident. July fatalities, originally reported as 9, have increased to 12, due to later reported deaths from July accidents.

Eleven fatalities, due to someone's negligence or carelessness, tragic though it may be, show a marked improvement over August 1942, when 30 died from traffic injuries, and a still greater improvement over August, 1941, when 76 were killed.

Six of the 11 reported killed in August were pedestrians. All the pedestrian fatalities occurred in urban areas, four in Minneapolis and two in smaller places. Five were occupants of motor vehicles, three being killed on county roads, one on a state highway, and one in urban areas.

The August fatalities bring the year's total to 125, contrasted to 301 in the first eight months of 1942 and 371 in the same months in 1941. The 1943 figure is 58 per cent under the 1942 record, and 66 per cent under the 1941 figure.

"In comparison with the 1942 and 1941 traffic deaths, our record so far this year is most encouraging," said W. F. Rosenwald, traffic engineer for the department of highways. "It means that 176 persons are alive today who would have died if the 1942 rate of accidents had continued. It means that 246 lives have been saved because we are driving less, and driving more carefully, than we did in 1941."

Auctioneers Required to File Farm Sale Bills with OPA Office in Fargo

Auctioneers of used farm machinery now under price control must file a list of such equipment up for sale, and the time and place of the sale, with the district office of the Office of Price Administration, Universal Building, Fargo, N. D. The order was issued in accordance with the increased effort to hold down the cost of agricultural equipment.

The information must be in the hands of the district OPA at least six days prior to the sale. A copy of the sale bill will suffice, OPA officials said.

Used farm machinery now under price control includes eight specific types, whether or not they are sold with an accessory designed for use in conjunction with the machine. The types controlled by price ceilings are tractors (except crawlers); combines; corn binders; corn pickers; hay balers (motor or tractor operated); hay loaders; manure spreaders; side delivery rakes.

From where I sit . . .
by Joe Marsh

"Jeep Nerves"—that's what Dan O'Neill calls the jumpy way some folks react to the strain of wartime living.

Not that Dan blames 'em. When you work 12 hours a day and travel in crowded busses—live in trailers and put up with inconveniences—it's only natural to get tense and irritable.

"Folks must learn to relax," says Dan, "and take it easy."

And Dan thinks he has the formula: Soon as he's through at the shop he comes straight home, picks out the comfortablest chair and pours himself a tall, cool glass of beer.

Then he sips it—slowly and appreciatively—like good beer should be enjoyed.

And by the time that glass of beer is gone, Dan says his disposition is as good as new . . . and the day's work seems well worth tackling again tomorrow.

It's a real effective formula. I know; I've tried it!

ENFORCEMENT OF DRIVERS LICENSE LAW IS ADVOCATED

Commr. Hoffman Urges Co-operation of All Local Officers

Strict enforcement by local authorities is necessary for successful operation of the Minnesota drivers' license law, M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways said today. Usefulness of the law depends on whether persons who have shown themselves unfit to drive are kept from driving, and local authorities who know the local residents are in the best position to see that persons whose licenses have been revoked or suspended do not drive, he pointed out.

"The purpose of the drivers' license law was to improve the safety of travel on our streets and highways by setting up a method of keeping track of the performance of the individual driver and taking proper disciplinary action when necessary," said Mr. Hoffmann. "Since the law was first passed in 1933, licenses have been issued to more than 2,000,000 drivers, and it is estimated that half of these are not now driving, due to death, removal from the state, or because they have quit driving.

"Under the old law it was possible for a driver to retain a revoked or suspended license, and if he wished to cheat the law he might continue using it for an unlimited time. With a view to eliminating this difficulty, and in order to clear the records of dead material, the 1943 Legislature amended the law so that all licenses issued before September 1, 1943, expire on the licensee's next birthday. Licenses hereafter issued will expire on the licensee's birthday in the fourth year after they are issued.

"Our law does not make examination of all applicants mandatory, but it gives the commissioner of highways power to require such examinations as he deems necessary. Examinations may be required of new applicants if they have apparent physical or mental handicaps. Examinations may also be required of applicants for renewal whose driving records indicate that it is advisable. The commissioner also has power to impose limiting restrictions upon drivers, and power to require proof of financial responsibility if the record indicates the need."

FREAK STREAK OF LIGHTNING

Ellsworth. — Behold how one streak of lightning scampered about a farm five miles from town. It first struck the steel haytrack in the barn, jumped to a nearby hayknife in the hayloft, shattered the 6x6 above the hayknife, and the siding below it, tore a patch of shingles three feet wide and eight feet long off the hip roof—without starting a fire.

436,277 PERSONS PASS THRU GATES OF '43 STATE FAIR

Nominal Loss Incurred, but All Expenses Will be Paid in Full

Dates of the 1944 Minnesota state fair, announces the fair board, will be Aug. 26 to Sept. 4. All connected with the fair hope it will be a "Victory Fair."

Despite bad weather on Labor Day and the preceding Sunday, says the fair announcement, official attendance at the 1943 Minnesota State Fair was 436,277.

Though cold weather and rain slashed fair attendance by at least 100,000 admissions, said President A. H. Dathe, only a nominal loss was suffered. Accumulation of a surplus from former years, he said, will enable all bills to be paid promptly.

The 1943 Minnesota state fair, said Dathe, was a tremendous success. It dramatized war work on home and fighting fronts, and staged scores of exhibits and demonstrations helpful to the war effort. Wartime displays by service branches were unusually comprehensive.

The camp of the 710th Military Police Batalion, the K-9 section of dogs in training for overseas service, and the battalion's spectacular maneuvers with tanks, scout cars and other equipment, were big features.

The war trophies show sent by the U. S. Treasury, and operated by the committee in charge of sales of war bonds and stamps, was the most popular exhibit on the grounds.

U. S. War Bonds Should be Owned by Citizens, Says Taxpayers Chief

"Wide ownership of war bonds among all citizens is vitally important for prosecution of the war and to meet post-war problems that follow. The more widely public debt is distributed and in the hands of a great percentage of the people, the more sound becomes the fiscal foundation of our government," James P. McDonnell, of Buffalo, president of Minnesota Taxpayers Association, said today in urging every person to buy bonds in the third war bond drive.

"Where the public debt is extended to all classes of people, the bond-holders and taxpayers become one and the same, and taxes to service and reduce the debt, to a great extent, will come from the same people that owe the debt. This tends to stabilize income shifts between groups and helps to hold down economic strife and inequalities later on," McDonald pointed out.

Approximately only 30 per cent of our war costs were paid out of taxes last year, while the balance came out of sale of bonds, he said.

Four Persons Burned to Death in Farm Fire Last Thursday in Kittson Co.

Four persons were burned to death early Thursday when fire destroyed the large recently remodeled Ernest Clinton farm home six miles west of Humboldt in Kittson county.

The dead are:

Ernest Clinton, 40; his six-months old infant daughter; Joe Hutchins, 49, helper on the farm, and Russell Randolph, who would have been 12 years old Friday.

Mrs. Ernest Clinton is in the Hallock hospital suffering from shock and exposure.

The blaze was discovered about 4 A. M. by Mrs. Clinton who aroused the others and then sought help.

Fire departments from Humboldt, Pembina and St. Vincent rushed to the scene and saved other structures. The house was almost burned to the ground when they arrived.

The fire apparently started in a defective chimney. Clinton had made plans to build a new chimney but had been unable to obtain help. He built a fire in a heater Wednesday night before going to bed.

Russell, a nephew of Mrs. Clinton, had been visiting his aunt during the summer months.

8,537,000 lb. Rough Fish Removed in Minnesota

Minnesota had more rough fish removed from its water, by far, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, than during any previous twelve month period for the last fifteen years, according to Verne E. Joslin, state director of game and fish.

The total number of pounds of rough fish removed during the past fiscal year was 8,537,646, which is almost 2,500,000 pounds more than the total of 5,082,123 pounds removed during the fiscal year of 1941-42.

The total for each of the last two years is probably higher than any previous year in the history of the state, although no accurate figures are available except for the last 12 years.

Bank Debits in City in August Were 25 Per Cent Above Same Month in '42

The volume of bank debits in Thief River Falls during the month of August was 25 per cent above the level reached in August 1942, while tabulations for this year to date indicate a 21 per cent increase when compared with the similar 1942 period.

Bank debits represent checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, debts, etc. They are considered a good indicator of general business trends in a given locality and reflect farmers' cash income and government spending to cover payrolls and purchase war materials in addition to general trade volume. These bank debit figures are released monthly by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

In the State of Minnesota business volume in August as indicated by bank debits increased 30 per cent over August 1942 and continued the 1943 trend with figures which showed for this year to date an increase of 26 per cent over the same eight months of 1942.

Ducks Unlimited Will Conduct Feather Drive

Ducks Unlimited is going to conduct another feather drive this fall. American sportsmen have a real opportunity to contribute to the safety of war-time flyers by saving the down and small body feathers of wild ducks and geese that are needed for lining high-altitude flying suits.

All feathers less than two and one-half inches long can be used. They should be kept dry. Sportsmen are urged to donate shipments, transportation collect, to Ducks Unlimited, 83 Columbia Street, Seattle, Washington. Name and address of donor and "Water Fowl Feathers" should be written on packages.

DRIVE TO PROTECT CHILDREN ON THE HIGHWAY STARTS

Opening of School Inspires Plea to Parents and Motorists

With schools opening generally throughout the state this week, a plea to safeguard the children was made by James L. Markham of Mapleton, chairman of the Minnesota editors' traffic safety committee. Motorists are urged to be especially alert in areas where children may be walking or playing, and parents are asked to take special pains to instruct their children in safety habits.

"There were 54 children less than 15 years old killed in traffic accidents in Minnesota in 1942, and 1,000 injured," said Mr. Markham. "This means that 12 per cent of all persons killed and 15 per cent of those injured were under 15. Thirty-six of the 54 were children between 5 and 16, or children of school age.

"Twenty-seven, or exactly half of the children killed, were on foot. The schools are doing splendid safety education work, but they cannot take over the whole job, nor can they reach the smaller children. Parents should train children to look both ways before crossing streets or highways, and to obey the stop and go signs. They should teach children not to play in the streets and not to dart from behind parked vehicles. Better yet, they should provide safe places for children to play off the streets. Drivers must cooperate by being especially alert when driving near schools or through residential districts. They should always be sure to stop for school patrols and for school buses stopping to load or unload passengers.

"Nine of those killed were boys on bicycles. Drivers should be extra cautious when passing bicycles, and children should be trained in safety habits before they are allowed to ride. Bicycles have the same rights on the road as other vehicles, but no more."

Students with Social Security Cards Urged to Save Them from Loss

With the beginning of the school year, high school students were today urged by Harlin J. Haack, manager of the Bemidji field office of the social security board, to make certain they put away their social security account number cards in a safe place where they can quickly find them when they again go to work.

Mr. Haack stated that the safeguarding of account number cards by all workers would save many sorely needed man-hours and a lot of expense. "A study made by the social security board," he said, "shows that the cost of issuing duplicate cards in a year's time would have bought 25,000,000 rounds of ammunition."

That valuable time would be saved workers was also pointed out by the field office manager who stated that sometimes it takes several days to check before duplicate cards can be issued.

It was also pointed out that the number on the card is of great importance, inasmuch as it is the key to the individual's wage account in the accounting division of the Bureau of old age and survivors insurance.

TAIL-LESS MODEL KITTY IS OKAY

Benson.—Out of the ordinary has been the tail-less pussy around a local restaurant for several years. Now she has apparently concluded that a furry appendage on the south end of a kitty is an unnecessary fixture. A year ago she gave birth to two kittens, one with a tail and one without. Apparently satisfied with the results of her experiment, this year she brought forth only one kitten—tail-less.

BLACKOUT WARNING GIVEN BY WARDEN ON FOOT

If the same thing happened in all incorporated hamlets of Minnesota that did in the village of Trail, with a population of less than 100 people during the recent statewide blackout all was well. Hans Bjerkness, the warden, received telephone notice from county headquarters at Crookston, and immediately on foot dashed from house to house yelling "Blackout"! Those first aroused took up the cry and in a few minutes the whole town was dark—and remained so for 70 minutes.

NEW REGULATIONS GOVERN TRANSFER FROM JOB TO JOB

State Director Bjornaraa Announces New Plan Now in Effect

New rules governing the transfer of workers from job to job, based on revised regulations issued by the War Manpower Commission in Washington on August 15, are now effective in this state in areas not covered by local employment stabilization plans, Dreng Bjornaraa, state director, War Manpower Commission for Minnesota, announced today.

The changes are embodied in the amended regionwide employment stabilization plan, copies of which were received today by Bjornaraa from Frank M. Rarig, Jr., regional director of WMC in Minneapolis.

It was provided in the recent national regulations that the new rules would become effective only upon their adoption into employment stabilization plans, Bjornaraa explained. Local areas which have their own stabilization plans will amend their plans to include revised provisions by October 15.

The new regionwide plan will in general serve as a model for revisions which must be made in local plans. Most important changes incorporated in the regionwide plan are the following:

1. It is provided that workers who are employed at substandard wages will be given statements of availability to transfer to new jobs. This is a new provision.

2. Workers who transfer from their present jobs to new jobs contrary to policies of the War Manpower Commission may not be hired for new employment for a period of 60 days. Hitherto this penalty period was only 30 days.

3. A worker in an essential activity may change to another essential job if he obtains a statement of availability either from his employer or from the United States employment service.

4. The movement of workers into agriculture is further encouraged by the provision that the new regulations do not apply to the hiring of new employees for agricultural employment. A person may shift from any present job to an agricultural job freely without obtaining a statement of availability.

Outstanding Artists to Appear in Minneapolis at Orchestra Concerts

One of its most ambitious seasons in years will be offered by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra this year under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos at Northrop Auditorium on the University of Minnesota campus starting November 5, Arthur J. Gaines, manager, has announced.

The regular series of concerts will include the appearances of four violinists, four pianists, three vocalists and three orchestral programs in addition to the appearance of the American poet and authority on Lincoln, Carl Sandburg, who will serve as narrator for a performance of "A Lincoln Portrait", a work by the American composer, Aaron Copland.

In the list of guest artists are Yehudi Menuhin, Isaac Stern, Zino Francescatti and Joseph Szigeti, violinists; Robert Casadesus, Claudio Arrau, Arthur Rubinstein and Vladimir Horowitz, pianists, and Helen Traubel, dramatic soprano, Ezio Pinza, bass, and Marion Anderson, contralto, vocalists. It will be Miss Traubel's first appearance locally since she became the leading Wagnerian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Young Republicans to Meet in St. Paul Sunday

Plans for a constructive program to meet the needs of Minnesota's returning veterans after the war will be formulated by Young Republicans from all parts of the state at the annual convention of the Young Republican League of Minnesota in St. Paul Sunday, September 19th. Though many members of the organization are in service, plans are being made for delegations from all parts of the state, with interest increased because of problems growing out of the war that are to be considered. Main speaker for the day will be A. J. Beiring, Fort Madison, Iowa, on "The Blackout of Representative Government." The meeting will open at 1:30 P. M. at the St. Paul Hotel.

BEAUTIFUL DREAM THAT CAME TRUE

Buhl—It was a beautiful day in the Arrowhead country, with clear skies and a warm sun but the fish just wouldn't bite for Joe Ambrozich and two other members of his fishing party. Becoming too drowsy to keep awake Joe fell into the arms of sleep and dreamt he was catching a large fish. With a loud whirrrr of his reel he suddenly had his dream interrupted. To his amazement he pulled in a 7½ pound walleye which he had been dreaming of.

OPA Community Service Bulletin

By. Mrs. Paul A. Lundgren
Chairman

The Home Front Pledge Drive has been launched in Minnesota this week. Mrs. E. C. Karwand, our county chairman of Victory Aides, received the campaign material late last week and it is being distributed among the Victory Aides. Every housewife will be visited and she will be invited to sign and keep this Home Front Pledge:

"I will pay no more than top legal prices.

"I will accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps."

The pledge scroll has two places to be signed. Later when these scrolls have been collected, the bottom section with one of the signatures will be torn off and these will be filed at the local Ration board office. These are to be filed simply to get a count of the number reached and number of signatures of the pledge.

The idea behind this pledge is sound because it goes straight to the heart of America's fundamental honesty. It makes an appeal to that honesty, and to every American's sense of fair play. It is only necessary to point out to the American people the right thing to do, and ask them to do it.

Your government has taken two important steps to eliminate increases in food prices and to assure everyone a fair share of food. Essential foods have been rationed. Top legal prices have been established on practically every essential food item. The new price plan for food, together with the rent control program, provides the consumer with definite dollars and cents price ceilings for items totaling nearly 60 per cent of the entire cost of living.

In the last war prices rose higher and higher. In this war, the government stepped in with price control. It has been estimated that consumers have already saved nearly six billion dollars on cost of living items. In addition to this, the government has saved more than 25 billion dollars on the cost of the war.

Ration Book News:

Beginning Sunday, September, 12th the first series of brown stamps become valid between now and October 2nd. You will be using three ration books: No. I for sugar, No. II for unexpired red stamps and blue stamps and No. III for brown stamps which will take place of the red stamps.

As in the past, stamps will become valid on successive Sunday, but will always expire on the Saturday nearest the end of the month.

Minnesota University Will Open Term Sept. 27

With approximately half of its enrollment to be men in the armed forces assigned to study on the campus and all of its dormitories, except Comstock Hall for women, assigned to Army and Navy; the University of Minnesota will start its 76th year of operation on Monday, September 27.

Enrollment predictions are uncertain, but in the last quarter of the year '42-'43 something more than 8,000 men and women were enrolled, not counting soldiers and sailors.

Extensive entry of men 18 years of age into the armed services since high school graduations last May and June is certain to reduce the number of men in the entering freshman class.

CHEAPER CIGARETS ARE GIVEN PRICE INCREASE

Retail prices of "economy brand" cigarettes have been increased from a half to one cent a package, to meet increased manufacturing costs. The new price increase covers Avalons, Beechnuts, Dominos, Marvels, Paul Jones, Sensations, Twenty Grands and Wings. A package of so-called "economy brand" cigarettes will now cost 18c, or 12½c when sold in multiple lots.

Hard Work is Needed to Reach Bond Drive Goal

Campaign Gains Momentum in Some Areas This Week, Says Chairman

LUNDGREN APPEALS FOR SUPREME EFFORT

Numedal Was First Township to Meet Assigned Quota of Pledges

Pennington county citizens have invested $272,940 in war bonds since the third war loan drive started, or 44.75 per cent of its quota of $608,500. The detailed tabulation is published on Page 15 of this issue.

The Pennington county third war loan drive, which lagged last week apparently gained momentum this week. While we are not yet out of the woods so far as attaining the quota is concerned, there are now enough pledges reported, which with a little additional work, should bring the county to the top, said Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman.

Goodridge village still leads the field. This little village not only oversubscribed its quota, they have at date actually purchased $4,601 in bonds and now holds a rating of 115%. If, said Mr. Lundgren, a person stops to consider that here is a village situated in an area where floods reduced farming to a low level this year, and when you stop to consider that they were stripped of their only railroad a few years ago, you have to take off your hat to such a splendid display of loyalty. The Village of St. Hilaire has also oversubscribed its quota.

Mrs. Soren Knutson, chairman for Numedal township, was first in the rural area to meet her township's quota. With a quota of $4,500, she reported subscriptions of $4,574 on Friday, September 17. Numedal not only has met their subscriptions, but on the basis of purchases this township also ranks high. Mrs. Clara Swanson assisted Mrs. Knutson in soliciting.

Mrs. V. C. McLeod, chairman of Goodridge township who has been assisted by Tom Belland, was second in attaining the quota. Goodridge township, with a quota of $5,000 has actually subscribed $5,387.25. If, said Mr. Lundgren, anyone were asked to pick the two poorest townships in Pennington county they would instantly pick Goodridge and Numedal. Numedal is the most sparsely settled township in the county, with large tracts of poor land. Goodridge likewise is sparsely settled with perhaps slightly better land than Numedal township, but because of drainage, it is intermittently subjected to those heart-breaking years of flood during wet weather when often the accumulated earnings of the past must be used for the purchase of feed in order to maintain their livestock. The achievement of these two townships is a demon-

Lincoln Students Will Help in Potato Fields

To aid in relieving what was described by C. M. Kelehan state farm help supervisor of the state extension service, as a desperate manpower shortage in the potato fields of western Polk county, the Thief River Falls board of education at a special meeting Tuesday voted to cooperate by allowing students in Lincoln senior high school to volunteer their service as pickers each afternoon, starting today.

Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted announced that more than enough students to fill the three buses which will be available have volunteered their services. The fourth bus and the bus from the St. Hilaire school will be used to transport students in the local rural areas to their homes as in the past.

To enable students to put in half-days in the potatoes fields, the opening hour of senior high school has been set ahead temporily to 8 o'clock, and with classroom periods shortened from 60 minutes to 40, the day's session will end at 12:30, while the buses will leave for the potato fields at 1:15.

Students in junior high school will not be affected so far as afternoon classes are concerned, altho their morning periods will be shortened to correspond with those in senior high school.

The volunteer potato pickers will return to this city each evening shortly after 9 o'clock. The emergency is expected to be over within about two weeks, and in the event of wet weather classes will resume their regular schedule.

Seek to Have Red Lake Dam Closed to Relieve River Flood Condition

Carsten Mead of Red Lake Falls, member of the Tri State Waters Commission, and W. E. Dahlquist of Thief River Falls will visit the Red Lake Indian Agency this afternoon to confer with officials there in an effort to have the dam at the outlet closed for time being to relieve flood conditions along Red Lake River. Reports indicate that the lake level has receded considerably and there is no longer an immediate danger of an overflow of the banks. It is thought that closing the outlet dam for a few weeks will make it possible to drain the flooded areas along the river.

MAY OBTAIN GOOD RAMS SATURDAY AT EXCHANGE DAY

Annual Sale and Trading Day Scheduled for County Fair Grounds

"Buying a good ram to head the flock will do more to improve the income from sheep than any other move the owner can make," says County Agent Ernest Palmer, in announcing the annual ram sale and exchange to serve Pennington county.

Sheepmen of the county will get together at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Saturday, September 25, starting at 10:00 A. M. to pick flock sires that will get them better wooled, growthier, and faster-gaining lambs next spring.

Again this year the sheep day has been arranged by the county extension office and a committee of sheep breeders. Local purebred breeders will consign their extra rams and growers of market lambs will be invited to bring in good purebred rams that are no longer of use in their own flocks. While the largest selection will be of Shropshire and Hampshire breeds, other breeds will also be represented.

Also featuring the sale will be a discussion of the phenothiazine method of treating for nodular and stomach worms.

"Selecting a young ram at the ram sale is an excellent way of getting a good sire for the flock without the trouble of driving long distances or hunting around," says Mr. Palmer. "It is foolish to leave an inferior old ram with the flock another year when a better sire will more than pay for himself with the first crop of lambs."

Brazilian Woods Superior

Attains 88th Birthday

MRS. CATHERINE ALBIN

Whose 88th birthday last Thursday was observed with a party at the home of her son, Robert W. Nelson. After residing in the Plummer vicinity for 47 years, Mrs. Albin and her husband moved to this city from Wyandotte township in 1937. Mr. Albin died in March, 1942.

Rev. V. L. Peterson, Baptist Church Pastor, Accepts St. Paul Post

Rev. V. L. Peterson of the First Baptist church resigned last Sunday to take up work in St. Paul. He recently received a call from the board of trustees of Midwest Jewish Mission to be superintendent and director of that work with headquarters in St. Paul. Rev. Peterson has served the local Baptist church as pastor for five years. In connection with his work as pastor he has been broadcasting over WDAY, Fargo, to the Jewish people of the Northwest. Rev. Peterson will bring a special word of greeting to his radio audience next Sunday morning at 8:30 A. M.

HARD WORK IS NEEDED TO PUT THIS COUNTY OVER BOND QUOTA

stration in loyalty which should fire the enthusiasm and spirit in every other township to continue the good work until their quotas have been reached.

The solicitation in Bray township really turned out to be a family affair with Mrs. Emil Larson chairman and her husband as advisor. Bray, with a quota of $7,500, was third in line to report the completion of their solicitation with subscriptions totalling $8,400, $900 above its quota.

Solicitation in the townships of Norden, Highlanding, Sanders, and Polk Centre have also been completed. Unfortunately these townships have not yet reached 100% of their quota. The committee is, therefore, reworking these townships in the hope that before October 1st these townships will have attained their goal. Of this group Polk Centre is closest to reaching its quota.

Star township, with a quota of $8,000 has already bought $6,837.50 in bonds. This township was 4th to complete its solicitation with pledges totaling $8,608.75. This township is the highest in percentage of completion. Reiner township, with a quota of $6,500, has reported purchases of $2,306.25.

Partial reports have been received from River Falls, Smiley, Mayfield, Deer Park, North and Wyandotte which rather indicates that if these townships do not make their quotas it is going to be very close. A little extra lift from those who have already been solicited could easily put these townships in the winning column. River Falls was a banner township in both the first and the second war loan drives. Thus far Mrs. Frank Johnson, the chairman of this township, has reported solicitations of $10,400. A tabulation of the purchases shows that from a quota of $15,000 this township has already purchased $5,949.50.

Only scattered reports have been received from Black River, Cloverleaf, Hickory, Rocksbury, Silverton, and Kratka, but the committee in these townships are still hopeful.

Pennington county made a wonderful record in both the first and second war loan drives. In the second war loan drive on the basis of percentage this county was second in the state and third in the Ninth federal reserve district. With a record like that we must not fail in meeting our quota now, Mr. Lundgren said. We are so close to the attainment of our goal that if everybody gives a helping hand there is no reason why the goal should not be made.

Thief River Falls was again assigned the lion's share of the county quota. The solicitation in the city has not yet been completed, but from reports coming in it seems almost certain that the city will meet its quota. $214,000 was assigned for general solicitation. Of this amount more than $150,000 has already been purchased. $100,000 was set aside for the county, city and outside business purchases. This amount has been oversubscribed and to date $127,122 has been purchased.

Admittedly the solicitation did not come at the most opportune time so far as the country is concerned, as the farmers have not had an opportunity to cash in their fall crops. The solicitors in the country are doing remarkable work. They deserve a lot of credit. They report that they have been cordially received by the public but complain that the solicitation has been an arduous task because they have been unable to find their people at home.

"When the solicitation has been completed and Pennington County finally slips into the 100% column," Mr. Lundgren stated "the Victory Aides, that splendid organization which was formed entirely as a service group and the busy workers who have in these busy times sacrificed their own work to carry on, should be entitled to another merit badge."

LUTHER LEAGUES AND LDR SESSION OCTOBER 1 TO 3RD

Trinity Church to be Scene of Annual Circuit Convention

Local arrangements for the fall conventions of the Thief River Falls Circuit Luther Leagues and Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation, to be held at Trinity Church October 1-3, were announced this week by the pastor of the church, Rev. G. S. Thompson. The conventions will bring several hundred visitors from the sixty congregations of the circuit.

Guest speakers will be the Rev. Carl H. Ylvisaker, of Concordia College in Moorhead, and the Rev. Abner Haugen, of Crookston. The opening session of the Luther League convention is scheduled for Friday evening, Oct. first.

Philip Kays, president of the Trinity Luther League, has appointed committees to superintend local arrangements. Eileen Grinde and Doris Hegrenes are co-chairmen of the housing committee which is soliciting lodgings for 100 overnight guests of the convention. Abigail Thomas is chairman of the registration committee, and Sylvia Borchert heads the music committee. An outing for the visitors is being planned for Saturday afternoon, October 2nd, at Tindolph park, with Jean Effinger and Eileen Louze in charge of the committees on arrangements.

Miss Lois Morell, president of the Dorcas Society, and Miss Margaret Stadum, president of the local L. D. R. group, have charge of the local arrangements for the convention of the Circuit Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation. This convention, which opens with a banquet session on Sunday evening, October 3rd, at the Community Church, will consist of two sessions. Miss G. Heyerdahl, of Roseau, will preside. Miss Elizabeth Dahlen, of this city, is vice president of the circuit organization.

The evening service at 8:00 o'clock will bring the Luther League and the L. D. R. into a joint concluding session which will be in the nature of an observance of the 100th anniversary of Norwegian Lutheran church work in the United States. A pageant will be presented by a group of girls from the Roseau L. D. R. Rev. Abner Haugen will deliver the closing address.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. O. Grinde, a committee from the Trinity ladies aid will serve meals to the convention guests on Saturday noon, Sunday noon, and Sunday evening.

Rites for Mrs. Emma Drake Held Saturday in Thief Lake Church

THE WORLD'S WAR MAKERS

Those Americans who are constantly screaming that Britain is taking advantage of us are doing Adolph Hitler a good service and are adding to the difficulties we will face in attempting to work out a permanent peace program when the war ends. The success of such a peace program will depend largely upon the willingness of the three world powers, Britain, Russia and the United States, to work together in reasonable harmony. Anything that now tends to disrupt the relations between these powers tends also to increase the probability of future wars.

Prejudices that now exist must be overcome and they can be overcome only by a sympathetic understanding of each others problems. There are Britishers who are constantly sniping at Russians and Americans and there are Russians who are constantly sniping at Britishers and Americans, just as there are Americans who are constantly sniping at Russians and Britishers. Intelligent criticism and discussion of plans and policies are necessary and helpful but the criticism that tends to create distrust of an allied nation is harmful. We have little regard for gossips, those who, by their whisperings, cause the characters of individuals to be questioned. Those who spread evil tales about nations of people do the world a greater dis-service than ordinary gossips. They are the real war makers.

A record breaking potato crop is being harvested in the Red River Valley and growers are running a nip and tuck race with Jack Frost to save this important food product. Under normal conditions, with an ample labor supply, this would not be much of a problem for the growers. Under present conditions they are pretty much at the mercy of the elements and they have appealed for help. Thief River Falls is doing its bit by adjusting its high school program so as to make it possible for many of our students to put in a few hours a day in the fields—and a hundred young huskies can sack a lot of potatoes in a few hours. This is both the neighborly and the patriotic thing to do.

Construction of the Thief River Falls airport is now under way. At least a start is being made by getting a part of the land that will be used as an airport cleared and leveled off so that it can be used as a landing field. That is some progress and is sufficient for the time being. From this point on development can be gradual, meeting requirements as they develop. The ground now being improved may serve the community as an airport several hundred years and some consideration should be given, as it has, to what future needs will be. Fortunately in the construction of the airport we can build for today and still plan for tomorrow.

THOSE FOUR FREEDOMS

In coming months you are going to hear much about the "four freedoms" that the new dealers tell us we are fighting for and which, presumably, we are going to give to all nations of the world, free of charge. All this may sound swell to big hearted Americans but some of the foreigners seem to be a little skeptical about the prospect. A Chinese philosopher, Dr. Lin Yutang, is not at all enthused, and perhaps his comments on the subject should be given some consideration. For further reference you might paste these following remarks of Dr. Lin's in your scrap book:

> "Two of the four freedoms are not freedoms at all. Freedom from fear is not freedom, but political security. Freedom from want is not freedom, but economic security. Both may be achieved at the cost of human freedom, and probably will, if we think too much about animal security.
> "Nothing gives such a feeling of perfect freedom from want and fear to a dog as a collar around its neck. Its next meal is guaranteed. A bird in a cage has exchanged its freedom on the wing for freedom from the preying hawk and freedom from starvation in the snow. But a bird which deliberately flies into a cage cannot be said to be fighting for its freedom except by the most caustic casuistry.
> "We may, if we like, easily add a few more freedoms, like 'freedom from disease,' which is health, and 'freedom from dirt,' which is cleanliness, and 'freedom from the telephone,' which is peace and rest—ad infinitum.
> "And so when we speak of freedom we must stick to the original meaning of the term, just plain good old freedom—human freedom. It is possible for man to have all the four freedoms—to talk and think as he pleases and to be fed and sheltered in security—and yet be a slave."

Our armed forces seem to be getting good cooperation from the French and the Italians in the Mediterranean campaign. Sardinia has been delivered by the Italian soldiers stationed there and now French and Italian armies are driving the Germans out of Corsica. In several other areas the Italian surrender is paying dividends and the belly side of Europe has been made very much a second front of the war. With Corsica in our hands we will be able to shorten flying distances to important enemy strongholds very materially. This island will be especially valuable as an air base from which to cover advancing allied armies on the Italian mainland.

If the Lincoln High School band isn't in the pit Saturday night to play a concert preceding the 4-H show at the Auditorium you will know it is because too many of the musicians have been converted into potato pickers. They still will be making music however. Certainly the potato picking will make sweet music to growers who are worried about coming cold weather. And the jingling of coins in the pockets of the pickers will be sweet music to them.

Rain is one thing the fair management is not going to worry about this year. The program is going to be presented in the Auditorium where neither overcoats nor mosquito lotion will be needed.

RESOLUTION

SPECIAL PENSIONS — Delegates voted that the Minnesota Legislature, in accordance with recent action which pensioned a State Judge, also provide the same pension for all of the aged in Minnesota. The law as passed provides for the payment of $8,500 per year for four years and $4,250 per year thereafter. It is the opinion of the Townsend clubs and members that all citizens should be treated the same and if $8,500 per year pension is necessary for a Judge, who has received over $200,000 in salary from the taxpayers of Minnesota, it is also necessary for businessmen, professional people, laborers, farmers, salaried workers and all other citizens who grow too old to work. 39p

HUNTERS CANNOT POOL THEIR GAS COUPONS, IS RULE

Rules Will Not be Relaxed, Fargo Office of OPA Announces

Special interpretation of gasoline rationing regulations will not be made to favor hunters and to permit them to pool their gasoline coupons, according to Harold W. Bangert, district director of the Office of Price Administration.

"Those who suggest that rationing regulations should be relaxed to favor recreational driving must have forgotten that many men who have, in years past, been hunting in this state have had their last hunting trip and are now lying on the beaches of Salerno and other battle fields of this war," said Bangert.

"Gas rations are issued to the person applying and for use only in the applicant's car. When purchasing gasoline the car owner must exhibit to the filing station attendant his book with coupons attached. Endorsed on the face of the coupon should be the license number of the car into which the gasoline has been delivered. This requirement is intended to prevent circulation of loose coupons upon which the black marketeers in large part depend," he said.

"Recreation is as necessary a part of lives as is work. There is nothing unpatriotic about the use of gasoline for recreational purposes within the limitations of rationing regulations. But I can think of no reason why we should enforce regulations when they apply to business uses of gasoline, and then relax them when they apply to the use of gasoline for pleasure," Bangert said.

PROWLERS TRIM ALUMNI TEAM 8-0 IN GAME FRIDAY

Bob Baker Goes Over for a Touchdown on Forward Pass Play

Coach Glenn Hanna's Prowlers, preparing for their season's opener at Red Lake Falls tomorrow, played a practice game against a burly alumni aggregation under the lights Friday night, and the Prowlers came out of the hard-fought tussle with an 8 to 0 win. Marvin "Ninsk" Carlson tossed a pass to left end Bob Baker for the touchdown, and the Prowlers added two points on a safety when they caught Homer Matheson behind the Alumni goal line.

Only seven lettermen—captain Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Bill McKechnie, Bob Baker, Chuck Richards, Herb Claffy and Art Forsberg — were in the Prowler lineup that faced the Alumni at the kickoff. The Alumni had such former Prowler stars as Pete Michalsky, Ray Oen, Don Berg, LaMarr Hanson, Lefty Bredeson, Homer Matheson, Dale Ayers, Johnny Parbst, and Gordy Relerson in their lineup, and in addition were given assistance by "Tarzan" Shaw U.S.N.

WALTON LEAGUE ASKS SAVING OF DUCK FEATHERS

Statewide Campaign Planned for Benefit of Armed Services

Feathers from ducks shot in Minnesota this season will go into sleeping bags, flier's vests and other commodities needed by America's armed forces under a program launched today by the Izaak Walton League with assistance of other conservation groups.

More than 2,000 fifteen-pound bags for duck feathers will be set up in hardware stores, filling stations, sporting goods stores, club rooms and other places where sportsmen congregate to receive feathers for the program, according to O. W. Hallin, director of the drive. Mr. Hallin, formerly of Hibbing, is a past commander of the Hibbing American Legion post and former secretary of the Izaak Walton League.

"We hope all organizations in Minnesota interested in conservation will participate in this program," Hallin said. "These feathers are needed for the comfort of our soldiers and even to save their lives. It's a program that every sportsman can participate in on a basis of a handful or a bag full, as he wishes."

Hallin urged all duck hunters to dry pick their ducks this year and not use paraffine until all usable feathers are off the birds. Keep the feathers in bags until ready to deliver and then drop them in one of the Izaak Walton bags.

Supplemental Gas to be Available to Volunteer Trucks in Scrap Drive

Supplemental gasoline will be available for volunteer trucks to be used in hauling scrap under the supervision of the county salvage chairman during the fall campaign, Chairman Carl Christofferson was notified this week by the general salvage branch of the war production board in Minneapolis. Prowlers

I didn't get a chance to see the Prowlers in action against the Alumni last Friday night—I was laid up with an attack of pleurisy but the reports I received from the fans is that the Prowlers, in spite of being handicapped by lack of weight and experience, will produce some surprises during the season. That is, if their play against the Alumni is any criterion, for they looked pretty fair in dumping the star-studded alumni.

The lineup which coach Hanna is sending through intensive drills this week in preparation for the game at Red Lake Falls on Friday, and it's the same lineup that started against the Alumni, has four seniors, Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Bill McKechnie, and Roy Rupprecht; five juniors, Bob Baker, Herb Claffy, Chuck Richards, Manny Forsberg, and Billy Nelson, and two sophomores, Ninsk Carlson and Roger Tunberg. Not much heft in that lineup, but it does possess fine backfield speed and niftiness. The Prowlers, it appears, won't be a "power" team this year, and they will have to go for their touchdowns by deception and the aerial route. With Bob Baker and Manny Forsberg at the ends, and with Ninsk Carlson doing the tossing, the Prowlers should be able to pick up some yardage with their passing attack.

Meet Red Lake Falls

Haven't learned much about John Larson's team at Red Lake Falls this year, but the purple-and gold school has a fine football tradition and always comes up with a strong outfit. And a factor in Red Lake Falls' favor is that the game, for the first time in a number of years, will be played on the Red Lake Falls field.

Norm Furuseth, the Prowlers captain, is pretty optimistic about the season's outlook, and claims that the local club will win at least four of their six games. He concedes that the Prowlers will be the short-enders against Bemidji and Moorhead; but that they will "take" Red Lake Falls, East Grand Forks, Warren, and Crookston. I'm not so sure about that Crookston contest.

River Valley

About the only crop that the water-soaked and distressed farmers in the River Valley area were able to raise this year was ducks, and as a result there will be a large number of local nimrods making the trip out there to open the duck-hunting season on Saturday. The water, and it must have come from Red Lake, has flooded thousands of acres of farm land. The water is so high that a dike is necessary to hold it from coming over the road east of the River Valley bridge. Some of the hunters will probably "work" the territory between Neptune bridge and the Indian reservation, but I imagine that the majority will be in that seven mile stretch between River Valley and Neptune.

I had intended on opening the duck-hunting season in the River Valley vicinity, but I learned, from the Main Ave. "grapevine" that Goose Gulseth, wearing his new water-proofed duck-hunting pants, is going out in that territory. And Goose, dressed in those pants, won't be a duck decoy.

Have-a-Laugh Dept.

Ames "P. I." Pederson, one of the city's most rabid duck hunters, won't be able to out hunting on Saturday. "P. I.", who claims that he has so much ability as a hunter that he's able to furnish everyone in Tindolph's addition with game, is a salesman for the Gamble-Robinson company, as as a reward for fine sales record the past several weeks "P. I" has been awarded a ten-day trip, and he and manager Harold Helleckson will leave tomorrow evening. You should have heard "P. I." try to argue the management into postponing the trip until after the opening of the duck-hunting season! All the hotspots will be "burned" out by the time he returns, so it will be interesting to watch him drag in a mallard hen or two, and then to listen to his alibi.

MOST INTENSIVE SCRAP CAMPAIGN OPENS OCTOBER 1

Seek Collection of 500,000 Tons Scrap for U. S. Steel Mills

The most intensive campaign to collect scrap iron and steel since Pearl Harbor will get under way in the northwest, October 1, in a drive to gather up more than 500,000 tons for the nation's steel mills.

The supply of scrap on hand at the mills is enough only for two months, and WPB officials said a 10,000,000-ton inventory must be available by January 1 to keep steel furnaces operating 100 percent all through the winter.

Every farmer in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana will be visited by county salvage officials and other organizations cooperating in the all-out effort to bring in the scrap for the "Victory Scrap Bank". Farmers throughout the area are being called upon to produce half the total northwest quota, or about a half ton per farm average.

Farmers who have scrap available will be urged to bring it to their nearest community, possibly joining forces if they have small amounts to bring a full load in. Where problems in the bringing in of the scrap arise, county salvage officials will be in a position to suggest solutions, WPB said, and will continue checking farms in their areas to make sure that all available scrap is put into community "Victory Scrap Banks".

WPB officials reminded northwest residents that the victorious march of United Nations' forces in all the war theatres cannot be an influence in the war effort other than a spur to greater accomplishment on the home front.

The farther ahead the armed forces go, the more equipment they need, which means heavier production at home. This requires more raw materials.

Buyers of Used Trucks to Give Transfer Notice

Purchasers of used trucks must file a certificate of transfer when applying for gas rations, said Waldie Christensen, chairman of the Pennington county war price and rationing board. The requirement, effective September 16, that both buyer and seller of used trucks must sign a certificate showing that they have complied with price regulations, is for the purpose of assuring buyers that present ceiling prices will remain stable. The local war price and rationing board and dealers have a supply of these truck certificates of transfer.

Food for Prisoners of War

Contents of an American Red Cross standard food package, 400,000 of which now are being decorated with Christmas motifs in red and green preparatory to distribution through the Red Cross to United States prisoners of war in Europe during the Christmas season. In addition to the standard food parcels, 10,000 special Christmas packages containing such items as baked ham, fruit cake, fruit bars, jam, peanut butter, hard candy, candied nuts and one game also are being prepared for shipment to prisoners. Contents of the boxes are furnished by the government, but the American Red Cross is responsible for the packing, shipping and distribution.

Shoe Dealers to Take Inventories at End of September, OPA States

All shoe establishments, retailers, distributors, jobbers and manufacturers, are required to take inventory of rationed shoes on hand as of the close of business Thursday, September 30, OPA has announced.

Every shoe dealer must prepare the report in duplicate, keeping one copy and sending one copy to OPA Inventory Unit, Empire State Building, New York City, on or before October 10.

Dealers will receive the new inventory forms through the mail. Any dealer who does not receive such forms by September 27 must apply to his local rationing board or his OPA district office for the two copies of OPA form R-1701-a.

Early filing of the reports will furnish information on actual inventories which will contribute directly to government decision on the length of shoe ration periods.

Christmas Seals to be Used on Overseas Mail Now Being Sold in City

An advance supply of the 1943 tuberculosis Christmas Seals has arrived in this city, Mrs. Leonard C. Hanson, chairman of the local Christmas Seal committee, announced.

These are the seals for use on overseas Christmas mail for the armed forces. They are made available now because the government asks everyone to mail Christmas gift packages to men and women in overseas branches of the armed forces, starting September 15.

The official 1943 Christmas Seal campaign does not open until November 22, but this year, as was done in 1942, stamps with the double-barred cross on them will be offered for sale at once, so they can be used on Yuletide mail going overseas.

Christmas Seals can be ordered by telephone by calling 688. They also may be obtained at the local postoffice.

RELIGIOUS SECT MEMBERS JAILED IN FEDERAL COURT

66 Jehovahs Witnesses Fined for Illegal Entry from Canada

Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye, accompanying his action with a rebuke of people who decide which laws they would obey, sentenced 15 women and 51 men to jail terms Friday in Crookston for illegal entry from Canada.

The group was sentenced on pleas of guilty to charges of coming into this country illegally, presumably to attend the national convention of Jehovah Witnesses, a religious sect, in Minneapolis.

All the men but one were sentenced to 60-day jail terms, to be served at a place to be designated by the U. S. attorney general.

The exception, Omar Luplen, was sentenced to Sandstone federal prison for four months because of a prior conviction of illegal entry in 1941.

The 15 women also received 60-day jail terms but another woman was permitted to return to Canada as soon as Canadian authorities would receive her because her daughter is ill and needs attention. The woman was Annie Fordecaka.

At time of pleading, several of the men and women made statements challenging the court's jurisdiction.

Some said there were no man-made laws.

Judge Nordbye asked them by what right they chose to respect and enjoy some laws, such as freedom of worship, and yet showed disregard for others. Then he declared people who did not support laws of this country or its government have no right to "come down here and choose which laws they will obey."

When some defendants warned that for the next convention they would come to this country in thousands, the judge warned them they would only encounter difficulties more serious and bring disgrace upon their religion.

The group first pleaded innocent but, after a conference of leaders with the court, the pleas were changed to guilty. They were arrested several weeks ago as they were attempting to return to Canada thru Roseau county following close of the Minneapolis convention.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

At Jeb Crowell's the other day, we were havin' a glass of beer or two and talkin' about the kind of world there'd be when Peace came.

"Hear they'll have trans-Atlantic airplanes flyin' regular as taxi service," says Ed Carey.

"Yep," says Will Frost, "and television and plastic cars and air-conditioned homes and super-duper highways."

Finally, Doc Mitchell chimes in. "You know," he says, "we're talkin' about the future in terms of luxuries—like air-conditioned houses and television.

"But what really will shape tomorrow's world is what goes on in men's own brains . . . like tolerance and understanding."

And from where I sit, Doc's right. Whether it's tolerance of another's politics or a neighbor's right to enjoy a glass of beer occasionally, tolerance is a mighty good foundation for a peacetime world.

"Borrowed Timers"

Near Ellensburg, Wash., a group of 13 people live, who have been "given up" by doctors, and they call themselves "Borrowed Timers." Many of them, according to their doctors, should have died from one to four years ago. Since 1936, when the colony was started, not one has died. They live on a 40-acre farm and are self-supporting. The idea originated with Guyer D. Thomas, who is now president of the colony.

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

. . . or how to be liked in London

That's Wizard, says the genial Britisher when he wants to pay you a compliment. Have a "Coke", says the American soldier, and in three words they see things alike. It's as true in a London garden as in a Los Angeles patio. All over the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the happy bond between friendly-minded people.

Shotgun Shells—If Any, Under Price Control

Shotgun shells are under price control, announced OPA officials, although a check with retail stores indicates that most dealers have reached the end of their supply. The ceiling price, outlined in maximum price regulation 210, is determined from retail selling prices of previous seasons. If hunters can find any shells, the price at retail will be around $1.25 for a box of 12 gauge shells.

Some Copies of Ration Book Three Defective; They May be Exchanged

Holders of defective War Ration Book Three may surrender them to the local war price and rationing board and receive a proper book in exchange without application, Harold W. Bangert, director of the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district, said.

Several instances of books lacking the sheets of stamps bearing the letters "A" through "M" and containing a duplication of the sheets bearing the letters "N" through "Z" have been reported to local boards and to the district OPA office.

Persons holding incomplete books because of printer's error should seek replacements immediately through their local board, Mr. Bangert said. Under no circumstances will local boards issue War Ration Books Three to consumers other than those presenting books with defects. All other applications or requests will be handled by the local boards through the State Mailing Center in Fargo.

Spuds!

FOR FORTY MILLION FIGHTING MEN

POTATOES sufficient to feed 40,000,000 hungry men—that's a big order, but it's an order that shippers along Soo Line have been filling for many years.

Some of the world's finest potatoes are raised in the great Northwest and a feature of those grown in the fertile lands tributary to the Soo Line is that they are in demand everywhere as high grade seed potatoes.

While potatoes comprise only a fraction of the freight tonnage the SOO LINE brings to market, it is an important one, particularly today. For many years the SOO LINE has striven to offer shippers a service of the highest standard, and today, despite many handicaps due to the war, we're still fulfilling our pledge.

An Open Letter TO OUR BOYS In the Armed Forces

You can Count on the People in This Community 100%

BOYS . . . yours is a tough job. Fighting this war is no fun. We know that . . . and this letter is to tell you that the people in this community are back of you to the limit . . . with everything they've got.

Here at home there is a serious pulpwood shortage. More pulpwood is needed and needed urgently for blood plasma containers, rayon for parachutes, smokeless powder, food cases and a thousand and one other things you boys need.

Well, we're starting a drive right now in this community to cut more pulpwood.

If we can't shoulder a gun the least we can do is shoulder an axe or a saw.

Our government says that it would take only 3 extra days of work this year for each able-bodied man to do the job that's needed. This is little enough to ask of any of us.

Well, if 3 extra work days will bring you boys home sooner . . . or even save one boy's life . . . we will put in the 3 extra days . . . and gladly.

We know our people and know the stuff they are made of. They have been fighting this War on the home front every day—buying War Bonds, working in war factories, on farms, and cutting pulpwood. But, if more pulpwood is needed, you will get it. This town and its people when called on always come through . . . and they won't fail you now.

We will back you up with Blood, Sweat and Trees.

STATE HAS PLAN FOR EMPLOYMENT STABILIZATION

No Limit Placed by Regulations on Hiring by Farmers

Farmers and farm workers are affected by some sections of a statewide employment stabilization program, adopted in St. Paul last week by the newly organized Minnesota war manpower committee, made up of a group of six representative leaders in the state who are to serve as advisors to Dreng Bjornaraa, state WMC director.

The program provides that farmers shall have the unrestricted right to employ any workers, but that farm workers may not move into industrial jobs without referral by the United States employment service and clearance from the War Food administration, through the USDA county war boards.

The state committee, which is concerned primarily with industrial employment, spent two days considering recommended persons to serve 27 area war manpower committees. There will be one committee in each jurisdiction of 26 USES offices in the state. Committees already have been formed to serve the Twin Cities and the Duluth areas. One is being formed in the Iron Range area, served by USES offices at Hibbing, Virginia, and Grand Rapids.

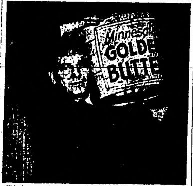
Workers transferring in violation of War Manpower Commission policies cannot be hired for new jobs within 60 days after quitting present positions.

Workers in essential industries must obtain statements of availability for transfer, either from their employer or from the U. S. employment service, before they can obtain new jobs.

ST. PETER IN CHARGE OF GATES

St. Peter.—St. Peter is actually in charge of the railroad gates at Blue Earth. Earl St. Peter to be specific, has done his work well allowing the traffic to cross the railroad tracks only when the "all clear" is provided. His success at his job might be partially due to the unusual association of his name with his particular duties.

MINNESOTA BUTTER VS. NEBRASKA HOG



This sixty pound tub of butter is no load for Minnesota's farmer Governor Thye. This tub of butter is pitted against a corn-fed hog in a bet between Thye and Governor Griswold of Nebraska that Minnesota will exceed its 3rd War Loan quota by a greater percentage than the State of Nebraska.

LITTLE RED HEN SITS IN WRONG PLACE

Dawson.—When J. H. Dwinnell attempted to start his car one morning recently, it wouldn't start. The starter turned over the motor, but no go. Cranking was of no help. Lifting the hood of the car he found a little red hen sitting atop the motor, apparently shorting the ignition wires. Frightened at his intrusion she flew off her perch and Mr. Dwinnell again stepped on the starter and into action went the motor.

Impassable roads? Mountainous territory? An urgent need to move fighting men, supplies and even jeeps by air? Our armed forces have found the answer. It is one of the thrilling new developments of the war—the use of gliders, which are now being produced in imposing numbers.

Our Refrigeration Division volunteered long ago to help Uncle Sam build gliders. The shops that once made equipment for ice cream and frozen food dealers the country over were revamped completely and old and new workers trained for this important enterprise.

Can skilled metal workers and cabinet makers turn quickly from manufacturing refrigeration equipment to making glider parts? Yes indeed!

INCIDENTALLY, our Refrigeration Division was created many years ago as a result of experience gained in making millions of tons of ice to produce the world's most popular beer.

Budweiser

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and textiles—to name a few.

LAND O'LAKES NEWS
IT'S THE EXTRAS THAT MAKE THE DIFFERENCE!

ALL DAIRYMEN know that their largest return is usually on the initial sale of butterfat. But, in Land O' Lakes, there are many EXTRA potential returns, because the Land O' Lakes member creameries own and control ALL the movements of the butterfat—packaging, processing, shipping and sales. Thus, in Land O' Lakes, returns don't stop at the creamery door.

BUT, there are many other EXTRA advantages to a marketing membership in Land O' Lakes—intangible but important "Extras" that are so important today.

LISTED are only a few of the services and departments that facilitate the work of Land O' Lakes member creameries:
- Legal advice
- Engineering and construction advice
- Supply and equipment sales service, assistance with priorities, regulations, etc.
- Counsel and information on fast changing government orders, prices, rulings, etc.

REMEMBER, these are only a few of the EXTRAS if your creamery has a marketing membership in Land O' Lakes.

To the People of Pennington County:

THE THIRD WAR LOAN DRIVE ends on September 30, 1943. Unless we are granted an extension in the time to complete our quota this will be our last appeal for you to Back the Attack.

If I told you that everything was rosy, I would deceive you, lie to myself, and betray my country. So that you may see for yourself just where each subdivision of Pennington County stands Mrs. Marjorie Kiland, County chairwoman, with the assistance of her staff, has tabulated every bond purchase made in Pennington County up to Wednesday night, September 22. This report, together with percentages of goal reached, is set forth below.

Raising 15 billion dollars over a period of twenty days is a stupendous task. Nationally it amounts to approximately $110.00 for every man, woman, and child. It is clear that the goal cannot be reached from loose change in our pockets or from purchase of stamps. It must be a sacrifice.

There has been some complaint that the Pennington County quota is unusually high. The Pennington County quota based upon population is $40.09 for every man, woman and child. When you stop to think that we are a county with more than two million dollars on deposit in our banks, you cannot honestly say that we are more than forty per cent less fortunate than the average in the United States.

It is true that because of the lateness of the season the drive comes at an unfortunate time as the rural areas have not yet cashed in their fall crops. This affects particularly those who are called upon for large purchases. Persons in that group who are sure of an income in the next thirty, sixty, or ninety days can undoubtedly secure a short time loan to enable them to meet their quota. The difference in interest would make the cost to the individual only 15c per hundred dollars per month. No one should, of course, borrow money to buy bonds unless they are sure of meeting the note in a very short time.

It is more honorable to borrow the money and meet your quota than to let your township down. It is now the government needs your money. Buying bonds only from idle funds is no sacrifice. If only those who were out of debt bought bonds, Hitler would be in Washington.

I have the greatest confidence in the people of Pennington County. We made a marvelous record in the First and Second War Loan drives. We should not fail now. While the picture so far as purchases is concerned is not particularly bright, a tabulation of pledges which have been reported thus far indicates that we are within reach of the goal. No one must ever say that Pennington County sold its soldiers short. Let's make it our business to see to it that our township and our county meets its quota. There are seven days left in which to buy bonds. The decision now rests with you.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL A. LUNDGREN, Chairman
Pennington County War Bond Committee.

Italy has fallen—but the war is not over and you know it! Think of Berlin and Tokyo—think of the men dying at this moment.

Can we, you and I, afford to let them down—to turn their battlefront victory into a home-front defeat? Let's buy more War Bonds than ever . . . let's back up their victory with ours—the success of the 3rd War Loan!

There are battles coming—tough, bloody, hard-to-win battles—before this war is over. And it's the last battle that counts. We've got to back up our fighting men . . . we've got to buy War Bonds with every dollar, every dime we can scrape up.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT said it, as Commander-in-Chief:

"I say that we Americans will not be satisfied to send our troops into the fire of the enemy with equipment only equal to that of the enemy. We are determined to provide our troops with overpowering superiority of quality and quantity of arms and armaments . . ."

Our fighting men will do their job—it's up to you, personally, to keep their victories safe by buying War Bonds NOW with every dollar you can—not with what you'd ordinarily save or invest, but more—every bit more you can manage.

Let's Have A
CORN GROWERS PARTY

Three years ago we sponsored a CORN GROWERS CONTEST. Now let's make it a party. The contest of three years ago was interesting to all who took part. There is a lot of mighty fine corn in the country and each year there is evidence of progress in corn growing. All of you who grow corn or are interested in corn crops should get together for a fall discussion and party.

We have the room in our place and we want to help make this an interesting event, we will try to do our part. We will arrange to get some men here who know something about corn that can answer your questions. We will arrange for a lunch. We are not going to brag about prizes, but perhaps something worth while for the winner. But the main object is for all to be winners by gaining some valued information about corn and some one may know something about corn growing you haven't thought about and you may have something to tell him.

Get busy now and pick out ten ears of your best samples of corn from your field and save them until the first part of November and we will set a date for the get-to-gether, later.

If you are interested in an event of this kind let us know and I assure you we will try and do our part.

Attention Poultry Men!

Helpful hints on preparing your laying flock for the coming winter's egg production.

1. Have your pullets in the laying house before they reach 10% egg production.

2. Have your laying house thoroughly cleaned before housing new stock. Do not mix pullets with old hens. The old hens are chronic carriers of disease and they will get too fat on pullet rations.

3. Feed Leghorns growing mash and grain until they are 5½ to six months old and heavies, 6½ to 7 months. Then switch to laying mash. If birds are not in good shape, feed grain up to 60% of entire ration for the last two weeks. If pullets come into production before they obtain their full size, they will not have the body size to withstand heavy egg production, will lay small eggs, and will be subject to Prolapsis or blowouts.

4. Be sure the birds are free of worms before housing them. We suggest giving each bird a worm capsule ten days before housing and another when transferring them to the laying house. Delouse the birds thoroughly ten days before housing and again when transferring. Good reliable roost spread is by far the easiest and best method.

5. Use the same waterers and feeders in the laying house as were used on range for at least the first week. The birds will adapt themselves to their new quarters more readily. Avoid scaring or rough handling of the birds. They are subject to moult from disturbances of any kind.

6. Provide at least 24 feet of feeder space for each 100 hens and at least 1-5 gal. waterer for each 100. Keep mash before birds at all times. Pullets should consume about 14 to 16 lbs. of grain per 100 birds per day, depending on their condition and egg production. Remember the more eggs the birds lay, the more feed they require.

7. Vaccinate the entire flock to prevent colds if you have had trouble with cold infections in the past years.

8. Be sure you provide adequate ventilation in laying house but avoid drafts. Overheating causes more colds in poultry than chill. Have your birds in the laying house before the cold weather starts.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Jealous Child

Grandmother was somewhat surprised that her son and daughter-in-law were telling their three-year-old beforehand about the coming of the new baby.

"Do you think it's really necessary? Does she grasp what you're talking about?" she asked.

"Well," they answered, "we read that it was a good idea to tell children beforehand. If they're expecting a new baby in the family, they may not be so jealous when it actually comes."

A certain amount of jealousy may be expected, so it seems, when a new baby arrives in a household where there has been but one child before.

Preparing the child beforehand may help some, but certainly nothing can take the place of showing the child, after the baby's arrival, that he is still loved and a very important person in his parents' eyes. Some children may want the same kind of loving attention they see the new baby getting—fondling and caressing. Others may be content with a share of the mother's time that is devoted entirely to themselves.

Many parents have found that giving a child small responsibilities in caring for the new baby helps to overcome jealousy.

I have often wondered if this factor lay at the bottom of the almost complete absence of jealousy to be found among the children I knew once in a southern mountain community. That is, jealousy was certainly not apparent in the behavior of those young children toward the newest comer., Instead, there seemed to be a very protective attitude. Was this because small children were very early given the responsibility of helping to "look after" the new baby? Perhaps this gave them a sense of importance, and they rose to their responsibilities. Perhaps, also, the coming of a new baby was not so hard for them because families were large, and many lessons of sharing had already been learned.

This jealousy that we find so commonly especially in homes where there has been but one child before should not cause too great alarm. It is a very common manifestation in our culture, but in most cases not a very permanent one. There is cause for alarm if it begins to take on a permanent character.

U. S. SCHOOLS WILL ISSUE 4TH RATION BOOK IN NOVEMBER

OPA Plans Next Book to Last for Not Less Than Two Years

War ration book four, for use beginning in November and designed to last at least two years, was explained Sunday by the office of price administration.

The new book, to be issued at a nationwide schoolhouse registration the last 10 days of October, will combine point and unit stamps. There will be 384 stamps, printed in blue, red, green and black.

The red and blue stamps will be used in conjunction with red and blue tokens, to be introduced early in 1944 and given as change in stamp expenditures for meat, dairy products and processed foods.

The green stamps will be used on an "interim basis" with blue processed food stamps, much in the manner the brown stamps of book three are now being used in the meats-fats program.

Twelve of 96 unit stamps, printed in black, are designated for sugar. The same number are marked for coffee, which no longer is rationed. These and 72 others marked "spares" will be reserved for any additional foods rationed, OPA said.

Life of the new book for two years compares with four or five months for earlier ones. But the cost of printing and distributing book four—about $1,500,000—will be about the same, OPA stated.

Harold C. Hagen, Ninth District Congressman, Backs Pulpwood Drive

Congressman Harold C. Hagen has given his full support to the Victory Pulpwood Campaign now being carried on in the wood producing sections of Minnesota. In discussing this matter with Fred M. Hilden, timber buyer of Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company at International Falls, Congressman Harold Hagen stated that he had heard a great deal about the campaign which is being carried on and the support which is being given by the people generally in the wood producing areas. He added that this was an opportunity for every woodlot owner to contribute something to the war effort.

Congressman Hagen further told Mr. Hilden that every farmer cutting pulpwood was really working in his own defense plant and should be considered as essential as the man working in a defense factory.

He said that farmers of the country have always done their full duty toward Uncle Sam and he was confident that they would not fall now in their efforts to produce pulpwood which is so badly needed in this war effort.

Due to an insufficient supply of material, The Home Front campaign has been carried on in only one Ward of this city. St. Hilaire has finished its campaign. Scrolls and stickers are on hand now and the rest of the city will be covered this coming week. Please remember to sign the scroll in two places.

In connection with The Home Front campaign, the best news of the week came from Minnesota where the governor signed The Home Front Pledge proclamation, followed by the mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Endorsements of the State Retail Grocers association and the General Merchants association helped the drive. The first woman in the state to sign the pledge was Mrs. Thye, wife of the governor.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The Pennington County Red Cross Chapter cannot accept private orders for special Christmas packages for United States servicemen held prisoner in enemy countries, Robert J. Lund, home service chairman of the chapter, announced today.

The American Red Cross is preparing 10,000 special Christmas boxes for distribution to United States prisoners, but these are being paid for by the army and navy and none are available to fill special orders from relatives of prisoners.

Individuals who are next of kin of prisoners held in Europe, however, may mail Christmas gift parcels directly to those prisoners by using labels provided by the government, but these packages must be mailed immediately to insure their receipt by Christmas, because approximately three months are required for delivery, he pointed out.

Labels for such parcels are furnished by the United States provost marshal general's office to the next of kin as soon as the government is notified of a prisoner's name and address of his internment camp. It is not necessary to request the labels, but they are provided only to next of kin.

"Gift packages for prisoners must weigh no more than 11 pounds and be no more than 18 inches in length and 42 inches in combined length and girth," Mr. Lund said. "Perishable articles will not be accepted for mailing and fragile articles should not be included."

The following are suggested by the American Red Cross as items which would be appreciated by prisoners of war: Toilet articles, soap, towels, wash cloths, tooth brushes, razors and blades, shaving mirrors, chewing gum, nail clippers, safety pins, pencils, pillow slips, sheets, socks, belts, shirts, underwear, handkerchiefs, small games, footballs, basketballs, dried fruits, vegetable and soups, bouillon cubes, malted milk tablets, and sugar. Foods must be securely wrapped in cellophane or cardboard containers. No more than one pound of sugar should be included and this should be in a strong paper bag or a cardboard box.

"One of the most important things to keep in mind," Mr. Lund said, "is the mailing date. At very latest, this must be before October 15.

There was a mistake in last week's paper column which should have read, "The following men may have their first aid certificates by calling at H. A. Kjos' office: Mr. Arthur Rambeck, Wm. Sheedy, Elmer Berg, Jack Williams, Leonard Johnson, Louis Knadle, Carl Christofferson, Elmer Johnson, Ernest Hogenson, Fred Hanson, Roy Engh, Vincent Berry, Gust Haugen, Matt Guttu, Leonard Hanson, and Albert Swanson.

Look for the Red Cross Booth at the 4-H Fair, September 25th.

We are again reminding the ladies to keep coming to surgical dressings as each volunteer worker is needed to help finish the 20,000 dressings in the remaining week of September.

The Advisory board of Red Cross meet Wednesday evening, Sept. 29th at 8 P. M. at the office of Herman Kjos.

HAY-HOOK FISH STORY

Clarkfield.— One northern pike on a fish hook seemed to be too much for the hook which fisherman, Luther Hoover, had cast into Lac qui Parle lake. What to do that he, as the slippery fellow battled on the end of his weak line? Suddenly he remembered a hay-hook in his car which his companion hastened to get, and without further ado into the gills went the hay-hook and in came the 12-pound northern pike.

ASK FOR HEAVY OUTPUT IN AREA OF PULPWOOD

M & O Paper Company Officials Address Meeting Here Saturday

J. ROBERT PETERSEN NAMED LOCAL BUYER

Prevailing Prices on Wood Are at Highest Level in History

A representative group of woodlot owners from throut this area assembled Saturday afternoon in the Civic and Commerce room to hear an urgent plea for all-out production of pulpwood, made by representatives of the Minnesota & Ontario Paper company at International Falls. The visiting officials also appeared at a similar meeting in Grygla Saturday morning.

Harold Carey, assistant pulpwood buyer for the paper company, expressed the hope that the highest prices ever quoted will result in a large production despite the shortage of manpower, in order that the mills may maintain nearly full production of critical war materials.

Mr. Carey also announced that J. Robert Petersen had been named buyer of pulpwood for the company in Thief River Falls in place of Anton Hall, who was unable to accept the appointment owing to a shortage of help.

Melvin Johnson, Koochiching county pulpwood chairman, outlined the success of the campaign in his county, and added that every cord counts. Also on the program was Paul Bunyan, a giant of a man, who listed some of the wartime uses of pulpwood, and stated that the mills at International Falls use nearly 1100 cords of the material every 24 hours.

SCRAP COLLECTION DRIVE WILL START FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1

Pennington County to Join in Campaign, Christofferson States

The prosaic, but mighty important, subject of scrap will come forcibly to the attention of northwest citizens this week in the opening of a drive to collect 500,000 tons of scrap iron and steel, untold pounds of waste fats and tin cans by the carload for the war effort.

War Production Board officials, who are cooperating with salvage officials in every county and community of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, said preliminary indications point to successful termination of the campaign, even though Minnesota and the Dakotas fell short in their campaign last spring.

Plans for the local campaign were mapped at a meeting in Crookston last Thursday evening, at which Pennington county was represented by Carl Christofferson, county salvage chairman, and O. E. Taxerass, member of the implement dealers' committee which is cooperating in the drive.

Focal point of the drive, which will continue for six weeks, is the "Victory Scrap Bank," which will be a local community activity, to which will be brought scrap iron and steel collected from residents. Stress also is being laid on the gathering up of farm scrap, with half the regional quota expected to be made up of discarded iron and steel farm machinery, parts or equipment. Salvage workers are seeking an average of half a ton of scrap from each farm.

LINCOLN SCHOOL PUPILS GET $2,324 FOR PICKING SPUDS

Lincoln Pupils Pick Total of 26,004 Bushels in First 5 Days

A small army of approximately 120 Lincoln high school students, working as potato pickers in the fields northeast of East Grand Forks each afternoon since last Thursday, had picked no less than 26,004 bushels up to Tuesday evening, earning for themselves the impressive total of $2,323.24, Supt. Paid at the rate of eight cents per bushel, local boys and girls have picked as high as 60 bushels between the hours of 3 o'clock and 7:30, their earnings being at the rate of approximately $1 an hour.

Fields are yielding heavily, some producing as much as 250 bushels to the acre, Mr. Fjelsted, who visited the potato area Tuesday, said hundreds of acres remain to be harvested, and that farmers he talked to had expressed their gratitude for the assistance rendered by the local school.

The East Grand Forks school suspended operations three weeks ago in order that students might help out in the emergency.

An audience of 1200 persons assembled in the Auditorium Saturday evening to enjoy the program presented jointly by county 4-H club members and talent from Radio Station WDAY, Fargo, as the concluding feature of the 4-H club fair.

Ken Kennedy of Fargo served ably as master of ceremonies and presented the various numbers, a feature of which was the crowning by S. E. Hunt, fair board president, of Laura Jorde of the Northfield club as county style queen. Her attendants were Eileen Larson, Ardelle Larson, Ardith Evenson and LaVonne Nelson.

Also crowned by Mr. Hunt were the county health king and queen, respectively Hilton McMahon of the Highlanding club and Doris Williams of the Steiner club. War Bond Campaign Will be Continued to Oct. 15

To Make Every Effort to Attain 100 Pct. of Quota, Says Lundgren

PENNINGTON RANKS TENTH IN MINNESOTA

Efforts to be Concentrated on Sale of Longer Term Bonds

The third war loan campaign, which was originally scheduled to close September 30, has been partially extended to October 15, in order to enable those counties which have not reached 100% of their quota to qualify, Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman stated today. The extension, however, does not apply to all bond issues offered during the drive, and applies only to Series E, F, and G. The sale of all other issues, which included the 10 year 2%, the 20 year 2½%, the one year treasury notes, and the tax saving notes, will be suspended as of Saturday, Oct. 2.

Pennington county has not yet reached its quota. For that reason said Mr. Lundgren, the war bond committee has elected to continue the drive up to and including October 15 in an effort to place Pennington County in the 100% column. "The fact that the nation has attained the goal of 15 billion set for this country," he said "should not deter this county from meeting the quota which it was called upon to fill. It cannot give us in Pennington County any great consolation that the nation has met its quota unless we here in Pennington county can also say that we have done our share.

"The committee, therefore, intends to retabulate all purchases made throughout the county and to continue the solicitation in those townships where a reasonable percentage of the quota set for them has not been reached. The 15 day extension will undoubtedly be of help particularly to the people in the country who are not able to raise the funds prior to October 1, and it is hoped that those persons will avail themselves of the opportunity afforded them by the extension."

According to reports received from the government 15 billion dollar quota has been reached to a large extent through the purchase

School Teachers of State to Handle Distribution of Books

Minnesota residents will register for their new No. 4 ration books on Oct. 18, 19 and 20.

Form and registration materials will be mailed directly from OPA district offices to county superintendents for distribution to rural schools, and to city superintendents for disbursement to urban schools.

The commissioner said information collected through this registration would form basis for the annual federal census estimate.

This represents the total allotment of red ration stamps for one person for one week.

The increase of four points from the present value of 12 points per pound brings the ration coupon cost of butter up to twice the level it was when rationing started.

The increase is due to a drop of 10 per cent in September production below production for the same month in 1942, OPA said.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

"Beware the careless handling of firearms and the gun the 'isn't loaded.'"

This pointed warning was issued by Fred Protz, accident prevention chairman of the Pennington Red Cross chapter, with the opening of hunting season.

"Carelessness is the main cause of hunting accidents," said Mr. Protz. "No one likes to be accused of carelessness, but the truth is that people are careless. Even today, when every ounce of manpower is needed in the war effort, carelessness still is taking a huge toll."

The death toll from accidents in the United States in 1942 was seven and a half times greater than the total United States war fatalities during the year and a half following Pearl Harbor, according to statistics compiled by the National Safety Council and the Associated Press.

Because firearms are a definite hazard on the home front, Mr. Protz prevention chairman suggests that hunters and everyone handling guns check up on themselves by answering such questions as these:

Are firearms in the home kept out of reach of children?

Are cartridges kept in locked drawers or other places inaccessible to children?

Do you always handle any gun as if it were loaded?

Are you careful never to walk in front of a hunter who is carrying a gun?

When hunting with a group of other persons, are you careful to stay out of the line of fire of the others, and when you aim, are you positive a companion is not in your line of fire?

If a companion hands you his gun, do you grasp it so that the barrel points away from both of you?

When climbing through a fence, are you careful not to drag your gun behind you?

When you place a gun in an automobile, do you make sure it won't slide or topple over and thus be discharged?

Are you careful to adjust the "safety" on your firearms in the intervals between shots?

When you are cleaning or examining a gun, in your first action to check whether or not the gun is loaded?

If you or a companion are injured on a hunting trip miles from a doctor, do you know how to stop the flow of blood, or properly splint a fractured bone, or apply artificial respiration, or other important first aid techniques that might mean the difference between life and death?

Are you careful in the use of an axe or hatchet?

When using a hunting knife, do you direct the blade away from your body?

In building a fire, do you take proper precautions against burns and accidental spread of flames?

Do you treat even minor cuts and abrasions as quickly as possible to prevent possible infection?

"Hunting is a great sport and healthful, too, if the hunter takes precautions against accident," Mr. Protz said. "A few minutes extra care may save a life or a lifetime of regret."

A special thank you goes to Mrs. H. A. Brumund, chairman, Mrs. A. M. Aase, and Miss Ann Sward, committee members, who gave of their time to making and furnishing a Red Cross booth which displayed various activities of the Red Cross and which was in the Auditorium at the 4-H club fair.

The Goodridge highway first aid station is being opened and will be at the creamery with Ted Rustad and Carl Syverson in charge. Arthur Rambeck is chairman of county highway first aid.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

That Bugaboo, Dentistry

Every now and then a mother writes that she is at her wit's end to know how to get her child to go back to the dentist after one unfortunate experience involving a lot of pain.

"Eleanor is 9 now, and I am beginning to really worry that we can't get her back to the dentist. We took her to a special children's dentist, but even she was unable to get anywhere with Eleanor."

No denying it, this isn't a simple situation to deal with. How many of us adults put off dentistry year after year because we dread it so?

And that makes me wonder a little if Eleanor's mother and father are having their dentistry taken care of without undue expressions of dread, during these years while Eleanor is holding out so stubbornly and fearfully. If they aren't that probably doesn't help the situation any.

It occurs to me that Eleanor is old enough to try to face things in a reasonable fashion. I wonder if her parents are trying to persuade her that they can take her to a dentist who will not hurt her? This is hardly the most honest approach, and Eleanor is too experienced to be fooled into believing it.

Wouldn't it be better to admit that dentistry does hurt some, but it is something that we simply have to go through with? Isn't this always the best approach—admitting and facing rather than sugar-coating and pretending that things are not going to hurt? Children have to learn some day how to tackle experiences that are difficult and involve pain.

Of course, in Eleanor's case, there is every reason to understand and sympathize with her fright, if she was really roughly handled and unduly hurt by her first dentist. She has built up a lot of barriers that are not easy to overcome.

It might help if she could simply go along with her mother or father or some other member of the family who is having dentistry done (and is willing to go through with it without a fuss!)—the purpose being simply to get her acquainted with a new dentist and a new office with which she need have no painful associations while she simply watched others have their work done. This would give the dentist a chance, too, to build up a friendly relation with her long before he ever attempts to work on her teeth.

I'd be inclined, though, to put my chief emphasis on expecting Eleanor, now that she is 9, to act with courage and to show that she can go through with a difficult thing as well as anyone.

Grass Stains

Washable materials should be laundered as usual in water as hot as the fabric will stand. Rub soap directly on the grass stains and rub between your hands. If the stain is still left on white fabric, bleach with a commercial bleach (use only on linen or cotton) or with hydrogen peroxide. If the material is not washable, sponge the stain with ether or wood or denatured alcohol.

INTEREST RATE ON LAND BANK LOANS WILL BE REDUCED

Rate Will be Cut to Four Per Cent after June 30, Next Year

The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul has taken action to put interest rates on all federal land bank loans made through national farm loan associations at 4 per cent after June 30, 1944, it was learned today from J. W. Sands, secretary-treasurer in the national farm loan association office at Warren. This means that many loans bearing interest rates at 5, 5½ and 6 per cent will be reduced to 4 per cent. More than half of the present outstanding loans were written at 5 per cent. However, commissioner loans are not included in the present announcement.

This action, the secretary-treasurer pointed out, was voluntary on the part of the bank. The following statement in regard to the reduced rate has just been received from President F. W. Peck:

"The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul has taken action voluntarily to place interest rates on all land bank loans made through national farm loan associations at 4 per cent, pre-compartment loans at 4¼ per cent, and direct, agency and loans purchased from joint stock land banks at 4½ per cent. These rates are to be effective on all installments maturing on and after July 1, 1944, when the present authorized reduced interest rates of 3½ per cent made available by Congress may be expected to expire. The new rates will remain in effect for the life of the loans.

Reductions will be effective as of the above date on purchase money mortgages and land purchase contracts and these rates will be 4½ per cent.

War Ration Book No. 4, which will be a "Stream-lined" version of the preceding ration books, will be issued to more than 120,000,000 persons through school house distributions during the last ten days of October. Time and places will be announced when the Regional office completes arrangements for its distribution.

Persons appearing at schools to register for new books will probably have to bring along at least one of the old ration books for each member of the household for whom they are registering.

In the past, new books had to be issued every four or five months. This ration book will last 96 weeks and we will begin using it in November. There will at first be an overlapping of Ration Books 3 and 4 so you should hold on to all old books that still contain valid stamps as they may be used later.

Early next year "change tokens" will be introduced.

Present plans call for token coins to be made of plastic and to be slightly larger than a nickel. These ration tokens are to be of one point value and are to be given in change in the meat-fats and the processed foods groups.

Under the new plan, for example, all the red stamps would have the same value. Instead of B8, B5, B2 and B1 each one might be assigned a point value of 10. If you purchased 8 points worth, you would receive 8 tokens in change. The same would be true of the blue stamps. However, there would be one color tokens for the red stamps and another color for the blue so they could not be used interchangeably.

Production of rationed shoes for civilians has been reduced so sharply by war-time shortages that the new shoe stamp to become valid on November 1st probably will have to last six months. If shoe production should exceed present estimates, this period will be shortened. Stamp No. 18 will not expire Oct. 31st but is extended indefinitely.

OPA AGENCY FIXES CEILING PRICES ON VALLEY POTATOES

Price of Number One Grade Is Limited to $2.05 Per 100 lbs.

The Office of Price Administration announced on September 29 the county shipping point prices for potatoes for the rest of the 1943 crop year.

Effective October 1 the maximum price f. o. b. country shipping point for U. S. No. 1 grade table stock potatoes, sacked and loaded on cars for Minnesota Red River Valley counties the ceiling price is $2.05 per 100 pounds, and the rest of Minnesota the price is $2.20.

Prices will be raised progressively for each month during the next eight months. The prices announced today reflect normal seasonal variations in prices received for potatoes and the increases in later months compensate for the additional expense involved in storage.

It is expected that the Office of Price Administration and the war food administration will issue a new price schedule for war approved seed and certified seed potatoes within the next two weeks. At present, war approved seed potatoes sell at the same price as table stock. Maximum price for certified potatoes is the highest price which the shipper charged for the same grade and variety between February 16 and March 1, 1943.

T. B. Test Program to Open in County Oct. 11

At the request of the board of education and the public health nursing advisory board, a tuberculin testing program for the city and rural schools of Pennington county will begin on October 11 at 9:00 A. M.

The program has been approved by the Minnesota Public Health association and will be conducted by Dr. B. Borreson, Supt. of Oakland Park sanatorium; Mrs. Clara Paulson, school nurse; and Miss Ann Sward, county nurse. The survey is being financed by the Christmas Seal fund of Pennington county.

The tuberculin test, also known as the Mantoux test, is a simple harmless test by which we can tell whether or not any person, child or adult, has ever received germs of tuberculosis into his body.

If the tuberculin test is positive the person, child or adult should have an X-ray taken to find out if any damage has been done to the lungs. Tuberculosis often exists in a concealed form in persons who do not know it.

If your child should chance to react positively to the test it was announced do not become frightened or disturbed, congratulate yourself, instead, on having discovered the infection at a time when you can protect him from serious illness later on.

The test will be available to all who wish to take it, but the main purpose is to check on possible tuberculous infections in all school teachers, bus drivers, and children in the county. The tuberculin test is free to anyone wishing to take it. The positive reactors among the school and pre-school children will also be xrayed free of charge free of charge at the sanatorium, but adults showing a positive reaction and wishing to be xrayed at the sanatorium will have to pay the usual cost of $2.00.

"Teachers and parents" the announcement stated, "we ask your cooperation in bringing your children to the school district assigned on the correct date and the appointed time. If road conditions do not permit you to report at the school district to which you have been assigned, you may report to another point that has been designated if this more convenient."

The following schedule sets the time for the test, reading of the test, and the date when the xrays will be taken at the sanatorium from 9:00 to 12:00 noon if this is found necessary.

PENNINGTON COUNTY WAR BOND DRIVE TO CONTINUE TO OCT. 15

by corporations of the short term bonds. As such it affords to the government only temporary relief as a large amount of this will be due on September 15, 1944. The greatest assistance to the government is received from the purchase of the long-term "E" bonds. In that respect the government has attained only fifty per cent of expectation.

Pennington County is the tenth from the top in the state. While we have not yet reached 100% of our quota, said Mr. Lundgren we have at least made a creditable showing. What is better still is that the percentage of Series "E" bonds purchased in Pennington County runs proportionately high. The county was congratulated on this attainment through a telegram from O. J. Arnold, state director, received Wednesday morning. The telegram read as follows:

"Analyzing the sales of war bonds to individuals in the state of Minnesota, it is obvious that the people of Pennington county are doing a superlative job of investing in Series "E" bonds. Both in percentage of your "E" bond quota to date and in actual dollar comparisons with sales in the April drive, your county is making us all feel proud. This is the sort of performance which has placed Minnesota in second place among all the states on "E" bonds. Now that the treasury department has granted additional time for the sale of "E" bonds credited to this drive, we know that you will go forward to make an even more outstanding record so that when the books are closed Minnesota will stand first in the nation."

Elsewhere in this issue appears a tabulation of all purchases made in the respective townships. The township of Star was the first township to attain 100% of its quota through purchases. This township, with a quota of $8000, had purchased $8,231.25 on Tuesday, September 28.

Warning Issued Against Soliciting Auto Rides

Since the opening of schools, ride thumbers are again in evidence. With automobile travel curtailed by gas rationing, fewer youngsters driving and fewer parents taking children to school, there is a greater temptation to thumb rides.

If you are tempted to thumb rides, says a State Highway Bulletin, remember that the state traffic act makes it unlawful to "stand in a roadway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of any private vehicle." There are many risks connected with accepting rides from strangers, as well as risks in giving rides to strangers. The greatest danger, however, comes from standing in the traveled portion of the road or street. This practice often leads to serious accidents.

THE END IS AT HAND

Allied forces are now well established in Italy and it is reasonable to assume that there will be rapid developments in the invasion of southern Europe. Most likely spot for the scene of the next landing party is in Yugoslavia where native armies still control a large territory, including a stretch of shore line on the Adriatic. Of course it sometimes happens that military leaders choose to move in where they are least expected and that puts the entire European coastline in the possible invasion area. Norway may be ripe for a landing party by this time. The fact that this area has not been threatened for some time justifies a suspicion that something is about to happen there. We probably will not have to wait long for the where and when of the next blows.

An advance through Yugoslavia probably would have the best chance of developing into a successful major campaign, more devastating to the Germans than the loss of Italy. The Balkans are already seething with revolt and a few successes in Yugoslavia, with the Russian armies approaching from the east, could result in an uprising thruout southeastern Europe that would force Hitler to withdraw to his own back yard.

Those who make predictions on how long the war in Europe will last are now wondering how long the Germans can continue to fight once they have been backed up to their own borders. The war has already proven that with modern war machinery there can be no Hindenberg Line. The actual invasion of Germany might be delayed as a means of saving lives but it is not conceivable, unless some new killing devices are introduced, that the Germans can long hold out against superiority both in the air and on the land. Abandoned by their opportunist friends, they now stand practically alone and the end is near at hand.

We are inclined to agree with those who say we have a long war ahead of us—that is we agree it will be a long time before the world settles down to a reasonably peaceful condition. In terms of our standards of civilization the world is still peopled largely by barbarians who now are having introduced to them the magic of the machine. We are teaching the science of mass destruction to a world that is going to be bitter and resentful. Those whom we think we are helping are not going to love us. The defeat of Germany and Japan will not bring security to the world and until there is security the swords will not be beaten into plow shares.

Here as elsewhere there is a lot of surplus money. Such a condition is an invitation to confidence men and if what has happened in the past is a safe guide to what will happen in the future we may expect a new crop of get-rich-quick schemes to be unloaded on the public some time in the not too distant future. To make money is not easy. To save it after it is made is a more difficult problem. Now would be a good time to revive that slogan that became popular too late after the last war, "Before you invest, investigate."

During the past week Lincoln High School students have picked nearly thirty thousand bushels of potatoes and have earned for themselves in the neighborhood of $2,500. Potato growers, fearful of crop damaging frosts, are extremely grateful for the assistance they have received and local school authorities are to be commended for having adjusted school hours so as to make this assistance possible.

Pennington County has come through again. The Third War Loan drive will end tonight and in all probability our county will be over the top when today's sales are totalled. In this drive, as in others, our county is out in front in the state, finishing among the leaders. A round of cheers to a swell selling organization and a loyal lot of citizens.

As long as our military leaders are achieving such splendid results we are not going to concern ourselves about who is placed in command where. Those who have had the responsibility of placing our generals in the past have done a good job and we have confidence in their ability to pick them right in the future.

According to the calendar summer came to an official end last week. If this past week is a sample of what the Fall is going to be count us in with those who are not sorry to say good-bye to Summer.

How Long Do You Expect to Live?

* * * *

More Americans have been killed in traffic accidents since Pearl Harbor than have been killed in battle.

One out of every three persons killed in traffic accidents in Minnesota in 1942 was a pedestrian.

Check your walking habits with pedestrian rules below and mark your score . . .

DO YOU?	YES	NO
1. Cross streets only at intersections or marked crosswalks	☐	☐
2. Look left and right before crossing, making sure that entire crossing can be made safely	☐	☐
3. Cross only on green light or "go" signals	☐	☐
4. Obey officer's direction where officers direct traffic	☐	☐
5. Walk on left side facing traffic if walking on roadway, and give way to approaching vehicles	☐	☐
6. Carry light or display something white at night to reflect light from automobile headlights.	☐	☐
7. Always get into and alight from vehicle on side nearest curb	☐	☐
8. Look left and right when crossing roadway from between or around parked vehicles	☐	☐
9. Stay out of streets when playing	☐	☐
10. Watch for oncoming traffic when catching or leaving street car or bus	☐	☐
Total	☐	☐

If your "Yes" score totals 9 or 10, YOU MAY LIVE TO A RIPE OLD AGE.

If your "Yes" score totals 6 to 8, YOU MAY EXPECT TO GET HURT BEFORE LONG.

If your score totals 5 or less, STAY IN YOUR OWN YARD—YOU ARE LIVING ON BORROWED TIME.

Topics of the Times

By M. A. H.

Those who are interested in astronomical matters will want to give a little reflection to the proposal to increase the federal debt limit to 300 billion dollars.

If your story doesn't get as much space in the Times as you think it deserves, you might consider the fact that the Bible in the Book of Genesis tells the story of the creation of the world in 400 words.

Another nice thing about a wild duck dinner is that it doesn't require any red stamps.

A current survey discloses that sales of luxury items in war industry centers are as much as 300 per cent above last year's figures. That shouldn't be bad news for Herr Hitler.

Those who emptied their bank accounts in September to buy war bonds can now start building up a reserve to meet real estate taxes due the end of October.

Simile—As scarce as shotgun shells.

—It looks as tho we are due for an early fall, says the Mahnomen Pioneer, adding that the same applies to Hitler.

Love, says a commentator, starts when she sinks in your arms and ends with her arms in the sink.

This column, it seems, is in good company. We learn that the august New York Times also has a Topics of the Times department.

Random thought— Wonder how columnist Cedric Adams is getting along with that housemaid he obtained after running a 240-line classified ad.

Overheard: Asked what M.P. stands for, a soldier replied, "An M.P. doesn't stand for anything".

It is hinted that former Governor Stassen is willing to resign from the Navy to become a candidate for president in 1944. Tut, tut, Harold.

You may have noticed that you no longer see a car advertised for sale with two spare tires.

If a federal bureau is to set up to discourage unnecessary travel, we hasten to propose the name of Eleanor Roosevelt as the logical candidate for director.

To the People of this Community:

DRIVE DEPENDS ON YOU!

Would you take a free ride on a wounded soldier's back? That's exactly what you would be doing if you did not do your duty in the Third War Loan.

3rd WAR LOAN

Your idle weight would be felt by him on the battlefield.

Every civilian counts in this kind of war. Every civilian must make his energy and his dollars work for victory.

Keep in mind that while our national goal in this drive is 15 billions of dollars, this money is being borrowed from you and you and you. You are, as an individual, the deciding factor as to whether we reach this goal. An extra $100 War Bond becomes an extra rifle, extra bullets and extra fighting power of every type.

RESOLUTION

SPECIAL PENSIONS — Delegates voted that the Minnesota Legislature, in accordance with recent action which pensioned a State Judge, also provide the same pension for all of the aged in Minnesota. The law as passed provides for the payment of $8,500 per year for four years and $4,250 per year thereafter. It is the opinion of the Townsend clubs and members that all citizens should be treated the same and if $8,500 per year pension is necessary for a Judge, who has received over $200,000 in salary from the taxpayers of Minnesota, it is also necessary for businessmen, professional people, laborers, farmers, salaried workers and all other citizens who grow too old to work. 39p

'Feed Her And—'
Our forefathers believed that if a man married a woman who was in debt he would not be liable to her creditors if he received her from the minister or magistrate without any of her property, including clothing. Such a wedding, at which the bride wore nothing but a simple smock provided by the bridegroom, was known as a smock marriage.

WAR SERVICE FUND TO AID HOMELESS PEOPLE OF WORLD

To Ease Hardships of People Driven from Homes by Invaders

Almost a hundred million people in the United Nations have been driven from their homes by the invader, and in addition to the perils and hardships they have already been compelled to endure, will face the difficult ordeal of remigration after the war, according to figures compiled by the national war fund and made public today through J. Cameron Thomson, chairman of the Minnesota War Service Fund.

The compilation is based upon reports received through the National War Fund agencies from representatives on the scene in the various countries.

In this vast army of homeless people are approximately 68,000,000 who are either on the verge of starvation or are dependent upon outside aid for their very existence, Mr. Thomson said. It is these people who will be helped through the funds raised in the Minnesota War Service appeal in October—the united appeal for all the allied war relief funds.

"To help provide the food that may mean the difference between life and death is one of the important purposes of Minnesota's War Service Fund campaign for $2,500,000," Mr. Thomson said. "In addition to this humanitarian activity, the contributions will be used to support other relief work of the 17 war-related agencies serving our own armed forces and our fighting allies."

Penney Stores Go over July War Bond Quota by Margin of 400 Per Cent

Secretary of the Treasury Henry J. Morgenthau has just telegraphed the J. C. Penney company congratulations on the magnificent job of bond selling which the company's 1610 stores turned in during the month of July. In July 1942, the Penney Company sold 8½ million dollars in war stamps and bonds to set a high record for the chain and department store business. This year, in an attempt to surpass the 1942 figures, a quota of ten million dollars was set. The complete report for July, which was forwarded to the secretary of the treasury last week, announced the amazing total of $42,335,816.85, or four times the quota set for the campaign, and very nearly five times the figure of the preceding year. In this one month, Penney stores sold 25¼ more in bonds and stamps than in merchandise. In terms of war equipment, this means 500 fighter planes, 200 light tanks, 5 destroyers, and 5 submarines.

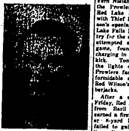
Prowlers Tie in Opener; Bemidji Coming Friday

Wins Navy Promotion



HAROLD W. BERINGER
In the U. S. Navy since last December, who recently was promoted to third class petty officer. Stationed at Los Angeles, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beringer of this city.

A last-second pass, tossed by Dale Baril to rangy right-end Vern Nieland, was completed into the Prowler end-zone and gave Red Lake Falls a 12 to 12 tie with Thief River Falls in the season's opening game played at Red Lake Falls Friday afternoon. The try for the extra point, which was attempted after the end of the game, found the Prowler line charging in to block Baril's placekick. Tomorrow night, under the lights on Lincoln field, the Prowlers face one of their most formidable rivals, meeting coach Red Wilson's burly Bemidji Lumberjacks.

After a scoreless first period Friday, Red Lake Falls, on a pass from Baril to Louis Schmitz, earned a first down on the Prowler 8-yard line. Ray LaPlante failed to gain on a try into the line; Ranny Ortloff picked up three yards on a reverse around right end; Kenny Olson piled thru center to go over the west goal for a score. A passing play failed to convert the extra point. Midway in the period the Prowlers began their first touchdown drive, with Herb Claffy and Wes Hovie spear-heading the attack (Hovie replaced Billy McKechnie, who received a painful hip injury early in the first period).

Claffy returned a punt from the Prowler 45-yard line to the Red Lake Falls 25-yard line. Hovie broke over right tackle for five yards; Claffy went for a first down on the Red Lake Falls 12-yard line; Hovie churned through for six yards; and Claffy added a first down on the 2-yard line. Hovie failed to gain; the Prowlers were penalized five yards for offside; a passing attempt failed to connect; Claffy slanted off right tackle for a touchdown. Art Forsberg's dropkick for the point was blocked.

Neither team scored in the third period, although Red Lake Falls threatened late in the quarter when Stan Linnertz recovered a fumbled punt on the Prowler 10-yard line. Wes Hovie ended the threat by recovering a Red Lake Falls fumble on the 5-yard line. The Prowlers, from their 5-yard line, and getting a lift on a 15-yard Red Lake Falls penalty, drove for a touchdown.

Claffy scooted to the 32-yard line for a first down; Roy Rupprecht skirted left end for 6 yards and Ninak Carlson broke off right tackle to the Red Lake Falls 30-yard as the fourth period opened. Claffy pushed through guard for 6 yards; and then moved to the 20-yard line for a first down; Carlson picked up 3 yards, and then spun through the Red Lake defense for a first down on the 8-yard line. Hovie made 4 yards at left guard; Claffy added a yard at center; and then Hovie plunged over for the score. A fake placekick formation, with Claffy circling right end, failed to add the point, Herb being forced out of bounds.

A short punt, going out to the Prowler 30-yard line, gave Red Lake Falls the ball with a minute-and-a-half to play, and gave Baril an opportunity to toss the pass for the tying score.

The Prowler line, with captain Norm Furuseth and left tackle Marlyn Dorn doing splendid work, turned in a fine game; while Herb Claffy, Ninak Carlson, and Wes Hovie were effective in the Prowler backfield.

ELKS LODGE DRIVE FOR ENGINEERS IN ARMY IS SUCCESS

Campaign Is Suspended but Seabee Drive Goes on, Says Werstlein

The army recruiting campaign to increase the number of qualified men for service in the engineering specialist corps has been suspended, according to Major General Eugene Reybold, chief of engineers, in a telegram to James R. Nicholson, chairman of the Elks War Commission, who has been directing the cooperative activities of the 550,000 members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

The chief of engineers gave strong praise to the fraternal order for its efforts in securing the voluntary enlistment and voluntary induction of men occupationally equipped for service in the army engineer corps, and said that these efforts far exceeded all expectations, and had resulted in meeting the requirements three months ahead of schedule.

In making this information known locally, George W. Werstlein, chairman of the war committee of Thief River Falls lodge, No. 1308, pointed out that all special assignment letters issued to date will be honored at reception centers. Mr. Werstlein also emphasized that while the army requirements had been met, and the voluntary induction program suspended, the Elks would continue their efforts to recruit candidates for the United States navy construction battalions, familiarly known as the "Seabees".

Truck Dealers Called into Court by OPA for Price Ceiling Offenses

Treble damage actions against three North Dakota dealers for alleged sales of used trucks and used farm machinery at prices in excess of maximums allowable under OPA price ceilings regulations were filed on September 21 with the clerk of the United States district court at Fargo, W. T. DePuy, chief counsel for the Fargo-Moorhead district OPA office, announces.

Action in behalf of the United States was brought by Prentiss M. Brown, administrator of the Office of Price Administration and the amount claimed in each case is three times the aggregate sum of the claimed overcharges. In each action injunctions are also asked restraining the defendants from further violations of the price regulations.

Defendants in the actions include Ed. Goebel, Grand Forks, doing business as Goebel Motors, who is sued for $7,909.71 for alleged sales of nine used trucks at over ceiling prices.

Used commercial vehicles and certain farm implements including combines are covered by price ceilings whether the sale is made by an individual, a dealer or at auction.

Manpower Problems

Judged on the Prowlers' performance against Red Lake Falls on Friday coach Glenn Hanna has as perplexing a manpower problem as Paul McNutt and the WMPB. The Prowlers were so shy of capable reserves that only two substitutions were made, and that must have established a record for an opening game.

Especially in the backfield does this shortage of reserves become apparent. In Friday's game, after about six plays, left half Billy McKechnie injured his right hip and had to leave the game, and his loss disrupted the Prowler offense and forced Herb Claffy and Ninak Carlson to do the bulk of the ball carrying. Wes Hovie replaced Kegger, and Wes, who's a soph, turned in a surprisingly fine game, scoring one touchdown and slashing into the line for a number of gains. Late in the first half Herb Claffy received a biff in the head and was taken from the game for a few minutes; but without any backfield reserves coach Hanna had to send Gerald Flattum to center and shift Roger Tunberg into the backfield. It was fortunate that Herb was able to return to the game, otherwise the Prowlers running attack would have been completely stalled. So you see coach Hanna has plenty of problems.

Prowler Line Does Well

Against a better-than-average Red Lake Falls team, the Prowler line did a fine job. Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, and Chuck Richards led the charges that broke up the Red Lake Falls offense, and on numerous occasions the Red Lake ball carrier was thrown for a loss. The biggest weakness the Prowlers revealed was on pass defense, for the Prowler secondary, composed of Claffy, Hovie, Tunberg, Carlson, and Rupprecht, sacrificed too much height and were not able to "cover" Red Lake Falls rangy end Vern Nieland as he shifted into the secondary. Nieland scored the tying touchdown while surrounded by three Prowler players, being able to outreach the locals.

Coach Hanna has re-vamped the Prowler lineup considerably this week in preparation for the Bemidji game tomorrow evening. Bob Baker has been shifted to center, and the rangy Prowler should be able to adjust himself to the position, and he'll add some height to the secondary. Ray Offerdahl has taken over the left end spot, while captain Norm Furuseth has been placed at right end, and Norm is like a kid with a new toy, that's how he likes that position. Norm is aggressive and tough and he'll drive in and pile up the interference. Manny Forsberg, who's a fair kicker, has been dropped back to fullback and he's been running well during practice.

Haakon Olson's Canoe

Now that Haakon Olson has left town for about ten days, George Mostue and Milt Larson will have an ample opportunity to try out Haakon's new square-sterned canoe. George and Milt intend to take the boat up-river, around the Neptune bridge country, and give it a workout in that flooded brush land. If the canoe can stand up under that pounding they'll put their okay on the boat.

Should be a Pirate Year

It's evident that this will be the year that coach Hersch Lysaker's Crookston Pirates will rule the district athletic roost. His veteran football team, with plenty of weight, speed, and experience in its lineup, romped over East Grand Forks, 27 to 0, last Friday.

The Pirates backfield, Bill Reynolds, Toddie Johnson, Dave Wilson, and Don Youngquist, and two of the reserves, Howie Casmey and Gerald Ziebeck, are lettermen. And in the line, Dick Sprague, Bob Sellberg, Bob Lewin, Fred Harris, Larson, and Anderson are lettermen. Of this group of boys, Bill Reynolds, one of the region's finest all-round athletes, is perhaps the standout. Bill, at 175 pounds, is running from the fullback position, and as he's the region's 220-yard champion, he has plenty of speed for breakaway plays in addition to hitting the line with terrific drive. Yes, Hersch should be pretty happy with that kind of material.

Could Use Him

Anoka high school has won three football games already this season, running their streak to twenty-one straight, and Billy Bye, the Prowlers left half last year, has had a hand in each win. Bill scored a touchdown against St. Louis Park; tossed a pass for a score against St. Paul Academy; and scored a touchdown against St. Cloud Cathedral last Friday. The Prowlers could use Bill and those touchdowns.

$15,000,000 CUT IN STATE TAX LEVY FOR NEXT 2 YEARS

Governor Ed Thye Discusses Status of Minnesota Finances

Disclosing results of a survey of state finances which he had just made, Governor Edward J. Thye pointed out in an address this week that state taxes authorized for the current biennium will be approximately $15,000,000 less than for the last two years and that taxpayers of the state may expect a reduction of another $10,000,000 in the state debt.

The report was made in an address reviewing the improved financial condition of the state given before the Minneapolis Taxpayers' association.

State debt has been reduced $31,017,000 since Governor Harold E. Stassen took office in January 1939, Governor Thye said, and financial plans now have been set up so that there will be a further net reduction of another $10,000,000 during the current biennium, making a total cut of more than $41,000,000 in six years. From a total of $129,787,000 on January 1st, 1939, the debt will fall to around $88,000,000 by June 30th, 1945, Governor Thye said, making a cut of nearly one-third in this period.

Included in the reductions in taxes for the current biennium, the Governor said, will be a reduction of $7,130,000 in state property taxes, due to the cut in the state tax levy from 9 mills to 6 mills for the first year and 5½ mills for the second year of the biennium. Another sizeable item will be a saving of $900,000 to taxpayers from the increase in the allowance for dependents under the state income tax law. Other factors are a saving from the two-year suspension of the moneys and credits tax law and the increase in labor credit on the occupational tax on iron mining, enacted by the last legislature to give greater encouragement to low-grade ore development.

"New demands necessitated larger appropriations by the 1943 legislature than were made in 1941," Governor Thye said, "but the legislature was able to meet these demands and still permit substantial tax reductions. We are able to meet these increased needs and reduce taxes, in part, because of the surplus accumulated in state funds through careful management in recent years and, in part, because of an increase in returns from many of the state's earnings taxes."

REVOCATIONS OF DRIVERS PERMITS DECLINE SHARPLY

Number of Offenders Down 42 Per Cent in First 8 Months of '43

A decrease of 42 per cent in revocations and suspensions of drivers' licenses during the first eight months of 1943, is shown in the monthly report of E. P. Lee, head of the drivers' license division, to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways.

Revocations for the eight months were 1,358, compared to 2,299 in the same months in 1942, while suspensions totaled 1,911 in 1943 and 3,296 in the same months in 1942. Revocations and suspensions were fewer than in any year since 1939, reflecting decreased travel and possibly better driving habits.

Revocations in August were 184 in 1943 and 280 in 1942. Of the 184 revocations in August, 172 were for intoxication or inebriacy. Suspensions in August were 275, compared to 450 in 1942. Among the leading causes for suspensions were excessive speed, 95; failure to show financial responsibility, 43; reckless driving, 40; refusal to give doctor's statement on eye test, 32.

Only 21 of the 184 whose licenses were revoked, were under the age of 25 but 142, or more than half of the 275 whose licenses were suspended, were under 25. Only 5 of the revocations and 24 of the suspensions were women.

One of the best-liked farmers in these parts is Bert Childers! And he has the best way of beatin' the man shortage, too.

Come husking time, Bert invites all of his farmer neighbors over to have a glass of beer. When they ask politely "Where's the beer?" Bert points to a bucket-full of frosty bottles in the middle of the field.

"All you got to do," he says, "is work your way out to it."

Well, Bert's idea has caught on all over the countryside.

Folks are pitching in to help their neighbors harvest grain, and fruit, and vegetables—and are taking their reward in sociability when the job's done.

And from where I sit, that's a mighty healthy picture of American life—people working together to get in the food this country needs—and afterwards, sittin' around like good friends, over a moderate glass of wholesome beer. I'm for it!

REVISED CEILING PRICE SCHEDULE PUBLISHED BY OPA

Distributed by Price Panel of Local Rationing Board

Lists of revised community ceiling prices have been distributed by the price panels of local war price and rationing boards to Group 1 and 2 grocery stores in eight Minnesota and two North Dakota counties throughout the Northern part of the Red River Valley, announced Harold W. Bangert, district director of the Office of Price Administration.

The new order does not materially change existing prices, although it adds several brands to flat dollars and cents price ceilings.

To enable housewives and other buyers to tell at a glance the maximum price chargeable for each item purchased, each grocery store will post a list of ceiling prices effective in the particular group category in which it operates under pricing regulations. Group 1 and 2 stores will post the new list, effective September 13; Group 3 and 4 stores will post the ceiling prices currently effective, to be revised at a later date.

The revised community price list is effective in the entire counties of Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Roseau.

Price panel members of each local war price and rationing board volunteer their services to make price adjustments and interpret regulations, in accordance with the government's policy of holding down the rising cost of living.

Price panel members of the Marshall county war price and rationing board are R. H. Quanrud, chairman, Mrs. D. E. Whitehead and Reverend A. C. Carlson.

Price panel members of the Pennington county war price and rationing board are Haaken Olson, chairman; Mrs. Alice Borry; Rev. G. S. Thompson.

If Birthday in October, Get Drivers License Now, Says State Department

Reminding motorists that drivers' licenses issued before September 1, 1943, expire on the next birthday of the licensee, a highway bulletin suggests that persons whose birthdays come in October make their application soon. Those who wait until the last minute may be left without a driving permit, since the law does not include any days of grace.

Applications for driver's license may be made to Henry Storhaug, clerk of the district court of Pennington county, or to the drivers' license division, Minnesota highway department, 1279 University Avenue, St. Paul. The cost is 35 cents.

Licenses issued after September 1, 1943, will expire on the licensee's birthday in the fourth year after they are issued. It is therefore suggested that persons whose birthdays come between January 1 and August 31 wait until 1944 to make their applications, or they lose a year.

COUNTIES REDUCE HIGHWAY OUTLAYS DURING PAST YEAR

Follow Retrenchment Policy and Cut Spending by $2,500,000

General retrenchment in county road expenditures was the order in 1942, according to the annual summary of county road finances made by the highway planning survey, joint project of the Minnesota department of highways and the federal public roads administration.

Construction expenditures were were reduced nearly $2,500,000, including decreases in direct expenditures by the counties and in federal secondary projects in which the counties advance funds to the state highway department which acts as agent. Total mileage of state aid and county aid roads administered by the counties is approximately 38, 675.

Effect of the war is reflected in the counties' receipts from gas taxes, which decreased more than $1,000,000. Receipts from county road tax levies did not decrease, the levies for 1942 having been made in 1941, before the United States entered the war. The counties made substantial debt retirements and ended the year with an increase of more than $1,500,000 in balances on hand.

Coffee Rationing Not to Return, Swenson States

Reports that the country will again have coffee rationing were today denied by R. E. Swenson, manager of the Thief River Grocery. Says Mr. Swenson:

"We have been advised by A. E. Selby, manager of the Nash Coffee Company, that there will not be a return of coffee rationing. Mr. Selby states that such rumors no doubt originated in the fact that Ration Book No. 4, which will be distributed late in October, contains stamps marked "coffee." However, this ration book was printed many months ago when coffee rationing was still in effect. These stamps will now be used for other commodities.

"There is no shortage of coffee, and the government does not contemplate a return to coffee rationing."

Have a Coca-Cola = Welcome, Short-Snorter

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

...or how to bring folks closer together

When short-snorters (trans-ocean flyers) meet and compare their autographed dollar bills, the invitation Have a "Coke" is fairly sure to follow. In three short words people strike the spark of comradeship. From the family fireside to far-flung fronts, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become a symbol of those who see things in a friendly light.

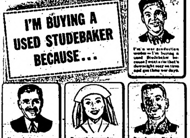
"DOUGHNUT" TOMATO FREAK OF NATURE

Staples. — Weighing almost a pound, seven inches in diameter, and nearly an inch and a half thick, and without a blemish, perfect doughnut shape is the description of a tomato brought to the World office last week. The stem end of the tomato was on the inside of the "hole in the doughnut." Not a blemish of any kind was apparent on the luscious red tomato.



I'M BUYING A USED STUDEBAKER BECAUSE . . .

I'm a war production worker — I'm buying a used Studebaker because I want a car that's downright easy on tires and gas these war days.

I'm a business man — I'm buying a used Studebaker because I know Studebaker materials and craftsmanship won't let me down.

I'm a volunteer worker — I'm buying a used Studebaker because I want a car that's easy to handle and won't fatigue me.

I'm a farmer — I'm buying a used Studebaker because I want a car that won't need a lot of mechanical attention, with mechanics scarce.

YOU save tires and gasoline, when you own a used Studebaker Champion, Commander or President. That's because of the pioneering of Studebaker engineers in eliminating needless excess bulk.

You save on repair costs, too, because of the high quality of Studebaker materials and craftsmanship.

But don't wait too long to order your used Studebaker. They're getting scarce. Besides used Studebakers, our stocks include good used cars of other popular makes.

Keep your car up to par with Studebaker service

Drive in frequently and have your car inspected, no matter what make it is. If adjustments or repairs seem necessary, you'll be given a check list of what needs to be done. Efficient mechanics will do the work quickly and at moderate cost.

LOCAL LEADERS ARRANGE SCRAP DRIVE OCT. 24-30

Implement Dealers Plan for Week-long Campaign in Pennington

OCTOBER 27 WILL BE "ZERO DAY" IN CITY

F. E. Hageman Again Serves as Chairman of Local Committee

At a meeting Monday noon of local implement dealers, plans were completed for an intensive scrap metal drive to be conducted throut Pennington county the week of October 24.

F. E. Hageman is serving as general chairman of the committee, and other members include O. E. Taxeraas, C. D. Gustafson, Chris Rinkel, Fred Beringer, Hilmer Lunke, Philip Hawkins and Frank E. Tunberg.

At the same time Mayor H. W. Kinghorn issued a proclamation designating Wednesday, October 27, as Zero Day in Thief River Falls, at which time residents of this city will join with those in the rural areas in an all out effort to assemble the last bit of available scrap.

Farmers are being urged to bring their scrap into the nearest communities that have scrap yards and sell the scrap they have collected.

The whole activity will be pointed to a general all out effort to have all the scrap delivered by October 30, with each community putting on its own show to stimulate the drive and to make sure that every resident hears about the campaign.

Salvage officials said that reports already filtering in indicate general understanding of the seriousness of the scrap metal situation, in which less iron ore is available although the 1943 munitions production must be twice that of 1942.

A late opening of traffic on the Great Lakes this year reduced the total tonnage delivered by 3,000,000 tons. With scrap stock piles in dealers' yards also reduced, a total of 15,800,000 tons of scrap iron and steel must be produced nationally during the last half of the year, 500,000 of the amount being the northwest quota.

Drives among industries of the northwest, officials said, have brought pledges for a complete digging out of scrap in their plants. Slogan of the campaign in the northwest is "Invest in a Yank at a Victory Scrap Bank."

JUDGE MONTAGUE CANCELS CALL FOR PETIT JURY HERE

Number of Cases Deemed Insufficient to Warrant Calling Jury

For the third consecutive term of Pennington county district court, the call for the petit jury scheduled to convene next Monday, October 11, was canceled at the opening of the term Monday by Judge James E. Montague of Crookston.

Clerk of Court Henry Storhaug stated that the jury call was canceled due to the fact that only two cases called for consideration by the jurors, and these were continued. They are the actions of Albert Riel vs. Ole J. Wedul, and Stephen Singer, trustees in bankruptcy for the Goodridge Elevator and Milling company, vs. Benson-Quinn company.

The remainder of the cases, including four divorce actions, will be heard as court cases.

TO TEST EFFECT OF DAM HERE ON FLOOD UP RIVER

U. S. Geological Survey Is Checking Flow of Water in River

POOL ABOVE DAM TO BE LOWERED 3 FEET

Seeking to Show Effect of Dam on Flood Waters up Stream

Water level in the river at Thief River Falls will be lowered three feet this week as a part of a test to determine the effect of the Thief River Falls dam on the flow of the river above Highlanding. This test is being conducted by the U. S. Geological Survey, under the direction of Paul Speer, district engineer.

Arrangements have been made by Carsten Mead of Red Lake Falls, member of the Tri-State Waters commission, at the request of farmers living in the flooded area above Highlanding.

Measurements are being taken of the flow of the river at Highlanding and below the dam at Thief River Falls. When these are completed, probably this afternoon, the water level above the dam here will be lowered three feet and this level will be maintained several days while additional measurements of the flow at Highlanding are taken.

Measurements of the flow will also be taken after the dam is closed again.

Draft Chief Outlines Farm Deferment Plan

A plan which is expected to develop a more full utilization of Minnesota's manpower resources throughout the winter months has been announced by Colonel J. E. Nelson, state director of selective service.

The plan involves registrants classified in II-C, III-C, II-C(H) and III-C(H), who are those who have been found to be necessary to and regularly engaged in an agricultural endeavor essential to the war effort. In the past registrants so classified have not as a rule been permitted to engage in other occupational activities even though farm work was necessarily curtailed because of the season of the year.

Beginning October 15th, local boards will be authorized, under certain conditions, to permit certain agricultural workers to accept temporary employment in war-supporting activities during the winter months.

It was pointed out that those agriculturally employed have been allowed a deferred status for the express purpose of maintaining and increasing the production of food products and no other employment may intervene that will reduce that farm production for which the registrant is personally responsible. Nevertheless, after the harvest is completed and during the winter months farm work in general reaches its lowest manpower requirements and there are many jobs, most of which are within the community, in fields of acute labor stringencies and which clearly contribute to the war effort which can be temporarily filled by those agricultural workers who can be spared from farms for limited periods of time

These Ladies Are "Star" Bond Saleswomen

No wonder the Times cameraman caught a cheerful expression on the face of Paul A. Lundgren, chairman of the Pennington county war finance committee, now engaged in mopping-up operations in connection with the third war loan campaign.

The reason for his happy demeanor is that standing in front of him are members of the Star township bond selling committee, which up to Tuesday of last week had produced sales of more than the township's quota of $8,000, making Star the first township in the county to go over the top.

Style Revue a la Potato Pickers

Lincoln High School co-eds have laid aside their pretties these sunny afternoons and in the interests of Uncle Sam's food conservation program have done their bit to save the valley's potato crop. Pictured above are four of the young ladies who paused long enough to pose for this picture, showing what the well dressed potato picker is wearing this year. Left to right they are Delores Randorf, Arlene Peterson, Colleen Walker and Ruth Meyer. Lincoln high school students will have picked more than 60,000 bushels of potatoes by the end of this week.

COUNTY QUOTA IN BOND DRIVE NOW EXCEEDED

Pennington Purchases Total 107.6 Per Cent up to Wednesday

COUNTY NOW RANKED 10TH IN ENTIRE STATE

Personal Solicitation Also Puts Thief River Falls Over the Top

Pennington county reached a total of 107.6% in the third war loan drive this week. Considering the fact that the quota was set at more than half a million dollars, the people of Pennington County have every reason to feel proud over this attainment. Pennington county's record is surpassed by only Kittson County in this district, and Pennington county, on the basis of percentages, now stands as tenth in the state out of eighty-seven counties.

While the time for the purchase of bonds under this drive had been extended to October 15, the drive has been called off, and there is now no further solicitation except in those townships which are hovering around the 100% mark and the township chairmen feel that the township should make their quota. This is particularly true in River Falls township which is just a little short of their mark. Mrs. Otto Johnson, the chairman of the township, has announced that her committee intends to continue until their goal has been reached.

"I want to particularly thank the various committees who have carried on the arduous task of solicitation," said Paul Lundgren, county war finance chairman. "These committees deserve the thanks of their respective communities for the fine showing which has been made. On October 5 I received a telegram from O. J. Arnold, state chairman, complimenting Pennington County for the outstanding job which has been done in this county. Since I feel that this message of thanks should go to all who have worked in the drive, as well as those who have assisted through purchase of bonds, the telegram is quoted herewith:

"Pennington County has done outstanding job in exceeding quota in third war loan. You and your colleagues deserve highest praise for fine performance. With your help Minnesota is leading most of the nation in sales of "E" bonds." O. J. Arnold, state chairman.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

A record has been kept of the number of workers that turned out for surgical dressings the past three weeks. It will show what increase has been made and to what churches credit may be given. The numbers after each church will show the number of workers for each week in order:

Monday afternoons, Trinity Lutheran church 28-45-46.

Monday evenings, open.

Tuesday afternoons, Zion Lutheran 9-14-13 Community 15-9-15.

Wednesday afternoons, Mission Covenant 1-0-1 First Baptist 1-3-3.

Thursday afternoons, St. Bernard 9-7-9. Evangelical Free 0-0-0.

Thursday evenings, St. John's Lutheran 6-8-10.

Friday afternoons, First Lutheran 4-5-4.

This record does not show much of an increase in workers. We still have 7,000 dressings left from the September quota and the October quota is expected to arrive any day. Are we letting our boys down? Think it over! We need every available worker and we must depend on you. Please show your interest at least one afternoon a week.

LAND O'LAKES NEWS

FIGHTING FOR YOUR INDUSTRY

AT A TIME when dairy products are short in consumer markets, the dairy farmers of the northwest must insure their postwar markets . . . and keep the desire for their products alive.

LAND O' LAKES does this. Here are only a few of the ways that Land O' Lakes is fighting in the interests of its members:

- NATIONAL ADVERTISING continues in the major markets of America. Land O' Lakes' current ads have won national acclaim for keeping "the farmers' own brand" before the public.
- TIMELY INFORMATION that tells the producers' side of dairying problems—every day, every week, every month—read and heard by thousands.
- NATIONAL AFFAIRS—Land O' Lakes officials are active in helping frame the policies of the Dairy Products Marketing Association and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, which policies can greatly benefit not only Land O' Lakes' members but the entire northwest dairy industry.

Land O' Lakes "fights" for its members! Have you investigated ALL the advantages of a marketing membership in Land O' Lakes?

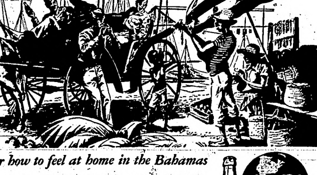
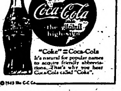
Have a "Coke" = Happy Days



...or how to feel at home in the Bahamas

Happy Days, they say in Nassau when they want to make you welcome. It's a happy greeting, but no more so than the one the American soldier has made popular. Have a "Coke", says he, and he's as quickly understood in Nassau as New York. From the poles to the equator, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the high-sign of American friendliness 'round the world.



"Coke" = Coca-Cola

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN TO STICK TO THE LAST

Jasper.—Mrs. Douglas Braken sent a pair of shoes out for repair and went on a business trip to a neighboring city. On the way home that night she suddenly remembered something that stretched the intervening hours and miles into a very disconcerting sort of nightmare. Back home, she hurried to the shoemaker's house, convinced his wife of the emergency, and together they went to the shoe shop. From the floor they retrieved a $100 bill that had been stowed away in the toe of one of the shoes.

STATE DRAFT CHIEF ANNOUNCES NEW RULE ON FARM DEFERMENTS

during this period. It is not intended that a deferred farmer shall obtain a permanent job. He will only be permitted to perform labor which he may leave at any time it becomes necessary to resume his principal vocation of agricultural production.

An agricultural worker who desires to accept temporary employment under this plan without the loss of his agricultural deferment must first secure a release from his U. S. D. A. war board, and, if the period of employment is in excess of six weeks, the clearance of the local manager of the United States employment service. This release and clearance must be presented to the local selective service board by the registrant for consideration, and if it is determined agricultural production will not be curtailed, the application will be approved and the registrant authorized by the selective service board to accept the temporary employment.

The types of temporary employment in which the registrant may engage are as follows: Lumbering and logging, pulpwood cutting, track and other railroad labor, unloading grain, packing house labor, ore dock labor, repairing farm machinery, cutting ice, hauling farm products, labor in creameries and food processing, clearing snow, other types of labor within the community which clearly contribute to the war effort.

PENNINGTON COUNTY WAR BOND CAMPAIGN NOW OVER ITS QUOTA

"It has been interesting to watch the tabulations from day to day to observe the performance in the respective townships," said Mr. Lundgren. "The outstanding township of the past week is Rocksbury, which was assigned a quota of $10,000, the highest of any township in the county. For the early part of the drive this township lagged in performance. This, however, was definitely settled during the past week when more than $10,000 was purchased by the people of this township alone in a single day, putting their performance at $20,760.25 with a score of 109.5%."

The village of Goodridge still leads the field, with a percentage of 131.8%. Bray township leads the field among the townships with a percentage score of 115.3% nosing out Star township which has led during the entire campaign. Star now has a score of 114.6%.

The City of Thief River Falls has every reason to be proud. To the city fell the lot of raising 61% of the county's quota. The general personal solicitation is just over the line with a score of 100.1%, and the miscellaneous solicitation from the larger business firms stands at 118.05%.

Topics of the Times

By N. A. H.

Considering all the people who have left this town since the start of the war, it's hard to figure out why there should be such a shortage of living accommodations.

Mother Nature's art gallery has provided some beautiful pictures the past few weeks, with the autumn foliage in all its glory.

In wartime meat markets the pork situation is bad and the beef shortage worse, but you'll find the wiener wurst.

What is money? asks a colleague, pointing out that the man with $10,000,000 isn't necessarily any happier than the man with only $9,000,000.

To be expected is a spurt in war stamp sales around Lincoln high school, now that the potato-picking students have been getting a lot of extra cash.

See if you can figure out this headline from the latest issue of the Minnesota Leader: Wallace Hits Slaughter of Immature Pig Iron.

Japanese soldiers, says one of their generals, never retreat—they merely advance to the rear.

Well, well! And you haven't got your storm windows on yet.

Aptly enough, a war veteran said in New York last week, "It's a long way from the heel of Italy to the heel in Berlin."

Can it be only a coincidence that this week has been set aside as both National Newspaper Week and Fire Prevention Week?

The Lincoln high school paper tells about a football rookie who flooded the gridiron when Coach Hanna informed him he'd be put in as a sub.

Speaking of typographical errors, they tell the one about the editor who wrote, "The bride wore a veil. Only relatives attended," but it came out in the paper with the period after the word "only."

Buy War Bonds and Stamps

by Joe Marsh

Every time Lem Martin hears about another Jap battleship being sunk—or another Nazi city being blasted—Lem grits his teeth, and digs into his pocket for more War Bond money.

"With our soldiers over there doin' better 'n' better at their scorin'," Lem says grimly, "we can do the same at home."

It's easy to think that if the war is going well, we can afford to let down just a little instead o' realizing that the bigger our offensive gets the more our boys are going to need equipment and munitions.

From where I sit, here's the way it is . . . It's up to everyone of us to put not only our spare money into War Bonds, but to figure out new ways of saving so that we'll have still more money to invest in Victory.

As Lem says: "We asked for plenty of action—and we're sure getting it. All over the world our men have got them Axis fellas on the run. Let's Back the Attack with War Bonds."
